General Gets Roaring Welcome in Illinois; Blames Two Wars Upon Poor Leadership

Homer Puts Series Game on Ice for Dodgers

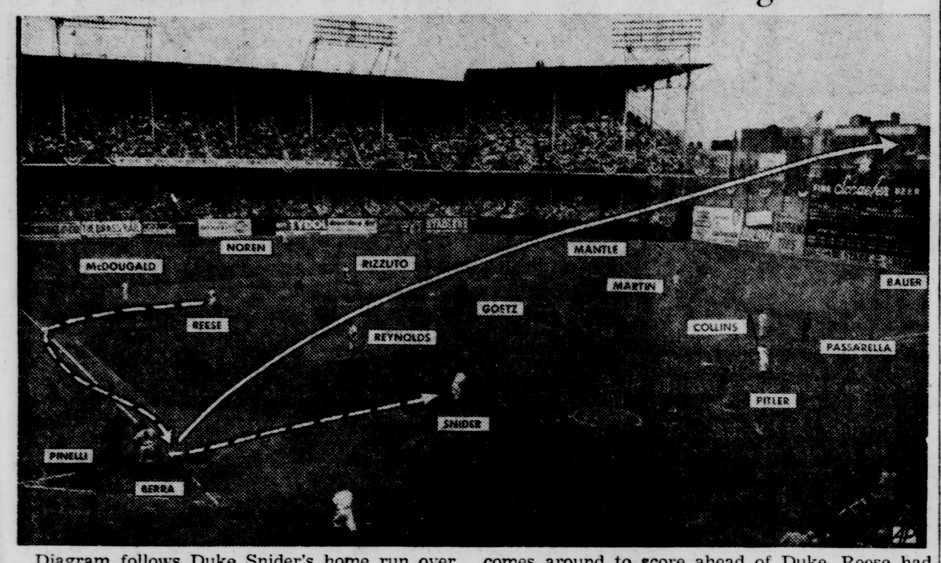

Diagram follows Duke Snider's home run over the scoreboard at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn during sixth inning of World Series opener. Snider jogs to first base on his way around, and PeeWee Reese comes around to score ahead of Duke. Reese had singled and advanced to second on a wild pitch by Allie Reynolds. Duke's homer made score 3-1 at this point as Dodgers went on to win, 4-2.

Cheju Riot Was Signal For Escape

56 POW Are Killed

Americans Had Orders Not to Shoot Unless Forced

Cheju Island, Korea, Oct. 2 (AP)—Yesterday's rioting on this prisoner of war island was only a prelude to a planned mass escape of 5,884 Chinese Reds, American authorities said today.

Maj. Gen. Thomas W. Herren told correspondents the riot was to be a signal for a mass breakout but U. S. troops moved in and "broke the back of the planned revolt."

Fifty-six of the rioting prisoners were killed or fatally wounded. More than 100 others were injured.

Herren pointed out that the breakout was planned for Oct. 1, the third anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Communist regime.

Col. Richard D. Boerem, Ontario, Calif., commander of the Cheju City POW Camp, said POW command headquarters learned of the planned break last Aug. 24 and immediately began making plans to stop it.

Rocks Were Signal

He said the diehard Reds in compound seven were supposed to throw rocks at American guards as a signal for Reds in the nine other compounds of the camp to break out.

Yesterday the rioting Communists in compound seven threw a barrage of rocks at 80 U. S. infantrymen and it was then that the American troops retaliated with a volley of fire.

Boerem said he had told the troops not to shoot unless attacked.

The soldiers stormed into the compound with bayonets and rifles and routed the defiant Chinese from behind walls and from out of buildings and trenches.

The Reds fought back with rocks, sharpened tent pole spears, crude knives and barbed wire flails.

Fanaticism Is Shown

Boerem said some Red prisoners were so fanatic they "kept coming after they were hit once and had to be shot again before they would stop."

Today U. S. troops entered and searched every POW compound on the island. The army said

Boy Ran a Mile to See Ike

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower introduces Jimmy Waldzak, 7, to the crowd on hand to greet the GOP presidential standard bearer at Bay City, Mich., Oct. 1. Ike told his audience that the boy had run alongside his special train for a mile after entering the outskirts of Bay City. He was hauled aboard.

HST Attack Boosts His Resentment

Eisenhower Said to Be Near Breaking Point With Truman, Who Assails His Prestige

Says Hope Needed

University Town Told Young People Require Future Promise

By DON WHITEHEAD

Aboard the Eisenhower Special, Oct. 2 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower won a roaring welcome on his entry into Illinois today and he declared both World War 2 and the Korean War might have been avoided under better leadership.

A crowd estimated by police at 20,000 turned out at Champaign to greet Eisenhower on his presidenial drive into the backyard of his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

In this hometown of the University of Illinois, the general appealed for the support of youth and held out the promise of an administration that would "give hope" to young people. He struck at policies which he said led to the war in Korea. And then he added:

With U. S. for Freedom

"If there must be a war in Asia—let it be Asians against Asians with the United States on the side of freedom."

Th GOP presidential nominee came here with reports circulating that his temper was being fanned to hot resentment under bitter criticisms turned against him by President Truman.

The long-time friendship between the two appeared to be at a breaking point as they exchanged long-range blows obviously aimed at each other's prestige.

Truman has termed the five-star general—once reported to be his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination — a "front man" for lobbyists. And he has accused Eisenhower of misleading the American people about the peril of communism after World War 2.

In turn, Eisenhower has called Truman's administration a corrupt, extravagant, fumbling leadership weak in morals and in the pursuit of peace. He called it a "scandal-a-day" administration.

Ready for Attack All Way

An Eisenhower aide said the general was ready to attack the Truman administration all through his whistle-stop push into Illinois—assailing what he has called a false war-time prosperity without war.

Eisenhower's schedule on this 28-state campaign called for him to make six speeches during the day in the home state of his Democratic opponent—Gov. Adlai Stevenson—opening with a whistle-stop at Champaign (9 a. m., CST) and ending with a major speech tonight at Peoria (8:30 p. m.).

Then he was due to head tomorrow into Wisconsin, the home state of GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, whose Communist-in-government charges have created a furor across the nation in both political parties.

There was considerable speculation on just how far Eisenhower would go in endorsing McCarthy and whether the two would be side by side in the rear platform appearances that the general is due to make in Wisconsin.

Privately Critical

Privately, Eisenhower has been bitterly critical of the McCarthy attacks on his old friend, Gen. George C. Marshall, former secretary of state, former secretary of defense, and war-time chief of staff of the army. But he has said he would support all GOP nominees for election and presumably this would include McCarthy.

The GOP candidate entered Illinois after a spectacular sweep through Michigan. The big turnouts left his lieutenants hopeful the Republicans would capture the state's 20 electoral votes by a wide margin in November.

Despite the Stevenson endorsement by both the CIO and AFL labor chiefs, Eisenhower was given warm receptions in industrial centrs having big labor votes.

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, who rode with Eisenhower

Stalin Says Capitalists Might Fight, but Not Reds

Prime Minister Gives His Views in Story in 'Bolshevik' Magazine

Moscow, Oct. 2 (AP) — Prime Minister Stalin said today a war between capitalistic countries is more probable than a war between capitalistic and socialistic (i.e., Communist) countries.

Stalin said wars between the capitalistic nations of the world are inevitable.

The Soviet leader made these statements in a 50-page article in the Communist party magazine "Bolshevik" on the eve of the Communist party congress, opening here next Sunday.

Says He Corrects Errors

In expressing his views, Stalin said he was correcting the mistakes of other Communists who believed there was little likelihood of conflicts between capitalistic countries because the United States, as they stated it, had subjected them to satellite positions.

The aricle by Stalin bore the title "Economic Problems of Socialism in the USSR." The title is in line with the party view that the Soviet Union is in socialist state of development, aiming toward the ultimate goal of communism.

Says Comrades Wrong

Stalin said:

"Certain comrades contend that because of new international conditions following the second World War, wars between capitalistic countries ceased to be inevitable."

These comrades, the Soviet leader said, are mistaken. He explained they felt that contradictions between socialism and capitalism were stronger than the contradictions between capitalistic countries themselves — that they take the view the United States has so subjected other capitalistic countries that there is little possibility of future wars between them.

Not so, said Stalin.

Taft Will Speak

Cleveland, Oct. 2 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft will take the stump in Ohio's three biggest cities this week with this campaign message: The Republican party "can't afford the overconfidence of 1948." The man who lost the Republican presidential nomination to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a young GOP rally here last night: The Republican party can win the Nov. 4 election, but only by hard work. He expects to hit the same theme hard at Columbus and Cincinnati.

Separation Is Sought

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The fifth wife of 54-year-old Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., today was reported seeking a separation. The New York World Telegram and Sun said Vanderbilt was served late yesterday with papers showing his pretty blonde wife, Patricia Murphy Wallace Vanderbilt, 32, is suing for separate maintenance. The couple was married in Greenwich, Conn., in 1948.

Arrested as AWOL

Herbert Fitzgerald, of 19 Ann street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Meyer Levy on a charge of being absent without leave from military service. He was turned over to S/Sgt. W. A. Green, of the military police at West Point.

Red Light Puts Driver to Sleep

A red traffic light was apparently a lullaby for one local driver early today.

Police were notified at 5:53 a. m., that a man was slumped over the wheel of his car at Washington avenue and Pearl street.

Officers Kenneth Stratton and Leonard Ellsworth were dispatched to investigate and reported that the driver "fell asleep while waiting for a traffic light to change." They woke him up and sent him on his way.

Thruway Layout Work Is Started In Kingston Area

Layout work for the next section of the New York State Thruway in the Kingston area is now under way, A. R. Erskine, State Thruway Authority engineer said today.

Meanwhile, he said, plans for opening the completed section from Saugerties to the Sawkill area, are under study and details are not immediately available.

John Arborio, Inc., of Poughkeepsie, contractor for the section between Sawkill and Route 28 near the city, is starting work under a new state policy which rules that the contractor is responsible for layout and advanced planning.

Engineers Begin Work

Engineers employed by the contractor have started this work in preparation for clearing and grading the right-of-way.

Under the new plan, state surveys fix the center line, elevations and a few other details of preliminary planning, but the contractor must carry on with the rest of the layout work including the plans for bridges and culverts.

Has Lagged Somewhat

The work of acquiring some of the parcels required for the project has lagged a bit, it was indicated, but the start of surveys by the contractor, indicates that the work will progress as rapidly as possible.

Opening of the completed strip between Saugerties and Sawkill, the engineer said, entails the redecking of a bridge near the Sawkill end of the strip and some other work including about 4,000 yards of excavation. There are a few problems to be solved, before the work actually starts, he said. This section would be opened temporarily only to light vehicular travel.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Sept. 30: Net budget receipts $206,104,058.03; budget expenditures $438,585,751.82; cash balance $7,156,176,982.72; customs receipts for month $52,295,563.35; budget receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $13,950,518,731.94; budget expenditures for fiscal year $17,829,748,327.77; budget deficit $3,879,229,595.83; total debt $262,721,632,231.81; increase over previous day $108,946,099.23; gold assets $23,341,617,467.34.

Erskine, Raschi Open 2nd Game At Ebbetts' Field

Stengel Shows No Concern Prior to Game Over Initial Win by Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER

Ebbets' Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Encouraged by their first opening game triumph in six World Series, the Brooklyn Dodgers today sent righthander Carl Erskine (14-6), to the mound in an attempt to make it two in a row over the New York Yankees.

Manager Casey Stengel, apparently undisturbed by yesterday's 4-2 defeat, stuck to his original pitching choice, Vic Raschi. The veteran New York righthander, who won 16 and lost six, has not won a complete game since Aug. 23 when he defeated the Cleveland Indians, 1-0.

Charlie Dressen, manager of the Dodgers, kept his first game lineup intact except for the pitcher. Stengel made one change in substituting Gene Woodling in left field in place of Irv Noren. Woodling, who has been bothered by a pulled muscle in his groin, slammed a pinch hit triple yesterday.

Before the Yankees took the field, word came that Stengel would start Gene Woodling in left field unless the outfielder was injured again in prctice. He will be fourth in the batting order.

Woodling, hobbled by a groin injury, told reporters he felt all

Russia Has Million Air Force Reservists

U. S. Has 300,000, Magazine Says, With 970,000 in Service

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Russia has about a million air force reservists it could call upon in case of a war. The United States has 300,000.

This was reported today by the U. S. Air Force in the "Air Reservist," official air force monthly magazine. The AF said the article is the first known attempt at rounding up Russia's air force reserve strength and program.

The article left many holes in the complete picture because, the AF said, it was impossible to get all the information needed. But, it does indicate what the U. S. might be up against in case of a war with Russia.

Plane Quota Unknown

The million-man reserve organization would supplement the regular Russian air force in case of war. How many aircraft these reserves would put in the sky the AF couldn't say.

The Russians said in March, 1951, they had 18,000 combat planes with a big enough regular air force to fly them. The total manpower of the Reds' regular air force is not publicly known.

The United States now has a 970,000-man air force with about 20,000 combat planes.

The backbone of the Red air force reserve is the "Aero Clubs." They're staffed by professional flying and training instructors, the AF said, adding:

"In 1937, the Soviet leaders gave aero clubs the mission of training 150,000 pilots. Just what percentage of this goal was

Pennsylvania Train Burns Under River—Pushed to New York

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The engine of a crowded Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train caught fire in a tunnel under the Hudson river today and hundreds of commuters were made ill by acrid smoke that billowed through the tube.

Dense smoke boiled through the three-mile tunnel, so thick that many of the commuters had to be assisted through hatchways after the disabled train had been pushed to New York.

An emergency call for oxygen was made to New York police headquarters. First reports said three passngers and three members of the train crew were taken to Pennsylvania station medical offices for inhalator treatment.

The train, the Early Bird running from Bay Head Junction, N. J., to New York city, normally carried 850 to a thousand commuters.

Flames Burst Out

With flames bursting from the engine, the engineer stopped the train so suddenly that some standing card players were thrown off their feet.

Alarm spread among the passengers. Some women cried with fear as the flames cast an eerie glow through the darkened tube.

Passengers in some of the head cars likened the flames to a giant blowtorch. Smoke was so dense that lights in the coaches were almost blotted out. Passengers

Truman Warms Up: Cusses, Jokes, Says Ike's Company Bad

Implies Washington Mess Is Nothing Compared to What General Would Cause

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Aboard Truman Train, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Truman played his own version of "I Like Ike" along the west coast today in a homely, almost earthy rhythm that constant repetition made a campaign chant.

The lyrics were a bit different from those of the Eisenhower enthusiasts, the parody being built not so much on "I Like Ike" as on "I Like Ike, but."

Encouraged by the laughter of the "whistle stop" crowds in North Dakota, Montana and Idaho, he pursued his course in Washington, Oct. 2 (AP) — Sen. Richard Nixon sets out on a three-stop swing through Democratic Virginia today with the word that "there is great urgency" for Democrats to vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In fact, the Republican candidate for Vice President declared at Alexandria, Va., last night:

"There is only one month left to save America."

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The third and final section of "the world's most modern pier," a 360-foot long hollow concrete box, arrived at its destination off West 15th street in the North river at 9:05 p. m. last night after a 38-mile voyage downstream from Grassy Point, near Haverstraw, N. Y.

Towed by six tugs, with a seventh tug bustling about and supervising the job, the 27,000-ton pier section, measuring 80 feet in width, spent 14½ hours in the stream and inched down the Manhattan shore against an incoming tide after passing under the George Washington Bridge at 3:25 p. m.

The huge box-like structure was to be secured by steel cables to special piling protruding from the river bed until the job of jockeying it into exact position begins sometime today, according to engineers of Merritt-Chapman and Scott, Inc., one of two contractors for the pier sub-structure.

The newly-arrived section will become the outer end of a three-section, T-shaped pier. The other sections, similar in size, were moved into place July 29 and Sept. 17.

The second and third sections of the pier, placed perpendicular to the first section, will project 720 feet into the Hudson, forming a new, fire-proof Pier 57 to replace the wooden one, leased by the city to the Grace Steamship Lines, which was destroyed by fire in 1947.

Plans call for using the hollows of the outer pier sections, measuring 33 feet in depth and sunken mostly below sea level, for an off-the-street taxi loading area for the convenience of passengers, according to engineers.

The new pier base, being constructed at a cost of $5,685,491 by Merritt-Chapman and Scott and Corbetta Construction Company, Inc., under contract with the Department of Marine and Aviation, is described as the first commercial application of a technique developed in World War 2 to provide breakwaters that could be floated into place and sunk at invasion beachheads.

When completed sometime around the end of the year, the new pier will have been decked over and the projecting part widened to 127 feet by the addition of aprons to which ships will tie up, said engineers.

The building of the concrete sub-structure sections was begun at Grassy Point in June of last year and was completed last July 16.

The construction was accomplished in an old claypit, for which 150,000,000 gallons of water were pumped out to form a "natural drydock."

When the pier sections were completed, a canal was excavated from the pit to the near-by Hudson river and the concrete boxes, drawing 28 feet of water, were floated away to the new pier site.

Pennsylvania Train Burns Under River—Pushed to New York

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The engine of a crowded Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train caught fire in a tunnel under the Hudson river today and hundreds of commuters were made ill by acrid smoke that billowed through the tube.

Dense smoke boiled through the three-mile tunnel, so thick that many of the commuters had to be assisted through hatchways after the disabled train had been pushed to New York.

An emergency call for oxygen was made to New York police headquarters. First reports said three passngers and three members of the train crew were taken to Pennsylvania station medical offices for inhalator treatment.

The train, the Early Bird running from Bay Head Junction, N. J., to New York city, normally carried 850 to a thousand commuters.

Flames Burst Out

With flames bursting from the engine, the engineer stopped the train so suddenly that some standing card players were thrown off their feet.

Alarm spread among the passengers. Some women cried with fear as the flames cast an eerie glow through the darkened tube.

Passengers in some of the head cars likened the flames to a giant blowtorch. Smoke was so dense that lights in the coaches were almost blotted out. Passengers

U. S. Has 300,000, Magazine Says, With 970,000 in Service

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Russia has about a million air force reservists it could call upon in case of a war. The United States has 300,000.

This was reported today by the U. S. Air Force in the "Air Reservist," official air force monthly magazine. The AF said the article is the first known attempt at rounding up Russia's air force reserve strength and program.

The article left many holes in the complete picture because, the AF said, it was impossible to get all the information needed. But, it does indicate what the U. S. might be up against in case of a war with Russia.

Plane Quota Unknown

The million-man reserve organization would supplement the regular Russian air force in case of war. How many aircraft these reserves would put in the sky the AF couldn't say.

The Russians said in March, 1951, they had 18,000 combat planes with a big enough regular air force to fly them. The total manpower of the Reds' regular air force is not publicly known.

The United States now has a 970,000-man air force with about 20,000 combat planes.

The backbone of the Red air force reserve is the "Aero Clubs." They're staffed by professional flying and training instructors, the AF said, adding:

"In 1937, the Soviet leaders gave aero clubs the mission of training 150,000 pilots. Just what percentage of this goal was

Truman Warms Up: Cusses, Jokes, Says Ike's Company Bad

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Aboard Truman Train, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Truman played his own version of "I Like Ike" along the west coast today in a homely, almost earthy rhythm that constant repetition made a campaign chant.

The lyrics were a bit different from those of the Eisenhower enthusiasts, the parody being built not so much on "I Like Ike" as on "I Like Ike, but."

Encouraged by the laughter of the "whistle stop" crowds in North Dakota, Montana and Idaho, he pursued his course in

Tells Virginians One Month Remains to Save U. S., Matter of Urgency

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP) — Sen. Richard Nixon sets out on a three-stop swing through Democratic Virginia today with the word that "there is great urgency" for Democrats to vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In fact, the Republican candidate for Vice President declared at Alexandria, Va., last night:

"There is only one month left to save America."

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The third and final section of "the world's most modern pier," a 360-foot long hollow concrete box, arrived at its destination off West 15th street in the North river at 9:05 p. m. last night after a 38-mile voyage downstream from Grassy Point, near Haverstraw, N. Y.

Towed by six tugs, with a seventh tug bustling about and supervising the job, the 27,000-ton pier section, measuring 80 feet in width, spent 14½ hours in the stream and inched down the Manhattan shore against an incoming tide after passing under the George Washington Bridge at 3:25 p. m.

The huge box-like structure was to be secured by steel cables to special piling protruding from the river bed until the job of jockeying it into exact position begins sometime today, according to engineers of Merritt-Chapman and Scott, Inc., one of two contractors for the pier sub-structure.

The newly-arrived section will become the outer end of a three-section, T-shaped pier. The other sections, similar in size, were moved into place July 29 and Sept. 17.

The second and third sections of the pier, placed perpendicular to the first section, will project 720 feet into the Hudson, forming a new, fire-proof Pier 57 to replace the wooden one, leased by the city to the Grace Steamship Lines, which was destroyed by fire in 1947.

Plans call for using the hollows of the outer pier sections, measuring 33 feet in depth and sunken mostly below sea level, for an off-the-street taxi loading area for the convenience of passengers, according to engineers.

The new pier base, being constructed at a cost of $5,685,491 by Merritt-Chapman and Scott and Corbetta Construction Company, Inc., under contract with the Department of Marine and Aviation, is described as the first commercial application of a technique developed in World War 2 to provide breakwaters that could be floated into place and sunk at invasion beachheads.

When completed sometime around the end of the year, the new pier will have been decked over and the projecting part widened to 127 feet by the addition of aprons to which ships will tie up, said engineers.

The building of the concrete sub-structure sections was begun at Grassy Point in June of last year and was completed last July 16.

The construction was accomplished in an old claypit, for which 150,000,000 gallons of water were pumped out to form a "natural drydock."

When the pier sections were completed, a canal was excavated from the pit to the near-by Hudson river and the concrete boxes, drawing 28 feet of water, were floated away to the new pier site.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Beef roasts, legs and shoulders of lamb, stewing chickens and turkeys cost a little less in many retail food stores this week as heavier supplies made them favorites for special pricing to attract shoppers.

Reductions in wholesale prices of beef in recent weeks were finally beginning to show up at the consumer level. Rib and chuck roasts were marked down as much as 10 cents a pound in some markets. Sirloin and round steaks also were being widely featured.

Thin cattle from the grass ranges now are being shipped in large volume to feeder lots for fattening, and shipments are larger than usual this year because of the summer drouth. Early this week the Kansas City stockyards had the biggest run of cattle in nine years. Feeders were reported buying cautiously because of prospects for a lower price trend, and many of the cattle were being slaughtered early.

Lamb Operations Reduced

Lamb feeding operations also were on a reduced scale and more lambs were going to packers than a year ago, increasing the supply for consumption now.

Popular pork cuts averaged a trifle higher this week although hams remained relatively cheap.

Eggs were generally unchanged, with the medium sizes still the best buy on a pound-for-pound basis. Egg dealers said the mediums probably were at their peak quality at this time, too, coming mostly from the small new layers which several weeks from now will be producing the large sizes.

Vegetable Bargains

Bargains in fresh vegetables in most markets were cabbage, peppers, cauliflower, spinach, big Boston and Romaine lettuce (Iceberg was a little higher) and beets. Brussels sprouts were cheaper but were still on the way down. Eastern potatoes were about unchanged and Idahoes were lower but still moderately high. Sweet potatoes and some types of winter squash were marked down in most places.

Grapes—mostly Thompson seedless and Tokays—though somewhat higher were still among the best fruit buys. Apples were lower, more varieties were offered and their quality and condition were reported generally improved. Lemons and limes were in good supply and cheaper.

Some Fruit Higher

Pears, prunes and oranges were higher. Peaches and canteloupes were offered in a wide quality range with prices varying accordingly honeydew melons were featured in scattered sections at slightly lower prices.

The Agriculture Department stressed honey as a plentiful food for thrifty buying for this week and the whole month of October.

"As a spread and a sweetening, honey adds unique flavor to hot breads, sandwiches, fruits, salads and cereals." The department's weekly market bulletin said, "and home cooks find it ideal for use in cookies, cakes, candies and other special foods for chilly weather consumption."

Here are the other foods on the Agriculture Department's national list of plentifuls for this month: Table grapes, raisins, stewing chickens, turkeys, fresh and frozen fish, buttermilk, cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk solids, lard, salad oils and vegetable shortening and table fats.

Foods Are Exempted

The Office of Price Stabilization added a long list of foods to those exempt from price controls under an amendment to the Defense Production Act banning controls on fresh, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables. Foods affected by the new decontrol action include dry beans and peas, canned beans (including pork and beans but exclusive beans with ham or other meats), pickles, olives, canned field corn, tomato catsup, sauce and puree, chili sauce, and fresh fruit juices.

Several speciality items also were decontrolled, including bouillion cubes, vegetable relishes, mince meat, powdered malted milk, maple sugar and flavoring extracts other than vanilla.

Adlai Gets Bit

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 2 (AP)—The latest issue of the Princeton Alumni weekly contains this folksy item: "According to a newspaper clipping, Ad Stevenson was put up for president (U.S.) by a group of citizens in Chicago last July." Ad Stevenson, better known outside the Princeton class of 1922 as Adlai, is the Democratic presidential nominee.

Balloons Break Loose

Munsan, Oct. 2 (AP)—Two of the four balloons marking the Panmunjom neutral zone where truce negotiations occasionally sputter along were snapped loose today by a sudden storm. They floated south toward allied lines.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Alarm System Is Topic of Board

New Paltz, Oct. 1—The village board held its regular meeting Monday night at the municipal building with all officers in attendance.

A discussion was held on the alarm system for fires and ambulance calls. To improve the system the fire department is planning to use a telephone service whereby the simultaneous report of the fire can be heard by several firemen. This service will take several months to be worked out and full details will be given then. The fire siren will be moved from its present location to the municipal building.

Dr. George Thomas, principal of the Campus School, appeared before the board to ask for an extension of the time for the closing of Tricor avenue in front of the school. At present, the time is 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. This does not cover the arrival and departure of the nine school buses. The time requested is 8:20 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. A public hearing on the time change will be held Oct. 17.

Mayor Reid reported that reservations for the mayor's convention Saturday were coming in well and that a good meeting was expected. The luncheon will be held in the Student Union at the college.

On Tuesday, Sept. 30, the board met again to discuss the possibility of a swimming pool in New Paltz.

Paltz Scout Receives God and Country Award

New Paltz, Oct. 1—Robert J. Cassano, a Life Scout, was presented an outstanding award on Sunday at the 11 a. m. service at the Methodist Church. This was the God and Country award. This award is made available by the Protestant Committee on Scouting through the local church. He has worked for two and a half years and has totaled more than 200 hours of work in the church. He has studied under the guidance of the Rev. Lee H. Ball and the Rev. Willet R. Porter.

Scoutmaster Sidney Haas and Assistant Scoutmaster Lawrence Smith presented Scout Cassano for the award which was given by the Rev. Mr. Porter. The award is white and red with blue ribbon. To the knowledge of Scoutmaster Haas it is the first time this award has been presented in New Paltz. At the same service Robert Cassano also was presented with a six-year perfect attendance Sunday school pin.

Attend CD Classes

New Paltz, Oct. 1 — The local civil defense workers have been attending regional meetings in Kingston. The director is Louis Rolling. Other workers are Walter Simpson, Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Marion Sheeley, Ernest Ahlberg and Herman Ackert. They are receiving training in civil defense so that New Paltzers will know how to protect themselves in the event of an emergency.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Alarm System Is Topic of Board

New Paltz, Oct. 1—The village board held its regular meeting Monday night at the municipal building with all officers in attendance.

A discussion was held on the alarm system for fires and ambulance calls. To improve the system the fire department is planning to use a telephone service whereby the simultaneous report of the fire can be heard by several firemen. This service will take several months to be worked out and full details will be given then. The fire siren will be moved from its present location to the municipal building.

Dr. George Thomas, principal of the Campus School, appeared before the board to ask for an extension of the time for the closing of Tricor avenue in front of the school. At present, the time is 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. This does not cover the arrival and departure of the nine school buses. The time requested is 8:20 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. A public hearing on the time change will be held Oct. 17.

Mayor Reid reported that reservations for the mayor's convention Saturday were coming in well and that a good meeting was expected. The luncheon will be held in the Student Union at the college.

On Tuesday, Sept. 30, the board met again to discuss the possibility of a swimming pool in New Paltz.

Paltz Scout Receives God and Country Award

New Paltz, Oct. 1—Robert J. Cassano, a Life Scout, was presented an outstanding award on Sunday at the 11 a. m. service at the Methodist Church. This was the God and Country award. This award is made available by the Protestant Committee on Scouting through the local church. He has worked for two and a half years and has totaled more than 200 hours of work in the church. He has studied under the guidance of the Rev. Lee H. Ball and the Rev. Willet R. Porter.

Scoutmaster Sidney Haas and Assistant Scoutmaster Lawrence Smith presented Scout Cassano for the award which was given by the Rev. Mr. Porter. The award is white and red with blue ribbon. To the knowledge of Scoutmaster Haas it is the first time this award has been presented in New Paltz. At the same service Robert Cassano also was presented with a six-year perfect attendance Sunday school pin.

ILL OMENS

Although the world armaments race is at a peak, signs of an economic depression have appeared in two distant areas of the free world. If ignored, they could lead to an economic catastrophe of major proportions.

The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe recently published a report concluding that Western Europe during the first quarter of 1952 experienced "a period of stagnation in nearly all branches of the retail trade and of actual depression in some. It is no longer possible to explain the slump as the inevitable sequel to consumers' earlier rush to buy while going was good."

On another contingent halfway across the world, Australia suddenly finds itself pinched by an economic recession. Australia, unlike the nations of Western Europe, is still a prosperous nation, but even there the spectre of unemployment has begun to loom and millions of families who were enjoying overtime pay a few months ago now have to get by on their straight wages.

Because the world has grown so small, it is impossible to ignore these economic trends in Europe and Australia. They indicate, for one thing, that a war economy is not a healthy economy, and that civilian production, especially in Europe, must be resumed to take up the slack in defense production. They also indicate the need for expanded world trade which would allow Western Europe and Australia to sell their surplus production in other areas.

Neither of these trends, so far, should be cause for alarm. But foresight indicates that remedial action to curb them would be wise.

SEA SAFETY AGENCY

There are many international organizations through which nations work together to accomplish worthy ends. Sometimes in the welter of news concerning international dissension such organizations get little publicity or attention for quiet well-done work. The International Hydrographic Bureau, located in the principality of Monaco, is such an agency.

Twenty-four nations, including the United States, are members of the bureau established in 1921 to "render navigation easier and safer in all the seas of the world." Since that time it has been quietly doing its job of research and recording. It serves as a clearing house for data gathered by member nations.

It is well to note the work of such agencies occasionally as proof of what international cooperation can accomplish.

LIMITS TO BOMBING

It cannot be repeated too often that the atomic bomb is not the entire answer to military success. General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, one of the very best of our leaders in the war, made this plain in a recent statement.

"If the enemy spread its soldiers out," says General Bradley, "so that they walked 100 yards apart, they could advance in the face of the greatest atomic power on earth, unless men were on the scene to stop them."

The idea of a pushbutton war will not down. A popular dream is that some few bombs, atomic or hydrogen, can be dropped on the enemy and end the war. Meanwhile our boys can stay comfortably at home, and their work will be done for them by the all-powerful bomb.

It is time to give up this notion.

Secretaries to the president lead a taxing life, as is shown by the sudden death of Joseph H. Short, Jr., President Truman's Press Secretary. In 1950 his predecessor, Charles G. Ross, also died at his post. Short and Ross did only part of the president's secretarial work. Formerly one man handled it all, but in the Roosevelt days the work was divided among three. There are also various special aides, such as John R. Steelman, consultant on labor.

A New Mexico designer is producing women's hats from hammered iron. Metal hats will not surprise those husbands who have been convinced for years that their wives wore hats of solid gold.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE NEGRO VOTE

Prior to the Civil War, the Negro problem was limited to the South, in the sense that the Negro population was concentrated there. In the North, there was an intellectual and emotional response to the institution of slavery. The war was ostensibly fought over the constitutional issue of State sovereignty and the right of a State to secede from the Union. The realistic issue was a struggle between North and South over conflicting economic systems.

In 1952, the Negro problem is universal in the United States because whereas in the South, it again raises the constitutional question of the sovereignty of each State in the Union, in the North and West, it involves the political control of each State.

In the following States, the difference between the Republican and Democratic Parties ran five per cent or under in 1948: New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, South Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, California and Nevada.

In those States, therefore, the shave was close and the parties would normally regard any group that might vote as a bloc as tremendously important, quite apart from any question of right or wrong.

In some of these States, the Negro population runs higher than the difference between the parties in the 1948 vote. For instance, in New York State, which Dewey carried by the tip of his nose, under one per cent, the Negroes constitute over six per cent of the population. Even granting that they will not all vote as Negroes, the figures stir politicians to regard the Negro vote as a balance in the election. In New York City, such a balance of power can actually be established in the voting statistics during recent years, particularly if to the Negro vote is added the Puerto Rican vote.

In a State like Maryland, where the difference between the two parties ran just over one per cent, the Negro population runs close to 17 per cent. Similar situations exist in Delaware, Illinois, and Michigan.

Before Franklin D. Roosevelt, what is generally called the Negro vote was Republican. It was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, David Niles and Fiorello La Guardia who specialized in services for the Negro. It is true that Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Irving Ives realized the enormity of the competition. They put the New York FEPC through the Legislature and started that ball rolling. It won for them personal popularity among the Negroes, which, however, has not passed from those individuals to the Republican Party.

President Harry Truman, although of Southern predilections, recognized the value of the Northern Negro to the Democratic Party. He went further than Roosevelt in cultivating the Negro. On the issue of FEPC, which he calls civil rights, he split his party, risking the ire and opposition of the Southern Democrats. Nothing in Truman's career prior to his Presidency indicates any particular love for the Negro. As a politician, in office, he recognized a bonanza when he saw it. Of Roosevelt's entourage, the only person that he retained was David Niles, who had handled the so-called minorities for Roosevelt. Niles was a Harry Hopkins protege and was equally cynical and opportunistic.

In this article, there is no discussion of general principles, of right or wrong, of any philosophy of life. Here, only political mechanics is being considered. The decision of both political parties is to seek to gain and hold the Northern Negro vote in critical states at any cost and to make any sacrifices necessary for it. The Democrats have renounced the history of their party, basic principles of States Rights, and have undoubtedly destroyed the Solid South as a political entity. The Republicans cannot match that, but they are hoping that they can wean the Negro back to their bosom.

Where differences between the parties in 1948 were only one or two per cent, a slight shift in the Negro vote may change the entire election.

The Negro is the only large group of voters who is still regarded as voting racially. The Jewish vote hardly exists: it will be found in 1952 that the districts in which Jews prevail will not be different from districts in the same city where Jews are scarce. The so-called German vote does not exist. The labor vote was wholly disproved in the Taft campaign in Ohio in 1950.

Politicians like bloc voting, when they can get it, un-American as it is.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SKIN INFLAMMATION DUE TO DRUGS

During World War 1, an epidemic of scarlet fever occurred in an infantry unit and about twenty members were sent to our base hospital. Among the patients was their chaplain whom I happened to know as a university sprinter. He complained bitterly to me, as senior medical officer, that this detention in hospital might prevent his going overseas with his unit and, besides, he was not sick. The medical officer of his ward and I examined him for symptoms and found nothing but a light rash across his chest. There were no symptoms of scarlet fever aside from this light rash, while all the other patients from his unit had the usual symptoms and the typical rash. I asked him if he had taken any medicine and he stated that he had taken a couple of headache tablets and the rash appeared a short time afterwards. He was returned to his unit that same evening.

As these rashes, or other skin eruptions, occur when the individual is allergic to various substances, it is of interest to learn of the different kinds of skin eruptions or irritations and the type of skin reaction to the different drugs.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Drs. M. B. Sulzberger, and V. H. Whitten, Professor and Assistant, respectively, in Dermatology, New York University Postgraduate School, state that not only dermatologists but also physicians in general are now recognizing the ever increasing number of dermatoses (skin ailments) due to drugs. All physicians and the public also are aware of all the new drugs and combination of drugs—antibiotics, antiseptics, analgesics, antihistaminics, anticoagulants, vitamins, hormones, sedatives and soporifics, as well as innumerable other kinds of medicaments.

While it is admitted that these drugs have been of benefit to patients, the number of undesirable effects has multiplied many times. Among the undesirable effects are skin eruptions and irritations, many of which are mild, but unfortunately, some are severe. And as these skin reactions may closely resemble some definite skin disease to which is added the special or specific eruption of a particular drug, especially if the patient is allergic to this drug, diagnosis is difficult.

Drs. Sulzberger and Whitten name the various drugs to which the patient may be allergic and the variety of inflammations, irritations or eruptions that commonly result from the use of certain drugs, either from allergy (oversensitive to the drug) or where the drug acts as a poison. Symptoms may be mild (simple itching), or very severe.

The family physician should be first consulted. He will recognize the symptoms of drug eruption and may then refer patient to the skin specialist for needed special treatment.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—After General Eisenhower spent two days at a New York film studio recording radio and TV "spots" for the wind-up of his campaign, the Republican high command is at odds regarding their use. More specifically, they are at odds on how to raise the money to buy the radio and TV time for their use.

The subject came up at a meeting of top GOP money-raisers in New York recently, at which Lloyd Dalzell, dynamic, young tugboat operator, offered to raise $600,000 to $800,000.

"I will raise the money, but only to be used for the general's spot announcements," he said.

However, others were skeptical; not over Dalzell's ability to raise money, but over the same issue which has caused friction inside the Republican party in the past—local leadership vs. national leadership.

Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank and brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, was afraid that Dalzell's money-raising would conflict with local money-raising. He feared he would tap the same moneyed people that local leaders will have to tap. Others agreed. Even if the national ticket should lose, they argued, Republican organizations must be kept strong locally and local tickets must be elected.

Jock Whitney, who once served in the Roosevelt administration and married Jimmie Roosevelt's ex-wife, took the opposite view. He felt nothing was more important than raising money for the spot radio and TV time.

These consist of radio recordings and TV Kinescopes in which Eisenhower answers current political questions. They are to be used in the last three weeks of the campaign to "saturate" key states in the east and midwest, which Truman carried in 1948 by only a narrow margin.

This idea was evolved by Rosser Reeves, ace advertising specialist for the Ted Bates Agency. Cooperating with him was Mike Levin of the Erwin-Wasey Agency. Later Fred Rudge of Fisher Rudge & Neblett came in.

Note — Presiding over the finance meeting was Sidney Weinberg, head of the Giant banking house of Goldman-Sachs. Born in Russia, brought up in Brooklyn, Weinberg is a director of more corporations than he can recite himself, got to know Gen. Lucius Clay during World War II days in Washington, later got Clay his job with Continental Can. It was through Clay that Weinberg got on the Eisenhower bandwagon.

Nixon's Press

Dynamic Dick, the GOP vice-presidential hopeful, can certainly rub newspaper editors and publishers the wrong way.

Holding a press conference with the top editors at Oklahoma City last week, Nixon declined to answer questions, gave editors the brushoff.

Commented Wheeler Mayo, publisher of the Sallisaw Times and Claremore Daily Progress:

"Never in my 20 years of owning and operating newspapers and as past president of the Oklahoma Press Association have I witnessed the snubbing that Nixon gave the press.

"Oklahoma editors were called by special invitation for the specific purpose of attending a question-and-answer conference. It was a fiasco.

"Editors found that they had been called to a stacked meeting of witness and be impressed by a 15-minutes glamour-boy show in which Nixon acted three parts—his own moderator, interrogator and the answerer of his own questions.

"His refusal to answer questions, in contrast with Sparkman's give-and-take of the day before, made Nixon look silly."

Note—The point most newsmen and the public want Nixon to explain is how he paid $20,000 down on his Washington House, while also buying a house in California, after his wife wrote in the Saturday Evening Post that they sometimes didn't have enough money to buy postage.

Ike's Press

Jim Hagerty, press aide to Eisenhower and one of the best in the business, may be eased out. He's been the subject of considerable private debate among the general's advisers, so much so that John Foster Dulles, a good friend of both Ike and Governor Dewey, has been in touch with Dewey regarding the situation.

Hagerty is a veteran of many presidential campaigns, having been righthand man to Governor Dewey. He is popular with newsmen, but has one handicap—the general doesn't know him well. And the general doesn't feel comfortable with people he hasn't known a long time.

For one thing, Hagerty can't get in to see him on important questions which should be given the press without delay. Eisenhower's friends keep a tight wall around him, anxious to conserve his strength.

The man who would take Hagerty's place, if he leaves, is Maj. Gen. Wilton G. Persons, an old friend of Ike's, who is an expert at getting along with people in tight places. During part of the war he was the army's top lobbyist on Capitol Hill, had the job of smoothing the ruffled fur of congressmen.

Protestants Suppressed

Following the lead of Spain and Colombia, Peron's dictatorship in Argentina has now started cracking down on freedom of worship. It is doing this by revoking the preaching permits of Protestant pastors on trumped-up political charges.

Rev. Julio N. Sabanes, Uruguayan minister of the Central Methodist Church in Buenos Aires, and Rev. Angel Sainz, an Argentine pastor of the United Protestant Church at the fashionable seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, were both notified by the Peron government a few days ago that they would no longer be permitted to conduct services.

Significantly, the charge sounded like the pretexts of Communist regimes to eliminate independent religions.

The two Protestant pastors were formally accused by the Argentine ministry of foreign relations and worship with having denounced the ministry of foreign relations and worship with having denounced the high cost of living.

Smith Confirms McCarthy Contention That Communists Have Been, Are in Government

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 1—When Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, remarked that he was "morally certain" Communists had penetrated his agency and probably every security agency of the government, he really wasn't saying anything that every one familiar with the subject hasn't realized for some time. In fact, the public records show the efforts made by the Communists and the names of some of the persons who were prevented from attaining their objectives. Inadvertently, however, Gen. Smith confirmed the broad thesis of Sen. McCarthy—that there have been and are Communists in the government.

It was recalled that Judith Coplon, who was employed in the Department of Justice, was tried and convicted for passing documents to a Russian agent. Also, in the records of the Senate Internal Security Committee, of which Sen. McCarran, D., of Nevada, is chairman, there will be found case after case of efforts to plant Communists in various government agencies, including the Central Intelligence Agency. One former employe of this agency testified that a State Department official endeavored unsuccessfully to let some Communists be used indirectly to assist the agency, and just what happened in this episode has never been satisfactorily cleared up.

Then there's the case of Agler Hiss, who was a high State Department officer and is now in jail for perjury. Elizabeth Bentley, ex-Communist agent, testified that the late Harry Dexter White, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, gave her secret information for the Communist government. Everybody knows that Klaus Fuchs penetrated the atomic-energy project and gave the details of the atomic bomb to Russia—for he has confessed it.

So why there should arise such a hullabaloo over Gen. Smith's chance remark, as he was sumitting to cross-examination during his testimony on another subject, is a little difficult to understand unless it is because spokesmen for the Department of State have repeatedly quibbled about Communists in the State Department, never revealing the true facts.

Unfortunately, the State Department has considered itself as engaged in a political controversy. Rather than allow any facts to come out which would give ammunition to Sen. McCarthy, it has permitted itself to be embarrassed time and again. There never has been any satisfactory explanation, for instance, of the reason why so many employes accused of disloyalty were allowed to resign before their cases could be taken up by the President's Loyalty Review Board nor any explanation of why, when the State Department's own loyalty board found a man ineligible on loyalty grounds, the order was reversed by Secretary Acheson and the Department stated to the press that the man had been "cleared." Only the vigilance of Sen. McCarthy and others on Capitol Hill uncovered this piece of downright misrepresentation.

Gen. Smith doesn't want the Central Intelligence Agency to become a political football. He asked the two presidential candidates not to use his testimony politically. Gov. Stevenson promptly did so, nevertheless, by indirection. He issued a statement commenting on the fact that Gen. Smith was formerly chief of staff to Gen. Eisenhower and that Allen Dulles, a Republican and brother of John Foster Dulles, now is deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency. The plain inference was that, if there are any Communists in the agency, the Republicans have some share of the blame for letting them in there. This type of statement was a blunder which Gov. Stevenson could easily have avoided if he had said nothing at all on the subject.

Then the Democratic National Chairman, Stephen Mitchell, said at Atlanta apropos of Gen. Smith's testimony:

"This is another good example of what happens when a professional military man attempts to cope with civilian difficulties."

Doesn't Mr. Mitchell know that the job of the Central Intelligence Agency today embraces both military and naval intelligence? Certainly a professional soldier, and one who has been Ambassador to Russia, is better equipped than any civilian to understand the Communist infiltration tactics. Mr. Mitchell has by his statement, in reality, released the Republicans from any obligation to refrain hereafter from taking up the episode.

Gen. Smith is unquestionably doing a splendid job in his post, and it is natural that he should be overly concerned about the effect of his chance remark. But he was under subpoena, just as Gov. Stevenson was when he was asked to testify in behalf of Alger Hiss. The general had to answer questions asked by counsel.

What Gen. Smith said was realistic, truthful and constructive. Nobody should make a political football out of his agency but everybody, irrespective of party, should look at the Communist menace of infiltration as a whole and be on guard. Long after this political campaign is over, Gen. Smith's warning will have a beneficial effect in alerting America to the dangers of Communist infiltration.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University, has accused China Boy Luce's magazine, "Life," of smearing Notre Dame and some of her football players in the issue of Sept. 29. He used the word "smear" and said "Life" depicted four of Notre Dame's young men as "goons."

Father Hesburgh's comments were expressed after last Saturday's game in Philadelphia in which Notre Dame and Penn went to a stand-off, 7-7. I had had occasion to discuss the game in New York with a patron of the university who said Father Hesburgh was very angry over gross treatment of the school and the students in morbid color-photos in Life and had been urged by friends of Notre Dame to make a formal protest to China-Boy. One of these friends of Notre Dame said:

"I put it down to the things that that crowd on the Luce publications are taught to do. It is the same old story that the Irish are peculiar people."

I reached Father Hesburgh at the Warwick Hotel, Philadelphia.

"The thing that burns me up," he said, "is that Dan Shannon is a fine, good-looking boy and this makes him look like a goon."

He referred to the picture in the lower left corner of the layout showing a handsome young fellow with a strange, pink blur covering the two upper middle teeth. Father Hesburgh said that to him it looked as though Life had falsely colored the teeth. And three of the four pictures carried the wrong names, including this one. Shannon was erroneously identified as Jack Lee. Father Hesburgh said the boy identified as Tom Carey was really Jack Lee and that the one identified as Virgil Bardash, a "glowering guard," was actually another youth named, he thought, Novack.

"They are pillorying these boys before the public," he said. "It is misrepresentation in such a way as to make them look horrid."

Three of the four had each several front teeth missing. The loss of front teeth is an occupational hazard in serious football both in high school and in college. Decayed teeth succumb easily but even some good teeth are knocked out and the loss is counted as fair wear and tear. However, usually the players get good bridgework and present a normal appearance except in hard practice and actual combat when they take the store-teeth out. And those whose front teeth are missing are a small minority, not 75 per cent of a squad at Notre Dame or any other typical school.

"Do you think it was an intentional smear or just sensationalism?" I asked.

"Well, it is sensationalism," Father Hesburgh said, "but it is a smear just the same. I suppose some of the boys do have some of their teeth out. And they take their false teeth out when they play the same as boxers. They picked on these kids to make them look ridiculous. We have fine boys of character. Dan Shannon is an unusual boy, a leader and a first-class man. He is good-looking. But they go through 200 photographs to pick out four looking like a lot of goons. The one of Shannon with the pink on the teeth looks to me as though it had been doctored up."

In the same issue, China-Boy's Magazine did a characteristic gratuitous job in favor of an actor who h as been mentioned in connection with 18 separate Communist fronts. This is Jose Ferrer, who gets two pages of free advertising of incalculable value plugging his work in a new

Although the world armaments race is at a peak, signs of an economic depression have appeared in two distant areas of the free world. If ignored, they could lead to an economic catastrophe of major proportions.

The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe recently published a report concluding that Western Europe during the first quarter of 1952 experienced "a period of stagnation in nearly all branches of the retail trade and of actual depression in some. It is no longer possible to explain the slump as the inevitable sequel to consumers' earlier rush to buy while going was good."

On another contingent halfway across the world, Australia suddenly finds itself pinched by an economic recession. Australia, unlike the nations of Western Europe, is still a prosperous nation, but even there the spectre of unemployment has begun to loom and millions of families who were enjoying overtime pay a few months ago now have to get by on their straight wages.

Because the world has grown so small, it is impossible to ignore these economic trends in Europe and Australia. They indicate, for one thing, that a war economy is not a healthy economy, and that civilian production, especially in Europe, must be resumed to take up the slack in defense production. They also indicate the need for expanded world trade which would allow Western Europe and Australia to sell their surplus production in other areas.

Neither of these trends, so far, should be cause for alarm. But foresight indicates that remedial action to curb them would be wise.

SEA SAFETY AGENCY

There are many international organizations through which nations work together to accomplish worthy ends. Sometimes in the welter of news concerning international dissension such organizations get little publicity or attention for quiet well-done work. The International Hydrographic Bureau, located in the principality of Monaco, is such an agency.

Twenty-four nations, including the United States, are members of the bureau established in 1921 to "render navigation easier and safer in all the seas of the world." Since that time it has been quietly doing its job of research and recording. It serves as a clearing house for data gathered by member nations.

It is well to note the work of such agencies occasionally as proof of what international cooperation can accomplish.

LIMITS TO BOMBING

It cannot be repeated too often that the atomic bomb is not the entire answer to military success. General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, one of the very best of our leaders in the war, made this plain in a recent statement.

"If the enemy spread its soldiers out," says General Bradley, "so that they walked 100 yards apart, they could advance in the face of the greatest atomic power on earth, unless men were on the scene to stop them."

The idea of a pushbutton war will not down. A popular dream is that some few bombs, atomic or hydrogen, can be dropped on the enemy and end the war. Meanwhile our boys can stay comfortably at home, and their work will be done for them by the all-powerful bomb.

It is time to give up this notion.

Secretaries to the president lead a taxing life, as is shown by the sudden death of Joseph H. Short, Jr., President Truman's Press Secretary. In 1950 his predecessor, Charles G. Ross, also died at his post. Short and Ross did only part of the president's secretarial work. Formerly one man handled it all, but in the Roosevelt days the work was divided among three. There are also various special aides, such as John R. Steelman, consultant on labor.

'These Days'

THE NEGRO VOTE

Prior to the Civil War, the Negro problem was limited to the South, in the sense that the Negro population was concentrated there. In the North, there was an intellectual and emotional response to the institution of slavery. The war was ostensibly fought over the constitutional issue of State sovereignty and the right of a State to secede from the Union. The realistic issue was a struggle between North and South over conflicting economic systems.

In 1952, the Negro problem is universal in the United States because whereas in the South, it again raises the constitutional question of the sovereignty of each State in the Union, in the North and West, it involves the political control of each State.

In the following States, the difference between the Republican and Democratic Parties ran five per cent or under in 1948: New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, South Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, California and Nevada.

In those States, therefore, the shave was close and the parties would normally regard any group that might vote as a bloc as tremendously important, quite apart from any question of right or wrong.

In some of these States, the Negro population runs higher than the difference between the parties in the 1948 vote. For instance, in New York State, which Dewey carried by the tip of his nose, under one per cent, the Negroes constitute over six per cent of the population. Even granting that they will not all vote as Negroes, the figures stir politicians to regard the Negro vote as a balance in the election. In New York City, such a balance of power can actually be established in the voting statistics during recent years, particularly if to the Negro vote is added the Puerto Rican vote.

In a State like Maryland, where the difference between the two parties ran just over one per cent, the Negro population runs close to 17 per cent. Similar situations exist in Delaware, Illinois, and Michigan.

Before Franklin D. Roosevelt, what is generally called the Negro vote was Republican. It was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, David Niles and Fiorello La Guardia who specialized in services for the Negro. It is true that Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Irving Ives realized the enormity of the competition. They put the New York FEPC through the Legislature and started that ball rolling. It won for them personal popularity among the Negroes, which, however, has not passed from those individuals to the Republican Party.

President Harry Truman, although of Southern predilections, recognized the value of the Northern Negro to the Democratic Party. He went further than Roosevelt in cultivating the Negro. On the issue of FEPC, which he calls civil rights, he split his party, risking the ire and opposition of the Southern Democrats. Nothing in Truman's career prior to his Presidency indicates any particular love for the Negro. As a politician, in office, he recognized a bonanza when he saw it. Of Roosevelt's entourage, the only person that he retained was David Niles, who had handled the so-called minorities for Roosevelt. Niles was a Harry Hopkins protege and was equally cynical and opportunistic.

In this article, there is no discussion of general principles, of right or wrong, of any philosophy of life. Here, only political mechanics is being considered. The decision of both political parties is to seek to gain and hold the Northern Negro vote in critical states at any cost and to make any sacrifices necessary for it. The Democrats have renounced the history of their party, basic principles of States Rights, and have undoubtedly destroyed the Solid South as a political entity. The Republicans cannot match that, but they are hoping that they can wean the Negro back to their bosom.

Where differences between the parties in 1948 were only one or two per cent, a slight shift in the Negro vote may change the entire election.

The Negro is the only large group of voters who is still regarded as voting racially. The Jewish vote hardly exists: it will be found in 1952 that the districts in which Jews prevail will not be different from districts in the same city where Jews are scarce. The so-called German vote does not exist. The labor vote was wholly disproved in the Taft campaign in Ohio in 1950.

Politicians like bloc voting, when they can get it, un-American as it is.

SKIN INFLAMMATION DUE TO DRUGS

During World War 1, an epidemic of scarlet fever occurred in an infantry unit and about twenty members were sent to our base hospital. Among the patients was their chaplain whom I happened to know as a university sprinter. He complained bitterly to me, as senior medical officer, that this detention in hospital might prevent his going overseas with his unit and, besides, he was not sick. The medical officer of his ward and I examined him for symptoms and found nothing but a light rash across his chest. There were no symptoms of scarlet fever aside from this light rash, while all the other patients from his unit had the usual symptoms and the typical rash. I asked him if he had taken any medicine and he stated that he had taken a couple of headache tablets and the rash appeared a short time afterwards. He was returned to his unit that same evening.

As these rashes, or other skin eruptions, occur when the individual is allergic to various substances, it is of interest to learn of the different kinds of skin eruptions or irritations and the type of skin reaction to the different drugs.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Drs. M. B. Sulzberger, and V. H. Whitten, Professor and Assistant, respectively, in Dermatology, New York University Postgraduate School, state that not only dermatologists but also physicians in general are now recognizing the ever increasing number of dermatoses (skin ailments) due to drugs. All physicians and the public also are aware of all the new drugs and combination of drugs—antibiotics, antiseptics, analgesics, antihistaminics, anticoagulants, vitamins, hormones, sedatives and soporifics, as well as innumerable other kinds of medicaments.

While it is admitted that these drugs have been of benefit to patients, the number of undesirable effects has multiplied many times. Among the undesirable effects are skin eruptions and irritations, many of which are mild, but unfortunately, some are severe. And as these skin reactions may closely resemble some definite skin disease to which is added the special or specific eruption of a particular drug, especially if the patient is allergic to this drug, diagnosis is difficult.

Drs. Sulzberger and Whitten name the various drugs to which the patient may be allergic and the variety of inflammations, irritations or eruptions that commonly result from the use of certain drugs, either from allergy (oversensitive to the drug) or where the drug acts as a poison. Symptoms may be mild (simple itching), or very severe.

The family physician should be first consulted. He will recognize the symptoms of drug eruption and may then refer patient to the skin specialist for needed special treatment.

Hagerty is a veteran of many presidential campaigns, having been righthand man to Governor Dewey. He is popular with newsmen, but has one handicap—the general doesn't know him well. And the general doesn't feel comfortable with people he hasn't known a long time.

For one thing, Hagerty can't get in to see him on important questions which should be given the press without delay. Eisenhower's friends keep a tight wall around him, anxious to conserve his strength.

The man who would take Hagerty's place, if he leaves, is Maj. Gen. Wilton G. Persons, an old friend of Ike's, who is an expert at getting along with people in tight places. During part of the war he was the army's top lobbyist on Capitol Hill, had the job of smoothing the ruffled fur of congressmen.

Protestants Suppressed

Following the lead of Spain and Colombia, Peron's dictatorship in Argentina has now started cracking down on freedom of worship. It is doing this by revoking the preaching permits of Protestant pastors on trumped-up political charges.

Rev. Julio N. Sabanes, Uruguayan minister of the Central Methodist Church in Buenos Aires, and Rev. Angel Sainz, an Argentine pastor of the United Protestant Church at the fashionable seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, were both notified by the Peron government a few days ago that they would no longer be permitted to conduct services.

Significantly, the charge sounded like the pretexts of Communist regimes to eliminate independent religions.

The two Protestant pastors were formally accused by the Argentine ministry of foreign relations and worship with having denounced the ministry of foreign relations and worship with having denounced the high cost of living.

This most important figure in the development of the American locomotive (1795-1866) was originally apprenticed to a firm of manufacturing jewelers in Philadelphia, Pa., and became the best workman in the shop. At 24, he became an independent manufacturing jeweler, but abandoned this vocation six years later. After engaging in the manufacture of tools and hydraulic presses, he began to construct heavy stationary engines and finally devoted his energies to the development of locomotives.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 1—When Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, remarked that he was "morally certain" Communists had penetrated his agency and probably every security agency of the government, he really wasn't saying anything that every one familiar with the subject hasn't realized for some time. In fact, the public records show the efforts made by the Communists and the names of some of the persons who were prevented from attaining their objectives. Inadvertently, however, Gen. Smith confirmed the broad thesis of Sen. McCarthy—that there have been and are Communists in the government.

It was recalled that Judith Coplon, who was employed in the Department of Justice, was tried and convicted for passing documents to a Russian agent. Also, in the records of the Senate Internal Security Committee, of which Sen. McCarran, D., of Nevada, is chairman, there will be found case after case of efforts to plant Communists in various government agencies, including the Central Intelligence Agency. One former employe of this agency testified that a State Department official endeavored unsuccessfully to let some Communists be used indirectly to assist the agency, and just what happened in this episode has never been satisfactorily cleared up.

Then there's the case of Agler Hiss, who was a high State Department officer and is now in jail for perjury. Elizabeth Bentley, ex-Communist agent, testified that the late Harry Dexter White, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, gave her secret information for the Communist government. Everybody knows that Klaus Fuchs penetrated the atomic-energy project and gave the details of the atomic bomb to Russia—for he has confessed it.

So why there should arise such a hullabaloo over Gen. Smith's chance remark, as he was sumitting to cross-examination during his testimony on another subject, is a little difficult to understand unless it is because spokesmen for the Department of State have repeatedly quibbled about Communists in the State Department, never revealing the true facts.

Unfortunately, the State Department has considered itself as engaged in a political controversy. Rather than allow any facts to come out which would give ammunition to Sen. McCarthy, it has permitted itself to be embarrassed time and again. There never has been any satisfactory explanation, for instance, of the reason why so many employes accused of disloyalty were allowed to resign before their cases could be taken up by the President's Loyalty Review Board nor any explanation of why, when the State Department's own loyalty board found a man ineligible on loyalty grounds, the order was reversed by Secretary Acheson and the Department stated to the press that the man had been "cleared." Only the vigilance of Sen. McCarthy and others on Capitol Hill uncovered this piece of downright misrepresentation.

Gen. Smith doesn't want the Central Intelligence Agency to become a political football. He asked the two presidential candidates not to use his testimony politically. Gov. Stevenson promptly did so, nevertheless, by indirection. He issued a statement commenting on the fact that Gen. Smith was formerly chief of staff to Gen. Eisenhower and that Allen Dulles, a Republican and brother of John Foster Dulles, now is deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency. The plain inference was that, if there are any Communists in the agency, the Republicans have some share of the blame for letting them in there. This type of statement was a blunder which Gov. Stevenson could easily have avoided if he had said nothing at all on the subject.

Then the Democratic National Chairman, Stephen Mitchell, said at Atlanta apropos of Gen. Smith's testimony:

"This is another good example of what happens when a professional military man attempts to cope with civilian difficulties."

Doesn't Mr. Mitchell know that the job of the Central Intelligence Agency today embraces both military and naval intelligence? Certainly a professional soldier, and one who has been Ambassador to Russia, is better equipped than any civilian to understand the Communist infiltration tactics. Mr. Mitchell has by his statement, in reality, released the Republicans from any obligation to refrain hereafter from taking up the episode.

Gen. Smith is unquestionably doing a splendid job in his post, and it is natural that he should be overly concerned about the effect of his chance remark. But he was under subpoena, just as Gov. Stevenson was when he was asked to testify in behalf of Alger Hiss. The general had to answer questions asked by counsel.

What Gen. Smith said was realistic, truthful and constructive. Nobody should make a political football out of his agency but everybody, irrespective of party, should look at the Communist menace of infiltration as a whole and be on guard. Long after this political campaign is over, Gen. Smith's warning will have a beneficial effect in alerting America to the dangers of Communist infiltration.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University, has accused China Boy Luce's magazine, "Life," of smearing Notre Dame and some of her football players in the issue of Sept. 29. He used the word "smear" and said "Life" depicted four of Notre Dame's young men as "goons."

Father Hesburgh's comments were expressed after last Saturday's game in Philadelphia in which Notre Dame and Penn went to a stand-off, 7-7. I had had occasion to discuss the game in New York with a patron of the university who said Father Hesburgh was very angry over gross treatment of the school and the students in morbid color-photos in Life and had been urged by friends of Notre Dame to make a formal protest to China-Boy. One of these friends of Notre Dame said:

"I put it down to the things that that crowd on the Luce publications are taught to do. It is the same old story that the Irish are peculiar people."

I reached Father Hesburgh at the Warwick Hotel, Philadelphia.

"The thing that burns me up," he said, "is that Dan Shannon is a fine, good-looking boy and this makes him look like a goon."

He referred to the picture in the lower left corner of the layout showing a handsome young fellow with a strange, pink blur covering the two upper middle teeth. Father Hesburgh said that to him it looked as though Life had falsely colored the teeth. And three of the four pictures carried the wrong names, including this one. Shannon was erroneously identified as Jack Lee. Father Hesburgh said the boy identified as Tom Carey was really Jack Lee and that the one identified as Virgil Bardash, a "glowering guard," was actually another youth named, he thought, Novack.

"They are pillorying these boys before the public," he said. "It is misrepresentation in such a way as to make them look horrid."

Three of the four had each several front teeth missing. The loss of front teeth is an occupational hazard in serious football both in high school and in college. Decayed teeth succumb easily but even some good teeth are knocked out and the loss is counted as fair wear and tear. However, usually the players get good bridgework and present a normal appearance except in hard practice and actual combat when they take the store-teeth out. And those whose front teeth are missing are a small minority, not 75 per cent of a squad at Notre Dame or any other typical school.

"Do you think it was an intentional smear or just sensationalism?" I asked.

"Well, it is sensationalism," Father Hesburgh said, "but it is a smear just the same. I suppose some of the boys do have some of their teeth out. And they take their false teeth out when they play the same as boxers. They picked on these kids to make them look ridiculous. We have fine boys of character. Dan Shannon is an unusual boy, a leader and a first-class man. He is good-looking. But they go through 200 photographs to pick out four looking like a lot of goons. The one of Shannon with the pink on the teeth looks to me as though it had been doctored up."

In the same issue, China-Boy's Magazine did a characteristic gratuitous job in favor of an actor who has been mentioned in connection with 18 separate Communist fronts. This is Jose Ferrer, who gets two pages of free advertising of incalculable value plugging his work in a new

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD S. THIBAUT, Jr.

New York Theatre Men Will Attend Foundation Play

Woodstock, Oct. 1 — According to information from Ed Harrison, publicity director for the Woodstock Foundation, who is in New York during the week, representatives of several New York theatrical producers will come to Woodstock Friday, Oct. 10, to see how the famed temperance drama of the '90s, Ten Nights in a Bar Room goes with modern audiences. The play is being presented for two nights only, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10 and 11, at the Woodstock Playhouse.

Interest in a possible Broadway revival of the celebrated drama about the reformation of the town rumpot stems from the fact that a play of the same character and vintage, The Drunkard, has been running without letup in San Francisco for 15 years.

Houston Richards, who is directing the show, says that the all-time record for a long run established by the Drunkard in San Francisco has made it one of the "must see" items on the docket of every visitor, along with the Golden Gate Bridge and other spots of local interest.

Richards believes that Ten Nights in a Bar Room is funnier and more entertaining than the Drunkard. He chose it over the Drunkard as the annual benefit play of the Woodstock Foundation.

With the completion by Al Bare and his crew of the handsome sets for the play, Richards began rehearsals on the stage of the Playhouse this week. Alan Gilbert, who had been playing the leading role of the play has been recalled back to South Pacific in which he formerly appeared. Jules Viglielmo who appeared in roles at the Playhouse last summer will replace Gilbert.

Tickets on Sale

Margo King, chairman of the ticket committee, making it easy to purchase tickets has given them a wide distribution. They may be purchased in this village at the Five ad Ten Cent Store, Stowell's Drug Store, the Rosalind Shop, Dairylea, Hilda Lightstone's, the Catskill Book and Record Shop, the Woodstock Art Gallery, White Horse Inn, Maverick Inn, Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, Soe's Barber Shop, the News Shop, the Bearsville Store and the Woodstock Colonial Pharmacy. They will be available in Kingston at Dederick's Drug Store.

The Woodstock Playhouse box office will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. Monday, Oct. 6, through Saturday, Oct. 10. Phone orders will be taken.

Kaj Klitgaard will be in charge of the singing waiters, and Pat Boswell is rounding up the lovely ushers for the evening.

Monument Is Taken To Village Cemetery

Woodstock, Oct. 1—A bluestone shaft, about 12 feet in height, weighing 11 tons, which was designed and executed by Tomas Penning, noted High Woods sculptor, was brought by truck Monday morning to the Woodstock Memorial Cemetery where it is now in the process of being constructed.

The monument which has been a project among a number of residents of this village for some time, was transported from Penning's studio through the village and up the winding cemetery road, altogether a large undertaking, by B. J. Dachenhausen & Sons, of Ruby.

Lettering for the monument has been designed by David Fairbanks and will be placed on the stone in the near future.

Taylors Open New Gallery Exhibit

Woodstock, Oct. 1—Two of Woodstock's most outstanding artists, Andree Rouellan and John Taylor, who are in private life Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor of Shady, are holding an exhibition of etchings and lithographs which opened Saturday afternoon at the Mollie Higgins Smith Gallery.

Miss Rouellan's masterly handling of line is perhaps most evident in her, now famous, Three Women, the Crab Net, the amusing Masques, Man With Monkey and Musicians. In her sensitive lithographs, there is combined an other world quality, a touch of whimsy and a deep but always sympathetic understanding of her subject. Siesta is a delightful study of a sleeping mother sow and her four piglets. Wood interior reveals her equally knowing approach to trees as well as people and animals. Especially noted for her drawings and paintings of the folk of the world of the circus, they are exquisitely rendered in Circus, her sime-tragic Clown and Accordion Player. Canal at Arles is a beautifully imaginative drawing.

In both the etchings and lithographs of Taylor there is frequently to be found a somber, brooding element that places them in the realm of mood, subtle and changing from his powerful Southern Port to the chill stillness of winter. The artist makes it easy for the viewer to step into the pervading atmosphere of his picture, to look with his eyes through Southern Window, to investigate a Winter Landscape or The Orchard.

This perhaps explains in some degree the large popularity of Andree Rouellan and John Taylor. Between them they create an enchanted world, of engaging sometimes wistful people and enticing village streets and countrysides.

This thoroughly satisfying exhibition will remain at the gallery to Nov. 1.

Meeting Postponed

Woodstock, Oct. 1—The regular monthly meeting of the Kings Daughters has been postponed by the president, Mrs. Oscar Schilz, from Thursday, Oct. 2, to Oct. 9, at the Methodist Church Hall in Shady at 8 p. m.

Masks on Display A Village Shop

Woodstock, Oct. 1—The Catskill Book and Record Shop is presenting an exhibit of masks which have been brought from Liberia by Dr. G. W. Harley, M.D. Dr. Harley, who has been in Liberia as a medical missjonary for the Methodist Church, will include 10 pieces in the present exhibition consisting of headdresses, iron currency, masks and bowls.

Dr. Harley was founder of the pioneer station at Ganta, Liberia. He is the author of Native African Medicine, Notes on the Boro, Masks as an Agent of Social Control. He was editor of Tribes of the Liberian Hinterland, and was one-time consultant to the U. S. Foreign Economic Administration, the U. S. Public Health Mission in Liberia and the Stettinius Associate (The Liberia Company). He also was a research fellow to the Peabody Museum of Archeology and Ethnology of Harvard University.

The exhibition will be on view indefinitely and it is expected that Dr. Harley will return in about a month to add to the collection and will possibly lecture on his subject.

The Catskill Book and Record Shop will present its next concert Wednesday night, Oct. 8.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The Ruminator does not very often talk about the stock market in these columns because the majority of our readers are not actively interested in the market.

However, whether you own stocks or not, you doubtless recognize that at times the stock market has a considerable influence upon business and public "sentiment."

So long as stock prices fluctuate quietly, without making any grand-stand plays, people pay little attention. But when prices suddenly spurt upward or fall sharply, the market then becomes "news" and you hear radio commentators talking about it—while the metropolitan newspapers play up their market "stories."

The Ruminator has a hunch—that's all you can call it, a hunch—that the market will be making news again before long—before the election, perhaps, but rather certainly after November 4 in any event.

Here's why I feel that way.

Every periodical relating to business or to finance which you pick up—including the widely distributed "news letters" whose circulation is quite influential—is outspoken in its positive predictions that the defense boom is running on borrowed time and will slow down "sometime next year." (Various dates are predicted for the "recession" to commence, from mid-1953 to mid-1954.) At the same time, these economic forecasts, which are becoming very common, tell us that the boom will continue this year and well into 1953, and so on.

It seems evident to me, and I am sure it does to you, that if "everyone" gets into a frame of mind where they expect a recession to start within a matter of months, then they are very likely to pull in their oars ahead of time in order to shy clear of rough water.

By the same token, investors and traders, one would suppose, would also say to themselves: "Here, if there's going to be a slump before long, I guess I'd better be more cautious and cut down my investments."

But right there is where stock-market psychology enters the situation. The average small investor is more likely to put off his decision, although he may say to himself that he ought to cut down his investments. He will "wait and see" what happens. In the meantime, the more important interests may be cautiously unloading stocks but doing it in such manner as not to cause any sudden breaks in prices or in a way to suggest that "liquidation" is starting. Therefore, the volume of transactions does not increase very much and the average person merely assumes that prices have drifted off a bit, but what of it.

The next step is when prices have drifted down to a level where people have losses. Then they begin to think more seriously. The thousands of people who have purchased "mutual funds" begin to wonder about their holdings, also.

The upshot of a condition like this is that suddenly one day, to the surprise of everyone, the market slides off abruptly and the volume of trading increases sharply—and the "break" is talked about on the radio and in the newspapers.

This is the sort of sequence that may develop under our present regulated markets, wherein professional manipulators and pool operators are no longer active. The activity which attracts attention—and brings about more activity—enters the market after the trend is well under way.

There is no way to guess when such sequences are likely to begin. But, inasmuch as the election is close at hand while at the same time predictions of "next year's slump" are commonplace, it would not be surprising to the Ruminator if we were already in the sequence. If you care to watch for a possible tip-off, you may find it in the fact that the rallies in prices seem to be struggling ones, without much snap to them. After a few days of slow advance, then prices seem to slide off easily, usually to a lower level than the previous sell-off. In other words, the market is "stepping down" quietly, but who knows when it will miss a step and fall down? It is this fall which will scare people—and business—and the lower down the fall comes the more surprise it will cause.

If nothing happens prior to the election, then we might wonder if this will happen: If Stevenson is elected, the market will sell off "on disappointment." If Eisenhower wins, there'll be a brief celebration spurt (perhaps) followed by a downtrend based on the theory that the Republicans will not be the spenders that Truman has been. The whole thing is a guessing game, of course, but it's rather fun to guess!

As Pegler Sees It

movie of the most obscure importance. The show is a movie called "Moulin Rouge" in which Ferrer portrays a French artist, unknown to almost all Americans, named Henri De Toulouse Lautrec. Lautrec was a dwarf and Ferrer, who is five feet eleven, strapped on short artificial legs, with his own lower legs poking out behind. The result is a repulsive monster typical of "Life's" taste in many matters. And the decision to give this item a big play was consistent with the policy which decided a few months ago that Charlie Chaplin's effort at ressurection was worth ten whole pages of "Life" and a mawkish tribute to his affectionate family life, in contrast to his sordid record in three earlier marriages and one paternity case.

Jose Ferrer's record lists him as a "sponsor" of eleven fronts, all of them flagrant and notorious; as a guest of honor and director of the Independent Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions; as a "participant" in the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee and as a member of Bubblehead Wallace's national committee when he was the candidate of the Communists for President in 1948. There are altogether 24 such instances. But Life says nothing about Ferrer's political activities, communism or Communists in this gratuitous ballyyhoo in the same issue that presented the smear of the Notre Dame men in the guise of goons.

Trial of Two Postponed

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The trial of two post office supervisors and a furrier on charges of selling promotions to postal employes for varying sums was postponed yesterday to Oct. 29 in federal court by Judge John W. Clancy. The three defendants are Abraham April, 63-year-old furrier of 749 West End avenue; his brother-in-law, Joseph Frank, 58, of 38-40 78th street, Jackson Heights, Queens; and Joseph E. Arensen, 54, of 1308 Hicks avenue, the Bronx. The men were indicted by a federal grand jury Sept. 25.

Fall fruits make such delicious desserts. Mix seedless grapes, orange sections and sliced bananas and serve in individual glass bowls of pineapple juice.

Carols Are Broadcast

Seoul, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Christmas season came early in Korea this year, almost before the first frost. Chinese Reds broadcast Christmas carols in English last night to allied troops near Panmunjom on the western front. It's an old Red propaganda trick to foster homesickness.

Named to Board

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Gov. Dewey today appointed Mrs. Helen M. Graves of Vails Gate to the board of trustees of Washington's Headquarters at Newburgh. Mrs. Graves succeeds Mrs. Stanley T. Manlove of Newburgh, who resigned. Mrs. Graves will complete Mrs. Manlove's term, which expires April 1, 1953.

Fighting Propaganda On Reds Is Important

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP) — Lewis A. Wilson, state education commissioner, today listed "the protection of youth against subversive propaganda" as one of the principal problems facing the public schools.

In his annual report, entitled "Education to Safeguard American Freedom," the commissioner said it was up to the public "to help strengthen the entire structure of the public school system" in the current "period of international tension."

The 64-page report covered the 1950-51 school year.

Wilson said some of the other problems for educators were the continuing increase in school enrollments, the "desperate need" for more school buildings, the shortage of teachers and the financial problems "inherent in a period of inflation."

Tourist Study Slated

Naples (AP) — A booming world tourist industry comes under expert study at the seventh international conference of the International Union of Official Travel Organizations here next month. Forty-six member nations, as well as a number of associate members, are to be represented. There will be reports on the development of tourism in all parts of the world and study of plans to increase tourist travel.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

It's Hard Knowing Shape You Are In

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South didn't know what to bid over two clubs. He had a good hand opposite a takeout double, but he didn't want to make a free bid in hearts with such a worthless four-card holding in that suit, and he hated to bid no-trump without a club stopper. He finally took a chance on two no-trump anyway, and North happily raised to game.

When the dummy came down, South felt unhappy at being in no-trump instead of in four hearts. This shows how hard it is to know when you're well off, for South made three no-trump and would not have made four hearts.

The first trick was a bit unusual, for declarer played a low club from each hand. West was a little surprised to win the first trick with his jack, but he continued with a low club, and this time East won with the ace. The club suit was now dead, since the East hand had no side entry.

East returned a spade, and South let West win with the king. Now declarer could easily develop the hearts, giving up a trick to the ace of that suit. The rest of the tricks were easily his.

It wasn't hard to make three no-trump, as long as South didn't try to win the first club trick. If South had won the first club with the queen, West's next club would have given East five club tricks.

When this hand was played in the national tournament in Cincinnati a few weeks ago, many pairs got to four hearts and were defeated. West opened the jack of clubs, which rode to the queen.

West then took the first round of trumps with the ace, led another club, and was able to overruff South on the third round of clubs. The king of spades eventually won the setting trick.

Sometimes North played the hand at four hearts, but without better success. East's opening lead was his singleton spade, taken by South's ace. West stepped up on the first round of trumps, cashed the king of spades, and led a third spade. This time it was East who could over-ruff, and the ace of clubs took the setting trick.

Fighting Propaganda On Reds Is Important

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP) — Lewis A. Wilson, state education commissioner, today listed "the protection of youth against subversive propaganda" as one of the principal problems facing the public schools.

In his annual report, entitled "Education to Safeguard American Freedom," the commissioner said it was up to the public "to help strengthen the entire structure of the public school system" in the current "period of international tension."

The 64-page report covered the 1950-51 school year.

Wilson said some of the other problems for educators were the continuing increase in school enrollments, the "desperate need" for more school buildings, the shortage of teachers and the financial problems "inherent in a period of inflation."

Tourist Study Slated

Naples (AP) — A booming world tourist industry comes under expert study at the seventh international conference of the International Union of Official Travel Organizations here next month. Forty-six member nations, as well as a number of associate members, are to be represented. There will be reports on the development of tourism in all parts of the world and study of plans to increase tourist travel.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South didn't know what to bid over two clubs. He had a good hand opposite a takeout double, but he didn't want to make a free bid in hearts with such a worthless four-card holding in that suit, and he hated to bid no-trump without a club stopper. He finally took a chance on two no-trump anyway, and North happily raised to game.

When the dummy came down, South felt unhappy at being in no-trump instead of in four hearts. This shows how hard it is to know when you're well off, for South made three no-trump and would not have made four hearts.

The first trick was a bit unusual, for declarer played a low club from each hand. West was a little surprised to win the first trick with his jack, but he continued with a low club, and this time East won with the ace. The club suit was now dead, since the East hand had no side entry.

East returned a spade, and South let West win with the king. Now declarer could easily develop the hearts, giving up a trick to the ace of that suit. The rest of the tricks were easily his.

It wasn't hard to make three no-trump, as long as South didn't try to win the first club trick. If South had won the first club with the queen, West's next club would have given East five club tricks.

When this hand was played in the national tournament in Cincinnati a few weeks ago, many pairs got to four hearts and were defeated. West opened the jack of clubs, which rode to the queen.

West then took the first round of trumps with the ace, led another club, and was able to overruff South on the third round of clubs. The king of spades eventually won the setting trick.

Sometimes North played the hand at four hearts, but without better success. East's opening lead was his singleton spade, taken by South's ace. West stepped up on the first round of trumps, cashed the king of spades, and led a third spade. This time it was East who could over-ruff, and the ace of clubs took the setting trick.

He who sees his own faults is too much occupied to see the faults of others. —Arabic Proverb

Inflation is a drop in the buck.

A gentleman once bought a horse of a country-dealer. The bargain concluded, and the money paid, the gentleman said:

Buyer—Now, my friend, I have bought your horse, what are his faults?

Man—I know of no faults that he has, except two, and one is, that he is hard to catch.

Buyer—Oh! never mind that. I will contrive to catch him at any time, I will engage; but what is the other?

Man—Ah, sir! that is the worst, he is good for nothing when you have caught him.

Here lies the body of William Jay,
Who died maintaining his right of way;
He was right, dead right, as he sped along,
But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong.

Horace Greeley is credited with making this snappy retort to the congressman who was boasting that he was a self-made man.

"That," said Greely, "relieves the Almighty of a great responsibility."

Methuselah ate what he found on his plate, and never, as people do now, did he note the amount of the caloric count—he ate it because it was chow. He wasn't disturbed, as at dinner he sat, destroying a roast or a pie, to think it was lacking in glandular fat, or a couple of vitamins shy. He cheerfully chewed every species of food, untroubled by worries or fears lest his health should be hurt by some fancy dessert—and he lived over nine hundred years!

We are told young folks should be taught more about their health in this country. This has been found out after so many young men cannot join the army on account of their teeth and many other things. Why not have a course on health in the public schools?

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Oct. 1—The New Hurley Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Gerow Wilkin Thursday, Oct. 9, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Albert Cronk will lead the devotions and Mrs. Charles Jenkins will have charge of the program on the Reformed Church in Canada.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ira Merwin Saturday, Oct. 11, at 2:30 p. m. All the young women of the community are invited to attend.

The annual fall conference of the Women's Missionary Union of the Classis of Orange will be held in all-day session Tuesday, Oct. 21, at the Reformed Church at Bloomingburg.

Next Sunday will be observed as World-Wide Communion in the New Hurley Reformed Church at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

A large crowd attended the chicken barbecue given by the Gardiner GLF at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Denniston Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Rolfe and son, Richard, moved Tuesday, Sept. 30, to the late Fred Heidke place which they recently purchased. They formerly resided in Middlehope.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sol LaPoma and family were Thomas LaPoma and family, Joseph Miranda and family and Mrs. Minnetta Combs.

Miss Bertha Sutton spent Sunday with Mrs. Williams Tears in Walden.

Mr. Forster and Mrs. Daugan were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Sol LaPoma and Mrs. Hendrickson.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Van Strine of Gardiner called on the Rev. J. W. Tysse Monday.

Rally Day was observed in the New Hurley Church Sunday morning with the pastor the Rev. John W. Tysee and members of the Sunday school taking part. Those assisting were Paula Dolan, Roy Denniston, Jr., Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin, David Wilkin, Wilson Edmonds, Jr. and Martha Belle Schoonmaker. The choir under the direction of Mr. Topping rendered an offertory anthem with John Kvamn as soloist.

Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker has been a patient at the Goshen Hospital where she underwent an operation.

Russia Has . . .

reached is not known, but when World War 2 started the clubs had created a vast reserve of semi-trained pilots and technicians upon which the Soviet Air Force was able to draw during the early part of the conflict."

Training Is Tough

The training for these reservists is tough and to get a top pilot rating in the clubs takes at least 2,500 hours of flying. Top pilots must "have flown at least 10 types of aircraft, carried out several night and instrument cross country flights and have at least six years sport flying to their credit."

The reservists take part each year in the Air Force Day program in Moscow. From actual observations the AF said, the standard of their flying is high. It pointed out, however, that only the best pilots would be used in such a show.

The manpower for the reserve organization comes from a constant stream of regular air force personnel going off active duty. The duration of active duty varies from three to seven years. The higher a man's rank, the longer he has to serve.

Until Age of 50

When they complete their active duty, Russian airmen automatically become members of the reserve until they're 50. Russian law requires all able-bodied men from 19 to 50 to perform military duty.

In the reserve, the ex-regulars serve as instructors or go into the general reserve pool and serve occasional short tours of active duty.

The article quoted the commander of the Red Air Force Reserve, Lt. Gen Nikolai Petrovish Keranin:

"Our value to aviation will be of use only if members perfect their knowledge of aviation and pass it on to the millions."

Cheju Riot . . .

there were no incidents and the situation was stable.

(At Panmunjom the Communist armistice delegation protested "this major incident of massacre" in a note to Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator.

(North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negotiator, told the allies "your side will have to bear full responsibility for all the consequences arising from this grave incident.")

Officials on Cheju today said "compounds are being entered and searched without resistance. Prisoners of war are obeying all orders. The work details are performing their assigned tasks. The situation is considered stable."

A board of investigating officers left Cheju today. There was no indication when or if their report will be made public.

Hundreds Made Ill

knelt on the floor, gasping for clean air.

A passenger who talked to a member of the train crew said oil from the engine's generator caught fire.

The accident delayed 12 other inbound trains from five to 30 minutes.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Oct. 1—The New Hurley Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Gerow Wilkin Thursday, Oct. 9, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Albert Cronk will lead the devotions and Mrs. Charles Jenkins will have charge of the program on the Reformed Church in Canada.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ira Merwin Saturday, Oct. 11, at 2:30 p. m. All the young women of the community are invited to attend.

The annual fall conference of the Women's Missionary Union of the Classis of Orange will be held in all-day session Tuesday, Oct. 21 at the Reformed Church at Bloomingburg.

Next Sunday will be observed as World-Wide Communion in the New Hurley Reformed Church at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

A large crowd attended the chicken barbecue given by the Gardiner GLF at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Denniston Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Rolfe and son, Richard, moved Tuesday, Sept. 30, to the late Fred Heidke place which they recently purchased. They formerly resided in Middlehope.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sol LaPoma and family were Thomas LaPoma and family, Joseph Miranda and family and Mrs. Minnetta Combs.

Miss Bertha Sutton spent Sunday with Mrs. Williams Tears in Walden.

Mr. Forster and Mrs. Daugan were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Sol LaPoma and Mrs. Hendrickson.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Van Strine of Gardiner called on the Rev. J. W. Tysse Monday.

Rally Day was observed in the New Hurley Church Sunday morning with the pastor the Rev. John W. Tysee and members of the Sunday school taking part. Those assisting were Paula Dolan Roy Denniston, Jr., Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin, David Wilkin, Wilson Edmonds, Jr. and Martha Belle Schoonmaker. The choir under the direction of Mr. Topping rendered an offertory anthem with John Kvamn as soloist.

Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker has been a patient at the Goshen Hospital where she underwent an operation.

Russia Has . . .

reached is not known, but when World War 2 started the clubs had created a vast reserve of semi-trained pilots and technicians upon which the Soviet Air Force was able to draw during the early part of the conflict."

Training Is Tough

The training for these reservists is tough and to get a top pilot rating in the clubs takes at least 2,500 hours of flying. Top pilots must "have flown at least 10 types of aircraft, carried out several night and instrument cross country flights and have at least six years sport flying to their credit."

The reservists take part each year in the Air Force Day program in Moscow. From actual observations the AF said, the standard of their flying is high. It pointed out, however, that only the best pilots would be used in such a show.

The manpower for the reserve organization comes from a constant stream of regular air force personnel going off active duty. The duration of active duty varies from three to seven years. The higher a man's rank, the longer he has to serve.

Until Age of 50

When they complete their active duty, Russian airmen automatically become members of the reserve until they're 50. Russian law requires all able-bodied men from 19 to 50 to perform military duty.

In the reserve, the ex-regulars serve as instructors or go into the general reserve pool and serve occasional short tours of active duty.

The article quoted the commander of the Red Air Force Reserve, Lt. Gen Nikolai Petrovish Keranin:

"Our value to aviation will be of use only if members perfect their knowledge of aviation and pass it on to the millions."

Cheju Riot . . .

there were no incidents and the situation was stable.

(At Panmunjom the Communist armistice delegation protested "this major incident of massacre" in a note to Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator.

(North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negotiator, told the allies "your side will have to bear full responsibility for all the consequences arising from this grave incident.")

Officials on Cheju today said "compounds are being entered and searched without resistance. Prisoners of war are obeying all orders. The work details are performing their assigned tasks. The situation is considered stable."

A board of investigating officers left Cheju today. There was no indication when or if their report will be made public.

Hundreds Made Ill

knelt on the floor, gasping for clean air.

A passenger who talked to a member of the train crew said oil from the engine's generator caught fire.

The accident delayed 12 other inbound trains from five to 30 minutes.

Shouts for Help Save Jewels Worth $100,000

Boston, Oct. 2 (AP) — Jacob Swergold, 46, of 8441 125th street, Kew Gardens, N. Y., a jewelry salesman, told police two men attempted last night to rob him of unset diamonds worth $75,000 to $100,000 but his shouts for help drove them away.

Swergold, a refugee from Germany who came to the United States after World War II, said he was attacked on a stairway between the third and fourth floors of the Province Building, across Washington street from the Old South Church. They beat him on the head with bludgeons, he said, but did not get the diamonds he carried in a pouch tied to his waist.

The salesman could not describe his attackers except to say they wore dark clothes.

Uptown Merchant Heads Seal Sale In '52 TB Campaign

JAMES L. ROWE

James L. Rowe, Kingston shoe merchant, has accepted the appointment of county chairman for the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale, according to an announcement today by Harry S. Ensign, president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association.

The Christmas Seal sale will be conducted in Ulster county by the Ulster County TB and Health Association from November 17 to January 1. Ulster County's campaign will be part of the 46th annual Christmas Seal sale conducted throughout the country by the 3,000 associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association.

Happy to Serve

"It is a duty as well as an honor to accept this opportunity to help further the work of tuberculosis prevention and control in the country," Chairman Rowe said. "TB is a communicable disease which presents great social and economic problems to many of us right here in Ulster county.

"Because of its infectiousness, its prevalence, its symptomless onset its long duration, and its tendency to recur even though once arrested, TB is one of the most complex and costly public health problems in the United States. It kills more persons each year in this country than all other infectious and parastic diseases combined.

"We do not have to go outside Ulster county for evidence of suffering due to tuberculosis," Rowe pointed out. "In 1951 alone, there were 21 deaths in the county from TB. In the same year, 59 new cases of tuberculosis were reported among Ulster county residents."

He explained that the Ulster County TB and Health Association conducts a year-round program to control tuberculosis and to promote health generally.

Anticipates Good Support

"I am confident of the support of the people of this area during the forthcoming Christmas Seal sale," Rowe said. "They realize that by buying Christmas Seals they are supporting the work of the Ulster County TB and Health Association and are helping to erect a strong barrier against the spread of TB in this community."

Chairman Rowe will name a city and county committee to work with him during the campaign.

Six Teachers Face Ouster on Refusals

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Six New York city school teachers face ouster from their jobs today for refusal to tell a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee whether they were Communists.

The pending action was announced yesterday by Dr. Frederic Ernst, deputy superintendent of schools.

Ernst said Superintendent of Schools William Jansen would ask the Board of Education to ratify the dismissal of any city employe who refuses, on the ground of possible self-incrimination, to answer questions of any officially authorized body.

Ernst said letters, containing dismissal notifications, would be delivered by hand to the following teachers: Meyer Case, 48; Louis Cohen, 46; Mrs. Mary I. Daniman, 53; Henry F. Mins, 49; Louis Relin, 42, and Louis Spindell, 43.

Ernst acted in the absence of Jansen, who has been attending an educational conference at Arden, but who is expected back in New York today.

Ernst's announcement was made after suspension of hearings in the departmental trial of eight other teachers suspended last Jan. 31 by Jansen for refusing to answer questions about alleged Communist party membership.

The eight are charged with insubordination and conduct unbecoming teachers.

The hearing suspension came after one of the two trial examiners disqualified himself. He had been called to testify as a character witness for one of the defendants.

He explained that the Ulster County TB and Health Association conducts a year-round program to control tuberculosis and to promote health generally.

Anticipates Good Support

"I am confident of the support of the people of this area during the forthcoming Christmas Seal sale," Rowe said. "They realize that by buying Christmas Seals they are supporting the work of the Ulster County TB and Health Association and are helping to erect a strong barrier against the spread of TB in this community."

Chairman Rowe will name a city and county committee to work with him during the campaign.

Six Teachers Face Ouster on Refusals

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Six New York city school teachers face ouster from their jobs today for refusal to tell a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee whether they were Communists.

The pending action was announced yesterday by Dr. Frederic Ernst, deputy superintendent of schools.

Ernst said Superintendent of Schools William Jansen would ask the Board of Education to ratify the dismissal of any city employe who refuses, on the ground of possible self-incrimination, to answer questions of any officially authorized body.

Ernst said letters, containing dismissal notifications, would be delivered by hand to the following teachers: Meyer Case, 48; Louis Cohen, 46; Mrs. Mary I. Daniman, 53; Henry F. Mins, 49; Louis Relin, 42, and Louis Spindell, 43.

Ernst acted in the absence of Jansen, who has been attending an educational conference at Arden, but who is expected back in New York today.

Ernst's announcement was made after suspension of hearings in the departmental trial of eight other teachers suspended last Jan. 31 by Jansen for refusing to answer questions about alleged Communist party membership.

The eight are charged with insubordination and conduct unbecoming teachers.

Tax Lien Is Filed

Cleveland, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Bureau of Internal Revenue filed a tax lien yesterday for $164,273 against James Licavoli, 47, a witness at the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee hearings. Licavoli has operated in Cleveland, Toledo and Detroit. The bureau asserted he failed to pay the tax when it was assessed against him. He refused to tell Sen. Estes Kefauver the source of his income. Probers had asked him when the Tennessee senator held a hearing here in January, 1950.

The Gurkhas who conquered Nepal in 1768 are noted for their exploits as soldiers in British armies.

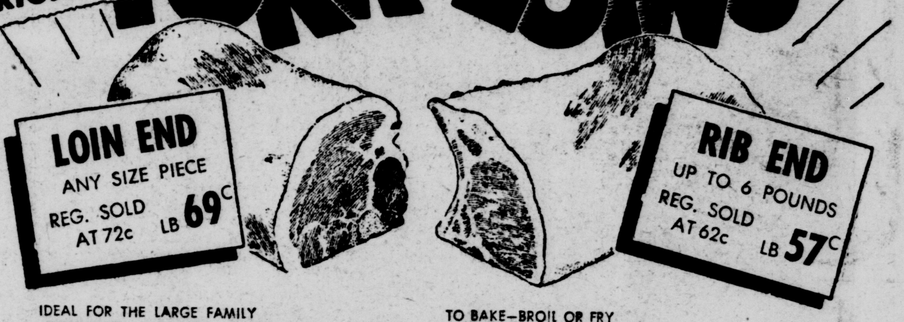
A&P

SUPER-RIGHT PORK LOINS



LOIN END ANY SIZE PIECE REG. SOLD AT 72c LB 69c

RIB END UP TO 6 POUNDS REG. SOLD AT 62c LB 57c

The center cut of the Pork Loin is the best part. That's why it sells for more. Naturally, if you get a good portion of center meat when you pay rib end or loin end prices you're getting better eating and better value! That's just what you get when you buy A&P's "Super-Right" Pork Loins!

Since the larger the roast the more choice center, for the most for your money we suggest you buy one weighing about 6 pounds—about half a loin—and cut off 4 or 5 chops from the center. These chops will cost you only 57c a pound with a rib end roast . . . only 69c a pound with the loin end—instead of the 89c for the center cut! Or buy a whole loin at 61c a pound.

IDEAL FOR THE LARGE FAMILY

KERHONKSON

Kerhonkson, Oct. 1—Mrs. Kenneth Russell and three children of Poughkeepsie were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Terwilliger and mother, Mrs. Andrew Terwilliger.

Harry North of West Shokan has purchased the residence property of the late Milton Lane on Route 209.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Van Aken and daughter, Barbara of Poughkeepsie were visitors Saturday of Mrs. Van Aken's mother, Mrs. James R. Doyle.

The transformer for the woodworking plant has been installed.

Several from here attended the Family Crusade held at municipal stadium in Kingston Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Russell Bliss of Ellenville called on her sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia Wright Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Billias are entertaining Mr. Billias' brother and sister from New York for a few weeks.

Ross Addis and son of Caldwell, N. J., were Saturday visitors of his aunt, Mrs. Emzy Turner on the Minnewaska Trail.

Mrs. Maude Carlile entertained several guests from out-of-town Sunday.

Miss Ella Graham of Ellenville and Mrs. John C. Richards of Napanoch were callers Wednesday night of Mrs. Julia Wright at the home of Mrs. Emzy Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Schwartzberg of Brooklyn spent the weekend with Mrs. Orgel on the Minnewaska Trail. Mrs. Schwartzberg is the former Marjorie Orgel.

Mrs. Frances Mack of Whiteport and her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Elizabeth Seladi and daughter were callers at the home of their cousin, Mrs. Emzy Turner Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. William B. Joyce and Mrs. William Young spent a few days recently in New York and Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stancage entertained at a christening party Sunday for their son, Vaughn Frank. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hasbrouck Decker, Mrs. Ira Decker, Dennis Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Decker and three sons, Joseph, James and John, and Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Stancage of Napanoch.

Those who attended the party Sunday night in honor of Mrs. David Schwab were the Mmes. Ernest Schwab, Francis Schwab, John Schwab, Vernon Schwab, Harold Smith, Russell Samuels, Miss Dorothy Ripple, Ross Quick, Edward Rose, John Kilgannon, Ethel Decker, Edward Smith, Vincent Gallagher, William Carlile, Maude Carlile and daughter, Lulu Lawrence Saville, Earl Quick, Al Lovegran, and David Schwab.

Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Wright entertained Mr. Wright's brother, Patrick Wright of Washington, D. C., for a few days.

Mrs. Celia Jansen was tendered a small surprise birthday party Saturday night at her home.

Tax Lien Is Filed

Cleveland, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Bureau of Internal Revenue filed a tax lien yesterday for $164,273 against James Licavoli, 47, a witness at the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee hearings. Licavoli has operated in Cleveland, Toledo and Detroit. The bureau asserted he failed to pay the tax when it was assessed against him. He refused to tell Sen. Estes Kefauver the source of his income. Probers had asked him when the Tennessee senator held a hearing here in January, 1950.

The Gurkhas who conquered Nepal in 1768 are noted for their exploits as soldiers in British armies.

A&P

The center cut of the Pork Loin is the best part. That's why it sells for more. Naturally, if you get a good portion of center meat when you pay rib end or loin end prices you're getting better eating and better value! That's just what you get when you buy A&P's "Super-Right" Pork Loins!

Since the larger the roast the more choice center, for the most for your money we suggest you buy one weighing about 6 pounds—about half a loin—and cut off 4 or 5 chops from the center. These chops will cost you only 57c a pound with a rib end roast . . . only 69c a pound with the loin end—instead of the 89c for the center cut! Or buy a whole loin at 61c a pound.

Slogan Has No Validity

Editor, The Freeman:

The slogan, "Don't Let Them Take It Away," which the Democrats have chosen, has no validity when one considers how much has already been taken away through taxes and inflation.

There is a large category of middle aged persons who, when the dollar contained 100 cents, had set up plans of insurance and savings to protect their families and provide for their old age, and who now find that it has already been taken away, to the tune of 50 per cent. And this at a time of life when it will not be so easy to get it back.

There also are pensioners, school teachers and others on salaries to whom the slogan must seem ironic in view of the present high cost of living.

Yours truly,

SANTI NADAL.

Friday and Saturday of this week are the first two registration days in the City of Kingston for the presidential election, November 4.

You cannot vote, unless you are registered. Do it tomorrow or Saturday and be sure of your right to vote in this very important election.

The polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Friday and Saturday.

Tree Sexes

Males and females are separated in the holly, persimmon, ash, juniper, most maples, yew, and several of the less familiar trees of the United States. In those cases, it is essential that both sexes be present to obtain well-developed fruit and seed.

Truman Warms Up

Washington where he tried out his anti-Eisenhower technique in a major talk at Spokane last night.

There, he told a crowd in the Nation Guard Armory, he was "sorry to see the abject surrender" of the Republican presidential nominee "to the reactionary, vindictive wing of the old guard."

Part of his Spokane speech was delayed by yells, whistles and cries of "give 'em hell, Harry" and "pour it on." Police Chief Clyde Phelps estimated his audience there at 4,000 in the armory and said there were 1,5000 others who couldn't get in.

'Just a Damn Lie'

The President brought a roar of laughter when he departed from his prepared text to give his comment on statements by Eisenhower and other Republicans that taxes can be reduced by slashing government expenditures for national defense purposes.

"It's just a damn lie," Truman declared.

Of the suggestion made by some of a fixed limit on spending for defense, he said, with acid in his voice:

"That's the craziest thing I ever heard of."

The police chief said there were 10,000 persons who applauded and waved as Truman drove the eight blocks from his special train to the armory.

Truman told reporters he was having the time of his life on this campaign, and he looked it as he strode through the 16-car special late yesterday, chatting amiably with reporters.

Increases Cracks at Ike

His efforts to cut down on Eisenhower prestige as a candidate for president increased at every appearance before a train-side crowd.

The route, today led through Ephrata, Wenatchee, Skykomish and Everett, Wash., into Seattle for a talk there at 6 p. m., Pacific standard time (9 p. m., EST) in the Eagles Hall.

Another important address was set for Tacoma at 8:30 p. m. (11:30 p. m., EST) in Fellowship Hall following a whistle stop speech at Kent, between Tacoma and Seattle.

While he put out a prepared address on the Spokane speech, Truman got in his toughest and roughest campaign licks at the whistle stops.

Such as at Troy, Mont., where he got around to calling the GOP "the generals' own party" or "the party of the generals."

"The Republicans have General Motors, and General Electric, and General Foods, and General McArthur and Gen. Martin (Sen. Martin, R-Pa.) and General Wedemeyer," he said.

Hits At Generals

"And then they have their own five-star general who is running for president, and I understand he will carry some other generals around with him to give him a hand in the political campaign.

"That's a lot of generals. I want to say to you that every general I know is on this list—every general I have mentioned in this list is in the general's column. Except general welfare, and general welfare is in with the corporals and the privates in the Democratic party."

He said if all the privates vote for Adlai Stevenson, "you know what the results will be."

Truman said that while he personally is "just a buck private in the rear ranks in this campaign," he does happen to be President and "therefore I am leader of the Democratic party."

"But," he said, with a twinkle in his eye, "I am ready to act as a private any time Adlai Stevenson asks me to act one."

Hammers at Unsuitability

And over and over, Truman hammered away that Eisenhower is a "great general" but unsuited for the presidency because of his lack of knowledge of "the civilian world" and of politics.

He talked like the voters would do Eisenhower a favor by defeating him.

"Now I like Ike, and I like him fine—as I say — as that of commanding general; but I don't like him for what he stands now," he told a crowd at Whitefish, Mont., "I don't think he knows what he is doing. I think all the Republican reactionaries are whispering in his ear, and pulling his leg, and he just doesn't know what they mean.

"If you like Ike as I do, you will vote with me to send him back to the army where he belongs. That's the best thing you can do for him—and get him out of the terrible company he is keeping, and it will help our country keep out of the mess we will be in if he is elected."

Your Editor

Whoever the Editorial Writer is, it's certain he's a local personage of no mean influence. Reformers, community planners, church and civic leaders value his integrity. Chiseling politicos, quasi-criminal elements, and selfish individualists hate him, may even threaten him But the local newspaper editor stays just the way he is, impartially telling the everyday story of the world's news, interpreting events and trends in a way understood by all. His editorials pointing out transgressions and calling for punishment, or congratulating a civic achievement, give his paper personality Because they express opinions and attitudes of a newspaper, editorials are never written casually. Hours of analysis are spent breaking down large amounts of news dispatches, "off-the-record" background material and statistics to their essential meanings. Once analyzed, arranged in an order suggesting trends in the world's activities, they are written up in a manner easily understood by the reader.

Rules Announced By Elks for $50 Prize to Students

Students in the eight high schools of this area are eligible to compete for the $50 prize offered by Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks for essays on National Newspaper Week, it has been announced by Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle.

The subject of the essays is to be: Freedom of the Press—What It Means Today. Compositions are not to exceed 300 words, and may be typed or handwritten on letter size stationery.

McCardle has invited students in the high schools of Kingston, Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville, Kerhonkson, Onteora Central District, Fleischmanns and Margaretville, to enter the essay contest.

No Blanks Required

No special blanks are required. Those competing should write their names, that of their high school, home address and telephone number in the upper right hand corner on their essay papers.

Judges will consider knowledge of subject matter, patriotism and general presentation of subject matter.

October 8th Is Deadline

Essays should be mailed to: Essay Contest, Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks, 264 Fair street, Kingston, not later than Wednesday, Oct. 8.

McCardle said the winner of the $50 award will be announced a week from the closing date of the contest.

The Elks are conducting programs on a nationwide scale to impress Americans that freedom of the press is their guarantee to freedom of speech as called for in the Constitution of the United States.

It is believed there is more matter between the stars of the galaxy in which the solar system is located than in the stars themselves.

Truman Warms Up

Washington where he tried out his anti-Eisenhower technique in a major talk at Spokane last night.

There, he told a crowd in the Nation Guard Armory, he was "sorry to see the abject surrender" of the Republican presidential nominee "to the reactionary, vindictive wing of the old guard."

Part of his Spokane speech was delayed by yells, whistles and cries of "give 'em hell, Harry" and "pour it on." Police Chief Clyde Phelps estimated his audience there at 4,000 in the armory and said there were 1,5000 others who couldn't get in.

'Just a Damn Lie'

The President brought a roar of laughter when he departed from his prepared text to give his comment on statements by Eisenhower and other Republicans that taxes can be reduced by slashing government expenditures for national defense purposes.

"It's just a damn lie," Truman declared.

Of the suggestion made by some of a fixed limit on spending for defense, he said, with acid in his voice:

"That's the craziest thing I ever heard of."

The police chief said there were 10,000 persons who applauded and waved as Truman drove the eight blocks from his special train to the armory.

Truman told reporters he was having the time of his life on this campaign, and he looked it as he strode through the 16-car special late yesterday, chatting amiably with reporters.

Increases Cracks at Ike

His efforts to cut down on Eisenhower prestige as a candidate for president increased at every appearance before a train-side crowd.

The route, today led through Ephrata, Wenatchee, Skykomish and Everett, Wash., into Seattle for a talk there at 6 p. m., Pacific standard time (9 p. m., EST) in the Eagles Hall.

Another important address was set for Tacoma at 8:30 p. m. (11:30 p. m., EST) in Fellowship Hall following a whistle stop speech at Kent, between Tacoma and Seattle.

While he put out a prepared address on the Spokane speech, Truman got in his toughest and roughest campaign licks at the whistle stops.

Such as at Troy, Mont., where he got around to calling the GOP "the generals' own party" or "the party of the generals."

"The Republicans have General Motors, and General Electric, and General Foods, and General McArthur and Gen. Martin (Sen. Martin, R-Pa.) and General Wedemeyer," he said.

Hits At Generals

"And then they have their own five-star general who is running for president, and I understand he will carry some other generals around with him to give him a hand in the political campaign.

"That's a lot of generals. I want to say to you that every general I know is on this list—every general I have mentioned in this list is in the general's column. Except general welfare, and general welfare is in with the corporals and the privates in the Democratic party."

He said if all the privates vote for Adlai Stevenson, "you know what the results will be."

Truman said that while he personally is "just a buck private in the rear ranks in this campaign," he does happen to be President and "therefore I am leader of the Democratic party."

"But," he said, with a twinkle in his eye, "I am ready to act as a private any time Adlai Stevenson asks me to act one."

Hammers at Unsuitability

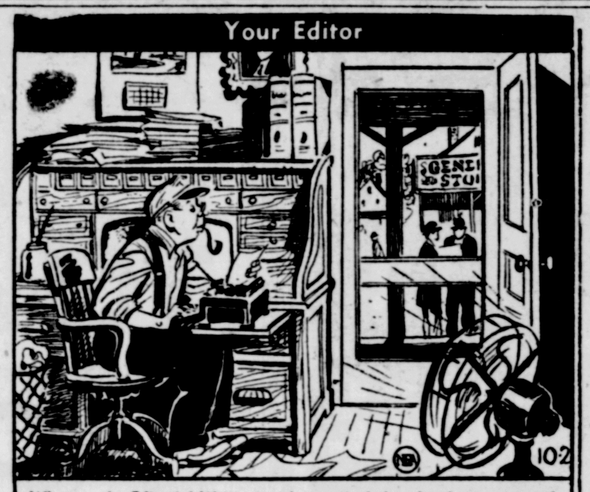
And over and over, Truman hammered away that Eisenhower is a "great general" but unsuited for the presidency because of his lack of knowledge of "the civilian world" and of politics.

He talked like the voters would do Eisenhower a favor by defeating him.

"Now I like Ike, and I like him fine—as I say — as that of commanding general; but I don't like him for what he stands now," he told a crowd at Whitefish, Mont., "I don't think he knows what he is doing. I think all the Republican reactionaries are whispering in his ear, and pulling his leg, and he just doesn't know what they mean.

"If you like Ike as I do, you will vote with me to send him back to the army where he belongs. That's the best thing you can do for him—and get him out of the terrible company he is keeping, and it will help our country keep out of the mess we will be in if he is elected."

Your Editor



Whoever the Editorial Writer is, it's certain he's a local personage of no mean influence. Reformers, community planners, church and civic leaders value his integrity. Chiseling politicos, quasi-criminal elements, and selfish individualists hate him, may even threaten him But the local newspaper editor stays just the way he is, impartially telling the everyday story of the world's news, interpreting events and trends in a way understood by all. His editorials pointing out transgressions and calling for punishment, or congratulating a civic achievement, give his paper personality Because they express opinions and attitudes of a newspaper, editorials are never written casually. Hours of analysis are spent breaking down large amounts of news dispatches, "off-the-record" background material and statistics to their essential meanings. Once analyzed, arranged in an order suggesting trends in the world's activities, they are written up in a manner easily understood by the reader

Rules Announced By Elks for $50 Prize to Students

Students in the eight high schools of this area are eligible to compete for the $50 prize offered by Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks for essays on National Newspaper Week, it has been announced by Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle.

The subject of the essays is to be: Freedom of the Press—What It Means Today. Compositions are not to exceed 300 words, and may be typed or handwritten on letter size stationery.

McCardle has invited students in the high schools of Kingston, Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville, Kerhonkson, Onteora Central District, Fleischmanns and Margaretville, to enter the essay contest.

No Blanks Required

No special blanks are required. Those competing should write their names, that of their high school, home address and telephone number in the upper right hand corner on their essay papers.

Judges will consider knowledge of subject matter, patriotism and general presentation of subject matter.

October 8th Is Deadline

Essays should be mailed to: Essay Contest, Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks, 264 Fair street, Kingston, not later than Wednesday, Oct. 8.

McCardle said the winner of the $50 award will be announced a week from the closing date of the contest.

The Elks are conducting programs on a nationwide scale to impress Americans that freedom of the press is their guarantee to freedom of speech as called for in the Constitution of the United States.

It is believed there is more matter between the stars of the galaxy in which the solar system is located than in the stars themselves.

East, Midwest Get Rain; Other Sections Are Fair

(By The Associated Press)

Rain fell in eastern and midwestern areas today but fair weather was the outlook in other parts of the country.

Cool Canadian air spread over wide sections of the mid-continent, covering the upper Great Lakes region, the middle and upper Mississippi valley and the Plains states. It was around freezing in some northern midwest cities. Some warming was reported in northern New England and the northern Appalachian region.

Showers and thunderstorms were reported in the lower Great Lakes region and the North Atlantic states. Light rain fell in the upper Great Lakes region and the Ohio valley.

KRUMVILLE

Krumville, Oct. 2—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Young and children, Lois and Craig of Paterson, N. J., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown last weekend.

Carl Andersen of Brooklyn spent the weekend at his home here.

Mrs. Orville Hansen and children, Karen, Mary Evelyn and Elizabeth spent the weekend with relatives at Greenport, L. I.

The annual ham supper for the Krumville Cemetery Association will be held at the parsonage Friday, Oct. 3. The annual meeting will be held after the supper. Those interested are requested to remain for the meeting.

Whitbeck Fined After Collision

Irving F. Whitbeck, 26, of 157 Mary's avenue, was arrested on a charge of driving without an operator's license after his car struck two parked vehicles on O'Neil street, last night.

The Whitbeck car struck a car owned by Ernest L. Smith, of 114 O'Neil street, which was parked in front of that address, and this was forced into the car of Arthur J. Carroll, of 116 O'Neil street, parked at that address.

Whitbeck was fined $20 after pleading guilty before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

Officers Raymond Wells and James Harbeck were at the scene at 10:55 p. m., and reported Whitbeck injured. He was taken to Kingston Hospital by ambulance and treated for a mouth injury.

Carroll said his car was forced about 25 feet into a tree after it was struck by the Smith car.

Good School Lunch

Here's a good menu for school children's lunch: Vegetable-and-beef soup with crackers or rolls and butter; applesauce with gingerbread; milk.

Ever try combining a can of condensed tomato soup with a can of beef soup and two cans (using soup-can as measure) of water? Stir often while you heat. Serve with crisp salted crackers.

Whitbeck Fined After Collision

Irving F. Whitbeck, 26, of 157 Mary's avenue, was arrested on a charge of driving without an operator's license after his car struck two parked vehicles on O'Neil street, last night.

The Whitbeck car struck a car owned by Ernest L. Smith, of 114 O'Neil street, which was parked in front of that address, and this was forced into the car of Arthur J. Carroll, of 116 O'Neil street, parked at that address.

Whitbeck was fined $20 after pleading guilty before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

Officers Raymond Wells and James Harbeck were at the scene at 10:55 p. m., and reported Whitbeck injured. He was taken to Kingston Hospital by ambulance and treated for a mouth injury.

Carroll said his car was forced about 25 feet into a tree after it was struck by the Smith car.

Good School Lunch

Here's a good menu for school children's lunch: Vegetable-and-beef soup with crackers or rolls and butter; applesauce with gingerbread; milk.

Ever try combining a can of condensed tomato soup with a can of beef soup and two cans (using soup-can as measure) of water? Stir often while you heat. Serve with crisp salted crackers.

Publisher Says Weeklies for Ike

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—An upstate New York weekly newspaper publisher says political polls have shown most of the nation's weekly newspapers are "definitely working for or lined up with the Republicans" this election year.

Donald Christie, publisher of the Courier-Standard at Fort Plain, N. Y., was interviewed last night on Dwight Cook's CBS radio show, "You and the World."

In previous years, Chirstie said, polls have shown weekly papers divided "about 50-50" in support of the two major parties.

But this year, he said, the ratio in favor of the Republicans is "more than 75 per cent."

He said about 67 per cent of the weeklies have predicted that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, will win over Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic party standard-bearer.

If Eisenhower doesn't win, Christie added, "our faces are going to be pretty red this time."

The interview with Christie was one of a daily series this week in observance of National Newspaper Week.

Hull Has Birthday

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Cordell Hull, the former secretary of state whom the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt once called "the father of the United Nations," observed his 81st anniversary today. The retired statesman is recuperating at Bethesda Naval Hospital from a stroke suffered last August. Critically ill a month ago, he now is able to take short automobile rides with Mrs. Hull. Aides said he is greatly interested in the political campaign, and continues his interest in foreign affairs.

Dr. J. Scott Butterworth, assistant professor of medicine, New York University Post-Graduate Medical School, will address the Ulster County Medical Society at 9 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 7, at Judie's Restaurant on The Management of Acute Cardiovascular Emergencies.

The address is part of the program of postgraduate education arranged by the Medical Society of the State of New York with the cooperation of the New York State Department of Health.

Gale Pounds Niagara

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—A rain and thunderstorm riding in a 40-mile-an-hour gale pounded western New York last night, leaving trees uprooted, power lines down and buildings in flames. The storm struck hardest in Niagara county. Both Lockport and Niagara Falls reported power failures.

Korean Veterans Advised on Policy

For Korean veterans who are not disabled and do not carry National Service Life Insurance, the only form of government insurance available is the new non-participating, non-convertible, five year level premium term policy, State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore and Director Howard Shurter of the local Veterans' Service Agency advised area veterans today.

They also pointed out that their eligibility for it expires 120 days after their discharge from service, and they can apply for this insurance in multiples of $500, with a minimum of $1,000 and a maximum of $10,000.

Complete information and advice pertaining to this matter as well as all other veterans' problems can be obtained by visiting the office of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main street, or calling at any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson or Saugerties.

Korean Veterans Advised on Policy

For Korean veterans who are not disabled and do not carry National Service Life Insurance, the only form of government insurance available is the new non-participating, non-convertible, five year level premium term policy, State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore and Director Howard Shurter of the local Veterans' Service Agency advised area veterans today.

They also pointed out that their eligibility for it expires 120 days after their discharge from service, and they can apply for this insurance in multiples of $500, with a minimum of $1,000 and a maximum of $10,000.

Complete information and advice pertaining to this matter as well as all other veterans' problems can be obtained by visiting the office of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main street, or calling at any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson or Saugerties.

Lillian Lyons Pleads Innocent to Charge

Lillian F. Lyons was arraigned in County Court Wednesday before County Judge John M. Cashin on a charge of grand larceny, first degree, alleged to have been committed between October 1, 1951 and November 30, 1951, while an official of School District No. 16, town of Saugerties.

The indictment charged she had taken more than $500. Roger H. Loughran appeared for defendant and a plea of innocent was entered. Bail was continued and the case was moved over the term.

Since the incident, it was stated restitution had been made.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock today.

Miss Schisa Will Talk at Cleveland To National Group

Miss Esther Schisa, R.N., director of public health nursing for the Ulster County Health Department, will address one of the sessions at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Cleveland the week of Oct. 20.

Miss Schisa's talk will be on the subject of the role of the public health nurse in a community fluoridation program. It will be a part of a panel discussion entitled, Interpreting the Water Fluoridation Program to the Community, to be presented Thursday morning, Oct. 23. Thomas W. Clune, D.H.D., will preside at the session.

The American Public Health Association is a national membership organization of physicians, nurses, sanitary engineers and others professionally interested in public health work. This year's meeting, the 80th annual meeting of the association, will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, with sessions at the Public Auditorium and in the Statler Hotel.

Miss Schisa, who has been with the county health department about four years, was selected for the panel discussion by the director of public health nursing of the State Department of Health.

Eleanor Steber Opens Winter Concert Series

Eleanor Steber gave a brief interview prior to her concert last night at the Kingston High School auditorium, marking the opening of the series sponsored by The Community Concert Association. LeFever, president; and John McCullough, popular local tenor and concert presentation chairman. (Freeman photo)

Over 1,000 Music Lovers Enjoy Art in Highest Form, Met Soprano Gives Superb Performance

Art in its highest form was presented to a capacity audience of well over 1,000 music lovers last night at the Kingston High School auditorium when Eleanor Steber, soprano, Metropolitan Opera Association, opened the winter series of concerts sponsored by the Community Concert Association. The hunpdreds of listeners present, responded most excitedly to Miss Steber's superb performance. Her sympathetic and capable accompanist was James Quillian.

From the moment the distinguished artist appeared upon the platform until her final encore, the audience showed its great enthusiasm and delighted approval for the experience and privilege of hearing and seeing Miss Steber on the concert stage. Thunderous applause followed the completion of the greater number of her selections.

Gamut of Emotions

Charming and graceful, as well as gracious and vivacious, the popular star of opera, concert, television, radio and recording, ran the gamut of emotions during her well diversified program. Miss Steber will sing the role of Elsa in Wagner's Lohengrin at the Metropolitan later this season. At last night's concert, the audience was privileged to hear Elsa's Traum, wherein Elsa recounts a dream, as she stands accused of murdering her brother.

Given Ovation

The lovely aria from Madama Butterfly by Puccini, Un bel di vedremo, sung in the second act of the opera as Butterfly tries to convince her maid of Pinkerton's eventual return, received little less than an ovation for Miss Steber. The same might be said of the opera as Butterfly tries to sion when Musetta's aria from the second act of LaBoheme was sung.

Miss Steber was certainly at her best in the operatic selections included in her program and encores, which were graciously given.

Gian-Carlo Menotti's Hello, Hello from The Telephone and encores, O Whistle and I'll Come to Ye, a Scotch folk song, and a parody on Long, Long Ago, as it might have been written by Wagner, Straus, and Grieg, delighted everyone. In these and other selections, Miss Steber demonstrated her outstanding ability as an actress.

Also popular with the large audience though in a more serious vein were Debussy's Le Balcon and Nuvoletta from James Joyce's Finnegan's Wake, by Samuel Barber.

In concert and opera circles, Miss Steber has gained a reputation for her unusual stamina.

She made history at the Met last winter when she voluntarily sang two operas in one day, her debut as Desdemona in Otello in the afternoon followed by Fiordiligi in Mozart's Cosi Fan Tutte that evening. Her ever increasing repertoire now contains 24 leading operatic roles including six Mozart, four Verdi and three Puccini. In the forthcoming season, she will sing her second major Wagnerian role, that of Elsa in Lohengrin.

With Miss Steber were her husband, Captain Edwin Bilby, USAF, Miss Martha Smith who has charge of public relations for the artist; Mr. Quillian, accompanist, and William Judd of the artist management firm of Judson, O'Neill and Judd.

All American Product

Taking great pride in being "an all-American product," as Miss Steber describes herself, she told a Freeman reporter in a short interview before the concert, that she and her husband had returned to New York from Europe just two days before making the trip to this city. Unlike most American visitors to Paris, she did not return with a copious wardrobe of Parisian gowns and chapeaux. "My ensembles and concert gowns are all the products of American designers," she said, as she displayed the stunning taffeta gown worn at last night's concert. It was fashioned in charcoal and dubonnet colors, with soft touches of blue, in an off-the-shoulder neckline, molded bodice with an interesting design in net sequins, and a long bouffant skirt.

Captain Bilby, the artist said, had served for 17 months until July of this year, with U. S. Air Force, and was stationed with the Headquarters First Air Force Division at Mitchel Air Force Base. She was very happy about the latest honor bestowed upon her; namely, her contract to sing the role of Elsa in Lohengrin at the Bayreuth Festival next summer.

Born in Wheeling, W. Va., Miss Steber was faced with the unusual problem of deciding which of three careers she wished to pursue; singer, pianist or actress. She found a happy combination of all three in the field she entered under the guidance, first of her mother, and later, of William L. Whitney, under whom she studied voice at the New England Conservatory. Her career has been distinguished by many awards and citations such as twice being voted the outstanding woman singer on radio by Musical America; awarding of two Honorary Doctorates of Music, one from Florida Southern College, 1948 and the other from Ithaca College, 1951. Again in 1951, she was presented an award by the Boston Chamber of Commerce as one of twenty-five Women of Achievement in America, winning the award for her outstanding work in the field of opera.

Miss Steber Honored Following Concert

Following last night's concert at the high school auditorium, Eleanor Steber was the guest of honor at an open house party given by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever at their home in Richmond Park. Mr. LeFever is president of the Community Concert Association.

Among the 50 guests were those who accompanied Miss Steber from New York and included her husband, Captain Edwin Bilby, Miss Martha Smith, in charge of public relations for the artist; James Quillian, accompanist; and William Judd of the artist management firm of Judson, O'Neill and Judd.

Arthur Judson, manager of the New York Philharmonic, also of the Judson, O'Neill and Judd firm, and considered as the "king of artists' managers" was unfortunately unable to be present. While driving to Kingston last night, he hit a deer on the Taconic Parkway and his car was damaged beyond immediate repair.

The annual turkey dinner will be served Wednesday, Oct. 8, in the social rooms beginning at 5:30 p. m. The choir will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. at the church.

Charged With Arson

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Accused of setting fire to the living room of an apartment from which he was evicted for non-payment of rent, a Queens salesman appeared in the lineup at police headquarters today charged with arson. The suspect, Walter Burrier, 27, described himself as a graduate of Harvard University. Complainant against him was Assistant Fire Marshal Irving Rothenberg, who said Burrier had fired a room of an apartment at 69-05 210th street, Bayside, Queens, from which Burrier, his wife and a two-year-old daughter were evicted Tuesday.

Unlike most American visitors to Paris, she did not return with a copious wardrobe of Parisian gowns and chapeaux. "My ensembles and concert gowns are all the products of American designers," she said, as she displayed the stunning taffeta gown worn at last night's concert. It was fashioned in charcoal and dubonnet colors, with soft touches of blue, in an off-the-shoulder neckline, molded bodice with an interesting design in net sequins, and a long bouffant skirt.

Captain Bilby, the artist said, had served for 17 months until July of this year, with U. S. Air Force, and was stationed with the Headquarters First Air Force Division at Mitchel Air Force Base. She was very happy about the latest honor bestowed upon her; namely, her contract to sing the role of Elsa in Lohengrin at the Bayreuth Festival next summer.

Born in Wheeling, W. Va., Miss Steber was faced with the unusual problem of deciding which of three careers she wished to pursue; singer, pianist or actress. She found a happy combination of all three in the field she entered under the guidance, first of her mother, and later, of William L. Whitney, under whom she studied voice at the New England Conservatory. Her career has been distinguished by many awards and citations such as twice being voted the outstanding woman singer on radio by Musical America; awarding of two Honorary Doctorates of Music, one from Florida Southern College, 1948 and the other from Ithaca College, 1951. Again in 1951, she was presented an award by the Boston Chamber of Commerce as one of twenty-five Women of Achievement in America, winning the award for her outstanding work in the field of opera.

Miss Steber Honored Following Concert

Following last night's concert at the high school auditorium, Eleanor Steber was the guest of honor at an open house party given by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever at their home in Richmond Park. Mr. LeFever is president of the Community Concert Association.

Among the 50 guests were those who accompanied Miss Steber from New York and included her husband, Captain Edwin Bilby, Miss Martha Smith, in charge of public relations for the artist; James Quillian, accompanist; and William Judd of the artist management firm of Judson, O'Neill and Judd.

Arthur Judson, manager of the New York Philharmonic, also of the Judson, O'Neill and Judd firm, and considered as the "king of artists' managers" was unfortunately unable to be present. While driving to Kingston last night, he hit a deer on the Taconic Parkway and his car was damaged beyond immediate repair.

Charged With Arson

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Accused of setting fire to the living room of an apartment from which he was evicted for non-payment of rent, a Queens salesman appeared in the lineup at police headquarters today charged with arson. The suspect, Walter Burrier, 27, described himself as a graduate of Harvard University. Complainant against him was Assistant Fire Marshal Irving Rothenberg, who said Burrier had fired a room of an apartment at 69-05 210th street, Bayside, Queens, from which Burrier, his wife and a two-year-old daughter were evicted Tuesday.

Hunter, 16, Shot Stalking Blackbird

Leonia, N. J., Oct. 2 (AP)—The 16-year-old son of a noted physicist who worked on the famed Manhattan atom bomb project was shot dead last night while on a blackbird hunting expedition with four chums.

Police Chief Patrick Clarkin tentatively listed the death of Michael Boorse, son of Professor and Mrs. Henry Boorse, as accidental pending a further investigation.

The boy died of a shotgun blast in the right eye while en route to nearby Englewood Hospital in an ambulance shortly before 6 p. m.

Four of young Boorse's friends who were stalking blackbirds with him in the Leonia meadows when the shooting occured were questioned by Clarkin. He did not release their names because of their ages. Two are 15; one 16; the other 13.

Young Boorse and the three older boys carried .12 and .16 gauge shotguns, Clarkin said, and all had licenses to hunt. The youngest lad tagged along to watch. It was not immediately determined whose gun fired the fatal blast. A ballistics report is expected today.

The elder Boorse is an associate professor of physics at Barnard College and Columbia University in New York.

112 New Polio Cases Reported Upstate

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP) — A total of 112 new cases of polio was reported in upstate New York last week, eight more than in the preceding week, the state health department reported today.

In the corresponding week last year, 51 new cases were listed.

The new cases brought to 1,083 the total reported so far this year. In the comparable period of 1951 there were 792.

The health department said available information indicated a death rate of about 4 per cent, or about average.

To Help Handicapped

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Gov. Dewey says employment of the handicapped is essential "not only to the individual but to the community at large." The governor yesterday proclaimed Oct. 5-12 as "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" in New York state and urged greater effort to find jobs for disabled persons.

Health for All

Shingles

Can you take a disease with such an absurd name as shingles seriously? You should. Even the mildest case is distressing and keeps the victim away from his ordinary activities. A severe case is extremely painful and sometimes dangerous.

Shingles is the common name for herpes zoster, a virus disease, in which groups of small blisters appear usually around the trunk, grouped like a girdle. Researchers think the virus may be the same or closely related to chicken pox virus. The disease seems to occur in epidemic form in the fall and in the spring. The clusters of blisters follow the path of the sensory nerves, so physicians believe the virus enters the nervous system and directly attacks a ganglion, a mass of nerve tissue containing nerve cells. Although it usually appears around the midriff, it can also attack the arms, legs, head, and face.

The fever that comes with the onset of shingles and lasts three to five days is almost a minor matter to the patient. It is the pain, anywhere from moderate to agonizing, that is the worst problem. And there is the almost constant temptation to rub and scratch at the blisters. This may cause infection, delay in healing, and serious scarring.

If added infection does not occur, shingles usually clears up by itself and leaves nothing but an almost unnoticeable scarring. There is one cheerful aspect to the disease—you can have it only once. One attack will protect you for the rest of your life.

Do not hesitate to go to your doctor with a case of shingles. Don't try to laugh it off. The doctor may prescribe a drug to shorten the course of the disease and reduce pain. He will be able to advise other ways of making you more comfortable.

Most people recover from shingles, but it may have serious consequences when it attacks the face and head. Blindness can be the result if the disease follows the nerve close to the eye or enters the deeper structures of the eye. The virus can penetrate the central nervous system and produce inflammation of the brain, or encephalitis. Although this is rare, the doctor is always on the alert for the possibility.

Shingles may have serious after effects on elderly people. Often, the pain stays on after the attack subsides. It may be acute or dull, continuous or just now and then. Medical science does not know the cause of this strange phenomenon, nor has it a completely satisfactory way of relieving the pain over a long period of time. An operation to cut the nerves may be tried, but it is not always successful. An older person will do well to keep away from children with chicken pox, although the relationship between the two diseases is not certain.

Good health is the best preventive against shingles, as it is against the invasion of any other infection.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Marianas to Get Settlers

Guam (AP) — An attempt will be made soon to return human life to four uninhabited islands of the Marianas chain which stretches northward from Guam. Fifty families on Saipan Island in the southern part of the chain are going to homestead on the tiny northern islands. The Marianas, administered by the United States under United Nations trusteeship, were ruled by the Japanese until ousted by the United States forces in World War 2. The Japanese exported copra from the islands, and it is expected that the new settlers will add goats and pigs to the list.

MODENA

Modena, Oct. 1—The faculty of the Wallkill Centralized School District, of which Modena is a unit, will serve a ham supper at the school Wednesday, Oct. 8, at 5:30 and 7 p. m. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

Gerald DeWitt, recently stationed with the army at West Point, received his discharge. Mr. DeWitt and his wife and children are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Harcourt. Mrs. DeWitt is the former Miss Shelby Harcourt.

Mrs. Anna Miller spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mason Rose in Clintondale.

Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker has returned from Goshen Hospital at Goshen where she underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roosa and daughter, Joan, spent the weekend at Lake Pleasant in the Adirondacks with Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ellis.

Mrs. Grace Alsdorf accompanied relatives to the Catskill Game Farm Sunday.

Health for All

Shingles

Can you take a disease with such an absurd name as shingles seriously? You should. Even the mildest case is distressing and keeps the victim away from his ordinary activities. A severe case is extremely painful and sometimes dangerous.

Shingles is the common name for herpes zoster, a virus disease, in which groups of small blisters appear usually around the trunk, grouped like a girdle. Researchers think the virus may be the same or closely related to chicken pox virus. The disease seems to occur in epidemic form in the fall and in the spring. The clusters of blisters follow the path of the sensory nerves, so physicians believe the virus enters the nervous system and directly attacks a ganglion, a mass of nerve tissue containing nerve cells. Although it usually appears around the midriff, it can also attack the arms, legs, head, and face.

The fever that comes with the onset of shingles and lasts three to five days is almost a minor matter to the patient. It is the pain, anywhere from moderate to agonizing, that is the worst problem. And there is the almost constant temptation to rub and scratch at the blisters. This may cause infection, delay in healing, and serious scarring.

If added infection does not occur, shingles usually clears up by itself and leaves nothing but an almost unnoticeable scarring. There is one cheerful aspect to the disease—you can have it only once. One attack will protect you for the rest of your life.

Do not hesitate to go to your doctor with a case of shingles. Don't try to laugh it off. The doctor may prescribe a drug to shorten the course of the disease and reduce pain. He will be able to advise other ways of making you more comfortable.

Most people recover from shingles, but it may have serious consequences when it attacks the face and head. Blindness can be the result if the disease follows the nerve close to the eye or enters the deeper structures of the eye. The virus can penetrate the central nervous system and produce inflammation of the brain, or encephalitis. Although this is rare, the doctor is always on the alert for the possibility.

Shingles may have serious after effects on elderly people. Often, the pain stays on after the attack subsides. It may be acute or dull, continuous or just now and then. Medical science does not know the cause of this strange phenomenon, nor has it a completely satisfactory way of relieving the pain over a long period of time. An operation to cut the nerves may be tried, but it is not always successful. An older person will do well to keep away from children with chicken pox, although the relationship between the two diseases is not certain.

Good health is the best preventive against shingles, as it is against the invasion of any other infection.

Marianas to Get Settlers

Guam (AP) — An attempt will be made soon to return human life to four uninhabited islands of the Marianas chain which stretches northward from Guam. Fifty families on Saipan Island in the southern part of the chain are going to homestead on the tiny northern islands. The Marianas, administered by the United States under United Nations trusteeship, were ruled by the Japanese until ousted by the United States forces in World War 2. The Japanese exported copra from the islands, and it is expected that the new settlers will add goats and pigs to the list.

MODENA

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday at the residence, 37 Vanderbeck Place, Hackensack, with burial in Hackensack.

Anna Mahoney Raichle

Mrs. Anna Mahoney Raichle, wife of the late Gustave Raichle, died Wednesday evening, following a long illness. Mrs. Raichle was born in the Ponckhockie section of the city, the daughter of the late John and Mary Geary Mahoney. Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Burley, of East Orange, N. J. and Mrs. John Doolin of this city, and a nephew John J. Doolin of Kingston. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, and at St. Mary's Church 9:30 a. m. where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Kerr

Mrs. Emma A. Kerr of 113 Wall street, who was admitted to the Benedictine Hospital early Wednesday for treatment following a heart attack, died Wednesday night. Mrs. Kerr was the widow of the Rev. Grenville Eugene Kerr. She is survived by two step-daughters, Mrs. Celeste Bryant of White Plains and Mrs. John T. Thomas, Dolgeville; and a first cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Ralley, Perrine, Fla. Mrs. Kerr was born in Franklin Square Delaware county, the daughter of the late Alexander and Celeste Wedger Scott. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Burial will be in Franklin.

Francis X. Fitz Gerald

The funeral of Francis X. Fitz Gerald, well-known city employe, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John D. Simmons. Many relatives and friends from Kingston and Lomontville attended the services to pay a final tribute of respect to his memory. The children's choir sang the hymn, Pie Jesu Domonie, at the offertory and following the last blessing they sang, Out of the Depths. Tuesday evening members of the Lomontville Fire Company called to pay their respects and Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. James V. Keating led in recitation of the Holy Rosary for the repose of his soul. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly also called and recited prayers for the dead. There were many Mass cards and beautiful floral pieces banked about the casket in the chapel. Bearers were John Parslow, Leon Guillon, Raymond Temple, John Buzzanco, Clifford Parslow and Augustus DiMeo. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, where the Rev. Father Keating gave the final absolution at the grave.

Fire Damages House

A vacant house owned by Edward Thomas on Guyton street, town of Ulster, was damaged by fire last night. Ulster Hose Company was called at 8:28 p. m. The blaze, of undetermined origin, damaged the interior, roof and siding of the one-story structure. Mrs. Thomas said heat had been left on in the house while preparations were being made to rent it.

STONE RIDGE

Vernon E. Beatty, well-known turkey grower, is reported to be improving at his home after a recent illness.

Paper Plates Are Wife Savers

SLIP PAPER PLATES onto candied apple sticks to save your youngsters' clothing and anything they may touch from smears.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We use a lot of those new paper plates. They cut down dishwashing, give my wife more time—make everyone happier. Good looking, some of them with plastic surfaces for serving hot foods on, they save about 14½ hours a week of work.

For a career woman they would save about 7¼ dishwashing hours a week. Now you can understand.

Our husky boy likes candied apples on a stick. His mother makes them for him and serves them on a paper plate. He slips the plate up the apple stick. Lots of fun but no extra dishwashing or sticky clothes.

Candied Apples-On-a-Stick
(Makes 6 apples)

Six medium-sized apples, 6 wooden skewers, 2 cups sugar, 1/3 cup light corn syrup, ¾ cup water, ¼ cup lemon juice.

Wash and dry apples; insert skewer in stem end of each apple. In a saucepan, combine sugar, corn syrup, water and lemon juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture begins to boil. Continue cooking without stirring until mixture reaches hard crack stage (300 degrees F.).

While syrup is cooking, occasionally wipe sugar crystals from sides of saucepan with fork wrapped in clean, damp cloth. Holding apple by skewer, dip it quickly into hot syrup, covering entirely. Remove and twist to spread syrup evenly. Place upright in rack or on buttered baking sheet to cool.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-cooked eggs, raisin toast, butter or margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tuna and celery sandwiches, toasted cheese sandwiches, candied apples on a stick, tea, milk.

DINNER: Poached filet of sole, parsley potato balls, broiled tomato halves with chopped green pepper and onion, crisp rolls, butter or margarine, romaine salad, French dressing, grape and orange cup, coffee, milk.

Erskine, Raschi

right and able to play. He pinch hit yesterday.

The Brooklyn batting order remained unchanged from yesterday.

The lineups:

Yankees	Dodgers
Bauer, rf	Cox, 3b
Rizzuto, ss	Reese, ss
Mantle, cf	Snider, cf
Woodling, lf	Robinson, 2b
Berra, c	Campanella, c
Collins, 1b	Pafko, lf
McDougald, 3b	Hodges, 1b
Martin, 2b	Furillo, rf
Raschi, p	Erskine, p

Umpires — Passarella (AL) plate; Goetz (NL) first base; McKinley (AL) second base; Pinelli (NL) third base; Honochick (AL) and Boggess (NL) foul lines.

At 11:27 a. m., EST, a shower swept across the field, sending the players running for cover. The groundskeepers hurriedly spread tarpaulins over the infield, but they hardly had finished when the rain let up.

First inning Yankees:

The first pitch to Bauer was a fast ball by Erskine down middle for called strike. After a 2-2 count Bauer dropped Texas League single between Snider, Furillo.

With a count of 3 and 1 on Rizzuto, Yankees attempted hit-run play. Rizzuto, however, swung, missed; Bauer was easy out at second, Campanella to Robinson.

Rizzuto drew base on balls on next pitch.

Billy Loes, young righthander, started warming up in Dodger bullpen.

Mantle struck out, swinging at fast ball.

With a 2-strike count on Woodling, Rizzuto lit out for second but was cut down on fine throw by Campanella to Reese.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

First Inning Dodgers

Rizzuto gobbled up Cox's slow grounder, threw him out.

Reese flied to Bauer in short right.

Snider looked at third straight strike.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second inning Yankees:

Woodling walked on full count.

Collins struck out on three pitches, looking at third strike.

McDougald also struck out, missing high fast ball.

Reese came in fast for Martin's slow roller and whipped him out at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Second Inning Dodgers

Robinson drew base on balls to become first Dodger to reach base.

Campanella rapped sharply to Collins who made unassisted put-out at first as Robinson, who had gotten good jump, raced into second.

Pafko flied deep to Bauer, Robinson advancing to third after catch.

Raschi, apparently bothered by Robinson's prancing down third baseline, threw three balls to Hodges, and finally walked him on five pitches.

Robinson continued to rattle Raschi with his antics on baseline, giving the capacity crowd thrill.

The harried pitcher finally walked Furillo on full count, causing Manager Stengel to emerge from visitors' dugout for brief conference on mound.

Pitcher Erskine came to bat with bases loaded, and hit the first pitch in straightaway center to Mantle for third out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, three left.

Third inning Yankees:

Erskine, still troubled with his control, walked Raschi on five pitches.

Reese raced to his right for Bauer's sharp grounder, whipped to Robinson to force Raschi at second and Robinson relayed to first to double up Bauer.

Reese backed up for Rizzuto's high hopper and tossed him out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Dodgers

Cox was called out on strikes.

Reese lined a single into left-center for Dodgers' first hit.

Snider caught Yankees flatfooted, laying down perfect bunt inside third baseline and crossed bag without even drawing throw.

Reese stopped at second on safety.

Robinson slapped one-bouncer to Collins who threw to Rizzuto forcing Snider at second as Reese advanced to third. Snider accidentally spiked Rizzuto on right foot as he slid into second; time was taken out to examine the extent of the injury. Injury was not serious; Rizzuto returned to his position.

Campanella smacked a ground single between third and short into left field scoring Reese with first run of game, sending Robinson to second.

Pafko struck out, swinging at slow breaking curve.

Stained in the Wood

Chicago (AP) — The difficulty of showing the exact colors of wood stains as they appear on various woods has been solved by a Chicago paint and stain manufacturer (Martin-Senour) by publishing a color folder containing 60 individual wood chips stained in various colors. The different effects obtained by the same color stain on typical interior woods in contrast to exterior cedar is shown by duplicating 20 of the colors on the two types of woods. The cost of preparing the eight-page advertising folder was so great that it is sold for $1.50 per copy.

Ralph J. Constable, 55, formerly of Kingston, died October 1 in Hackensack, N. J. He is survived by his widow, Katherine Braley Constable, and one son, Ralph Gordon, both of Hackensack. Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday at the residence, 37 Vanderbeck Place, Hackensack, with burial in Hackensack.

Anna Mahoney Raichle

Mrs. Anna Mahoney Raichle, wife of the late Gustave Raichle, died Wednesday evening, following a long illness. Mrs. Raichle was born in the Ponckhockie section of the city, the daughter of the late John and Mary Geary Mahoney. Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Burley, of East Orange, N. J. and Mrs. John Doolin of this city, and a nephew John J. Doolin of Kingston. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, and at St. Mary's Church 9:30 a. m. where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Kerr

Mrs. Emma A. Kerr of 113 Wall street, who was admitted to the Benedictine Hospital early Wednesday for treatment following a heart attack, died Wednesday night. Mrs. Kerr was the widow of the Rev. Grenville Eugene Kerr. She is survived by two step-daughters, Mrs. Celeste Bryant of White Plains and Mrs. John T. Thomas, Dolgeville; and a first cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Ralley, Perrine, Fla. Mrs. Kerr was born in Franklin Square Delaware county, the daughter of the late Alexander and Celeste Wedger Scott. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Burial will be in Franklin.

Francis X. Fitz Gerald

The funeral of Francis X. Fitz Gerald, well-known city employe, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John D. Simmons. Many relatives and friends from Kingston and Lomontville attended the services to pay a final tribute of respect to his memory. The children's choir sang the hymn, Pie Jesu Domonie, at the offertory and following the last blessing they sang, Out of the Depths. Tuesday evening members of the Lomontville Fire Company called to pay their respects and Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. James V. Keating led in recitation of the Holy Rosary for the repose of his soul. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly also called and recited prayers for the dead. There were many Mass cards and beautiful floral pieces banked about the casket in the chapel. Bearers were John Parslow, Leon Guillon, Raymond Temple, John Buzzanco, Clifford Parslow and Augustus DiMeo. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, where the Rev. Father Keating gave the final absolution at the grave.

Fire Damages House

A vacant house owned by Edward Thomas on Guyton street, town of Ulster, was damaged by fire last night. Ulster Hose Company was called at 8:28 p. m. The blaze, of undetermined origin, damaged the interior, roof and siding of the one-story structure. Mrs. Thomas said heat had been left on in the house while preparations were being made to rent it.

STONE RIDGE

Vernon E. Beatty, well-known turkey grower, is reported to be improving at his home after a recent illness.

Paper Plates Are Wife Savers

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We use a lot of those new paper plates. They cut down dishwashing, give my wife more time—make everyone happier. Good looking, some of them with plastic surfaces for serving hot foods on, they save about 14½ hours a week of work.

For a career woman they would save about 7¼ dishwashing hours a week. Now you can understand.

Our husky boy likes candied apples on a stick. His mother makes them for him and serves them on a paper plate. He slips the plate up the apple stick. Lots of fun but no extra dishwashing or sticky clothes.

Candied Apples-On-a-Stick
(Makes 6 apples)

Six medium-sized apples, 6 wooden skewers, 2 cups sugar, 1/3 cup light corn syrup, ¾ cup water, ¼ cup lemon juice.

Wash and dry apples; insert skewer in stem end of each apple. In a saucepan, combine sugar, corn syrup, water and lemon juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture begins to boil. Continue cooking without stirring until mixture reaches hard crack stage (300 degrees F.).

While syrup is cooking, occasionally wipe sugar crystals from sides of saucepan with fork wrapped in clean, damp cloth. Holding apple by skewer, dip it quickly into hot syrup, covering entirely. Remove and twist to spread syrup evenly. Place upright in rack or on buttered baking sheet to cool.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-cooked eggs, raisin toast, butter or margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tuna and celery sandwiches, toasted cheese sandwiches, candied apples on a stick, tea, milk.

DINNER: Poached filet of sole, parsley potato balls, broiled tomato halves with chopped green pepper and onion, crisp rolls, butter or margarine, romaine salad, French dressing, grape and orange cup, coffee, milk.

Mrs. Peter Becht is visiting relatives in New York. Paul Newkirk and family of Saugerties visited Mrs. John Relyea Tuesday evening.

Erskine, Raschi

right and able to play. He pinch hit yesterday.

The Brooklyn batting order remained unchanged from yesterday.

The lineups:

Yankees	Dodgers
Bauer, rf	Cox, 3b
Rizzuto, ss	Reese, ss
Mantle, cf	Snider, cf
Woodling, lf	Robinson, 2b
Berra, c	Campanella, c
Collins, 1b	Pafko, lf
McDougald, 3b	Hodges, 1b
Martin, 2b	Furillo, rf
Raschi, p	Erskine, p

Umpires — Passarella (AL) plate; Goetz (NL) first base; McKinley (AL) second base; Pinelli (NL) third base; Honochick (AL) and Boggess (NL) foul lines.

At 11:27 a. m., EST, a shower swept across the field, sending the players running for cover. The groundskeepers hurriedly spread tarpaulins over the infield, but they hardly had finished when the rain let up.

First inning Yankees:

The first pitch to Bauer was a fast ball by Erskine down middle for called strike. After a 2-2 count Bauer dropped Texas League single between Snider, Furillo.

With a count of 3 and 1 on Rizzuto, Yankees attempted hit-run play. Rizzuto, however, swung, missed; Bauer was easy out at second, Campanella to Robinson.

Rizzuto drew base on balls on next pitch.

Billy Loes, young righthander, started warming up in Dodger bullpen.

Mantle struck out, swinging at fast ball.

With a 2-strike count on Woodling, Rizzuto lit out for second but was cut down on fine throw by Campanella to Reese.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

First Inning Dodgers

Rizzuto gobbled up Cox's slow grounder, threw him out.

Reese flied to Bauer in short right.

Snider looked at third straight strike.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second inning Yankees:

Woodling walked on full count.

Berra stroked long single to right-center, Woodling racing to third.

Collins struck out on three pitches, looking at third strike.

McDougald also struck out, missing high fast ball.

Reese came in fast for Martin's slow roller and whipped him out at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Second Inning Dodgers

Robinson drew base on balls to become first Dodger to reach base.

Campanella rapped sharply to Collins who made unassisted put-out at first as Robinson, who had gotten good jump, raced into second.

Pafko flied deep to Bauer, Robinson advancing to third after catch.

Raschi, apparently bothered by Robinson's prancing down third baseline, threw three balls to Hodges, and finally walked him on five pitches.

Robinson continued to rattle Raschi with his antics on baseline, giving the capacity crowd thrill.

The harried pitcher finally walked Furillo on full count, causing Manager Stengel to emerge from visitors' dugout for brief conference on mound.

Pitcher Erskine came to bat with bases loaded, and hit the first pitch in straightaway center to Mantle for third out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, three left.

Third inning Yankees:

Erskine, still troubled with his control, walked Raschi on five pitches.

Reese raced to his right for Bauer's sharp grounder, whipped to Robinson to force Raschi at second and Robinson relayed to first to double up Bauer.

Reese backed up for Rizzuto's high hopper and tossed him out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Dodgers

Cox was called out on strikes.

Reese lined a single into left-center for Dodgers' first hit.

Snider caught Yankees flatfooted, laying down perfect bunt inside third baseline and crossed bag without even drawing throw.

Reese stopped at second on safety.

Robinson slapped one-bouncer to Collins who threw to Rizzuto forcing Snider at second as Reese advanced to third. Snider accidentally spiked Rizzuto on right foot as he slid into second; time was taken out to examine the extent of the injury. Injury was not serious; Rizzuto returned to his position.

Campanella smacked a ground single between third and short into left field scoring Reese with first run of game, sending Robinson to second.

Pafko struck out, swinging at slow breaking curve.

One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Stained in the Wood

Chicago (AP) — The difficulty of showing the exact colors of wood stains as they appear on various woods has been solved by a Chicago paint and stain manufacturer (Martin-Senour) by publishing a color folder containing 60 individual wood chips stained in various colors. The different effects obtained by the same color stain on typical interior woods in contrast to exterior cedar is shown by duplicating 20 of the colors on the two types of woods. The cost of preparing the eight-page advertising folder was so great that it is sold for $1.50 per copy.

Workers to Vote On Affiliation

An agreement to hold an election Oct. 14 to determine whether the Furniture and Millworkers Local Union 1545, AFL, will remain with that organization or go with the CIO, was decided upon today at a meeting in the Pilgrim Furniture Company building.

The CIO has made the claim that it represents the majority of the workers involved, and the AFL has represented the group since 1946. The local union is affiliated with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

The United Furniture Workers of America CIO is making the claim to representing the majority.

The meeting today was conducted by Sidney Levy. Those present included Charles Cina, organizer of the CIO group; Harry Weinstock, attorney for the organization; Edwin Hanley, president of the local AFL group, and George E. Yerry, Jr., also representing that group. Management was represented by L. Kenneth Mayer, labor relations man.

The election Oct. 14 will be between 4 and 5 p. m.

General Gets . . .

across the state yesterday, said he was convinced the people had turned out in large numbers at each whistle-stop because they intend to vote for Eisenhower.

Not Merely Curious

"If they were just curious—just out to see a national hero," Ferguson said, "they wouldn't have been as responsive as they were. The response convinces me they intend to vote for him.

In eight stops, more than 100,000 people came to cheer the GOP candidate even though there was a threat of rain most of the day. But lead-gray skies failed to dampen the enthusiasm or keep them at home.

Eisenhower didn't mention President Truman by name in any of his speeches yesterday. But time after time he hit back with sharp criticism of the President who has set out on his whistle-stop campaign to hammer at the Eisenhower prestige.

He told a crowd at Lansing, the state capital:

"We are determined to pursue in the foreign field a comprehensive, firm, broad policy that will truly lead toward peace. We think there has been enough frittering around, enough indecision and enough failures in that field in the last seven years."

By limiting this criticism to the past seven years — Eisenhower was hitting directly at Truman who went into the White House after the death of President Roosevelt in 1945.

But while the central theme of these talks revolved around foreign policy, the general sprayed the field with his criticisms—hitting at high taxes, inflation, corruption in government, and the leadership in Washington.

He told each audience much the same thing he told the cheering throng at Lansing: "All that this new (Republican) administration can promise to you when this crusade has become a success is that it will approach every single problem from the standpoint of the welfare of 155 million people.

"No one section, no one class, no one group can profit at the expense of anybody else. What is good for America—that is all that can be promised. Because everything else has been promised and most of those promises were no good anyway."

62 Quit Fraternity

Albany, Oct. 2 (AP)—The 62 members of a fraternity chapter at Albany State Teachers College have quit the organization on the ground national headquarters discriminated against five Jewish students. John Zongrone, a junior from Chester who was president of Gamma Chapter, Kappa Delta Rho, said today the national fraternity had returned the membership applications and initiation fees of five Jews pledged by the local chapter two years ago.

Sweet Potatoes

Your family will get lots of good food energy from sweet potatoes. In addition they are a rich source of vitamin A, furnish worthwhile amounts of vitamin C, and also provide small quantities of the B vitamins and essential minerals.

Workers to Vote On Affiliation

An agreement to hold an election Oct. 14 to determine whether the Furniture and Millworkers Local Union 1545, AFL, will remain with that organization or go with the CIO, was decided upon today at a meeting in the Pilgrim Furniture Company building.

The CIO has made the claim that it represents the majority of the workers involved, and the AFL has represented the group since 1946. The local union is affiliated with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

The United Furniture Workers of America CIO is making the claim to representing the majority.

The meeting today was conducted by Sidney Levy. Those present included Charles Cina, organizer of the CIO group; Harry Weinstock, attorney for the organization; Edwin Hanley, president of the local AFL group, and George E. Yerry, Jr., also representing that group. Management was represented by L. Kenneth Mayer, labor relations man.

The election Oct. 14 will be between 4 and 5 p. m.

General Gets . . .

across the state yesterday, said he was convinced the people had turned out in large numbers at each whistle-stop because they intend to vote for Eisenhower.

Not Merely Curious

"If they were just curious—just out to see a national hero," Ferguson said, "they wouldn't have been as responsive as they were. The response convinces me they intend to vote for him.

In eight stops, more than 100,000 people came to cheer the GOP candidate even though there was a threat of rain most of the day. But lead-gray skies failed to dampen the enthusiasm or keep them at home.

Eisenhower didn't mention President Truman by name in any of his speeches yesterday. But time after time he hit back with sharp criticism of the President who has set out on his whistle-stop campaign to hammer at the Eisenhower prestige.

He told a crowd at Lansing, the state capital:

"We are determined to pursue in the foreign field a comprehensive, firm, broad policy that will truly lead toward peace. We think there has been enough frittering around, enough indecision and enough failures in that field in the last seven years."

By limiting this criticism to the past seven years — Eisenhower was hitting directly at Truman who went into the White House after the death of President Roosevelt in 1945.

But while the central theme of these talks revolved around foreign policy, the general sprayed the field with his criticisms—hitting at high taxes, inflation, corruption in government, and the leadership in Washington.

He told each audience much the same thing he told the cheering throng at Lansing: "All that this new (Republican) administration can promise to you when this crusade has become a success is that it will approach every single problem from the standpoint of the welfare of 155 million people.

"No one section, no one class, no one group can profit at the expense of anybody else. What is good for America—that is all that can be promised. Because everything else has been promised and most of those promises were no good anyway."

62 Quit Fraternity

Albany, Oct. 2 (AP)—The 62 members of a fraternity chapter at Albany State Teachers College have quit the organization on the ground national headquarters discriminated against five Jewish students. John Zongrone, a junior from Chester who was president of Gamma Chapter, Kappa Delta Rho, said today the national fraternity had returned the membership applications and initiation fees of five Jews pledged by the local chapter two years ago.

Institute for Nurses Main Project of Cancer Program

The highlight of this year's projects was probably the Cancer Teaching Institute for Ulster county nurses, said Mrs. Margaret N. Van Wagenen, executive director, in her report on activities of Ulster County Branch, American Cancer Society.

The branch had a busy year, according to Mrs. Van Wagenen, who pointed out that "There is never a time when there is not important work ahead, and the aim of the executive director is to accomplish as much as possible."

Relative to the teaching institute for nurses, the executive director remarked that the past year was the first a plan of the kind was undertaken, although she had had it in mind for several years.

Official Report

Mrs. Van Wagenen's official report continues as follows:

Early in 1952 I sought the cooperation of the Ulster County Health Department for I knew they would have a list of the nurses and would be able to help in the planning. Dr. Broad, commissioner of health, and Miss Schisa, director of public health nurses, were both interested and exceedingly helpful. There were two sessions and we had 240 in attendance. One nurse came from Troy, three from Columbia county and five from Sullivan county. These nurses had heard about the institute at a regional meeting. Our speakers were Dr. Breed from Memorial Hospital, New York, Dr. Gerhardt and Miss Flemming from Albany and Dr. Grover of Kingston. Nursing care demonstrations were given by Miss Zanni and Miss Keating, instructors in nursing at the Benedictine Hospital. Judging from the letters of appreciation that came in afterward, it was considered a worthwhile project.

One other meeting was planned and arranged. It was the Investment Day Program, a meeting which we hold every year to indoctrinate the new volunteers and to stimulate the interest of those who have been associated with us for longer. At this meeting the new materials were exhibited and explained and the new films shown. We had two state speakers and three of our own doctors took part in the program. This was an all-day meeting with a luncheon at noon.

Literature is distributed through the mail, public libraries, at the Lions Club Exposition and the county fair. Fourteen hundred of our tallies were used. The Girl Scouts cooperated in placing cancer leaflets in the doctors' offices and 15,000 were distributed by the Boy Scouts in a house to house movement in the county areas. Dispensers, which are racks for literature, are kept filled in each township by the town chairman. A number of industrial plants were visited last year by volunteers of the Field Army. They sought the cooperation of the management in distributing a leaflet to every worker. Other plants will be visited this year in this effort to inform all workers of the Seven Danger Signals. All in all, 74,113 flyers were circulated.

23 Doctors as Speakers

We have 23 doctors in our Speakers' Bureau and they have spoken at 48 meetings to combined audiences of 1,554. The executive director made eight addresses to 303 persons. Her talks covered the work which is being done in the county by our volunteers.

Breast Self-Examination was shown 26 times and other cancer films 41 times. At each showing of the Breast Self-Examination film a doctor was present to answer questions.

The school program which has been carried on for several years in the state college and the high schools of the county will be expanded in the year ahead. All high school principals are being contacted now and the new materials which we have for this purpose are being shown and discussed. The response so far as been gratifying.

We have two large exhibits, one of which is electrified. These were placed in 17 different places in the county.

Radio, Press Help

Through the cooperation of WKNY three 15-minute programs were arranged in which two doctors and three volunteers participated. Spot announcements are used extensively, especially during the campaign, and 15-minute transcriptions known as Life's Fuller Measure were broadcast. Another series known as But Where Today has been promised for the fall. Bob Browning assisted us in making an appeal for old linen for the cancer dressing program.

The Kingston Daily Freeman and the News Leader together with the other papers throughout the county have given us full support not only during the campaign but throughout the year.

The smoking survey brought the volunteers for the first time into the research program. The executive director appointed Mrs. Edwin Shumate chairman of this project. She attended a state meeting to hear the matter discussed and the plans for its execution. Upon her return, she was introduced to the city and township chairmen who cooperated with her in this movement. It is a pleasure to report that Ulster county was the first to complete this project.

28 Patients Assisted

The service program includes transportation, making cancer dressings and home service.

Ninety-six trips have been made and 28 patients helped in this manner.

We have two cancer dressing loan closets; one in the Tumor Clinic and one in Marlborough. During the past year 11,105 dressings have been distributed and 31 patients helped by this service.

Home service takes the volunteer into the homes to visit, read or stay with the patient while the family has a little recreation. Sometimes the patient is presented with a jigsaw puzzle or a bouquet of flowers. Four volunteers have rendered this service during the past year.

Raised $12,643.27

Our quota for the 1952 Cancer Drive was $13,000. Herman G. Rafalowsky was appointed chairman. There were several other drives in progress at the same time and he had other difficulties with which to contend. However, $12,643.27 was raised, only $356 short of our goal.

In closing this report, I wish to thank the doctors who have so generously given of their time to speak at meetings, the city and town chairmen and their committees for their untiring efforts in behalf of the educational program and the campaign, to WKNY and the press for their cooperation, to Bob Browning for his appeals for help, and to all others who have in any way shown interest in the cancer program. . . . Margaret N. Van Wagenen, executive director.

Nixon Says HST's

is down for 62 speeches in the next two weeks. He is flying to Bristol, Danville and Norfolk today. Tomorrow's schedule takes him into Maryland and Wilmington, Del.

Asks Support for GOP

Nixon told his Alexandria audience of about 1,000 that he is certain Virginia Democrats will join with party members in California, Texas, Oklahoma, Tennessee—which either register or vote Democratic—to "throw the Truman Democrats out." Virginia last voted Republican in 1928, when Herbert Hoover ran against Alfred E. Smith.

The Republican nominee made only a veiled reference to the political commotion over his $18,235 expense fund, remarking at the outset:

"We have witnessed a diversionary action by our opponents in the big battle."

Speaks of Smears

But he added pointedly, "it did not meet with the success they planned. There will be other attempts to divert us by smokescreen and smear."

Nixon spoke of "Hary Truman's monstrous attempt" to blame administration failures abroad on Gen. Eisenhower, calling it "the most vicious smear in history."

He looked up from his prepared text and snapped: "Why that piano-playing letter writer!"

The crowd in the Virginia city just across the Potomac from Washington applauded. There were a few rebel yells.

The service program includes transportation, making cancer dressings and home service.

Ninety-six trips have been made and 28 patients helped in this manner.

We have two cancer dressing loan closets; one in the Tumor Clinic and one in Marlborough. During the past year 11,105 dressings have been distributed and 31 patients helped by this service.

Home service takes the volunteer into the homes to visit, read or stay with the patient while the family has a little recreation. Sometimes the patient is presented with a jigsaw puzzle or a bouquet of flowers. Four volunteers have rendered this service during the past year.

Raised $12,643.27

Our quota for the 1952 Cancer Drive was $13,000. Herman G. Rafalowsky was appointed chairman. There were several other drives in progress at the same time and he had other difficulties with which to contend. However, $12,643.27 was raised, only $356 short of our goal.

In closing this report, I wish to thank the doctors who have so generously given of their time to speak at meetings, the city and town chairmen and their committees for their untiring efforts in behalf of the educational program and the campaign, to WKNY and the press for their cooperation, to Bob Browning for his appeals for help, and to all others who have in any way shown interest in the cancer program. . . . Margaret N. Van Wagenen, executive director.

Nixon Says HST's

is down for 62 speeches in the next two weeks. He is flying to Bristol, Danville and Norfolk today. Tomorrow's schedule takes him into Maryland and Wilmington, Del.

Asks Support for GOP

Nixon told his Alexandria audience of about 1,000 that he is certain Virginia Democrats will join with party members in California, Texas, Oklahoma, Tennessee—which either register or vote Democratic—to "throw the Truman Democrats out." Virginia last voted Republican in 1928, when Herbert Hoover ran against Alfred E. Smith.

The Republican nominee made only a veiled reference to the political commotion over his $18,235 expense fund, remarking at the outset:

"We have witnessed a diversionary action by our opponents in the big battle."

Speaks of Smears

But he added pointedly, "it did not meet with the success they planned. There will be other attempts to divert us by smoke-screen and smear."

Nixon spoke of "Hary Truman's monstrous attempt" to blame administration failures abroad on Gen. Eisenhower, calling it "the most vicious smear in history."

He looked up from his prepared text and snapped: "Why that piano-playing letter writer!"

Discrimination Blamed For Fraternity Collapse

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—All 62 members of a Greek-Letter fraternity at Albany State Teachers College have resigned because of a dispute over "discrimination" with the national body, the chapter's president said last night.

John Zongrone, a junior from Chester, N. Y., said the members of Gamma Chapter, Kappa Delta Rho, had quit because the national fraternity had turned down in the past two years the applications of five men initiated into the Albany chapter. All five were of the same religion, Zongrone added.

Zongrone said the chapter had reorganized under the name of Alpha Pi Alpha, and would continue as a social fraternity with no national affiliations.

He said that although the fraternity's national constitution did not set up racial or religious barriers, it was "understood" that some applications could be barred on those grounds. Candidates list their religion on application blanks, he added.

LEGAL NOTICE

INVITATION TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Commissioners of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston, N. Y., at its office in the City Hall, 408 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y., until 3:00 p. m., October 3rd, 1952, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

Proposals are invited on Contract No. 13 for the construction of trunk line sanitary sewer on Clinton Avenue from Cedar Street to Henry Street for a total distance of approximately 360 feet, on which contract the approximate quantities of items for the comparison of bids are as follows:

Item 1—140 Lin. Ft. 24" extra strength V.T. pipe sewer 20'-22' deep.
Item 2—220 Lin. Ft. 24" extra strength V.T. pipe sewer 22'-24' deep.
Item 3—3 manholes, 23' deep.
Item 4—25 Cu Yds. mass concrete.
Item 5—20 Cu. Yds. rock excavation.
Item 6—Extra work.

Proposals must be submitted on forms furnished by the Board of Public Works. These forms, together with other contract documents, including plans and specifications, may be obtained from the Dept. of Engineering, A. F. Hallinan, City Engineer, City Hall, upon the deposit of $10.00, which will be refunded upon the return of documents in good order within ten days after the opening of bids. Contractors who do not submit proposals will be refunded $5.00 upon the return of the documents above. These documents may be examined free of charge at the above office of the Department of Engineering.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of ten per centum (10%) of the total amount bid, which will be returnable upon the non-acceptance of bid or the execution of the contract. No bids may be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

The Commissioners expressly reserve the right to waive any informality in or to accept any bid or to reject any or all bids, or to award on any or all items, as the interest of the City of Kingston may appear to require.

By order of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston, New York.

Date: September 27th, 1952.

Anglo Test Reported

London, Oct. 2 (AP)—The London Evening News said today the first test of a British atomic explosion has taken place in the Monte Bello Islands off Australia. Prime Minister Winston Churchill flew to Scotland yesterday to tell Queen Elizabeth, the newspapers said, adding that reports reaching London described the tests as being "successful." The war office and other ministries were unable to confirm the reports. Churchill saw the Queen at Balmoral, where she is on holiday, last night.

Was Only Dynamite

Sydney, Australia, Oct. 2 (AP)—A mighty blast before dawn today brought the people of Port Onslow, on Australia's northwest coast, tumbling out of their beds expecting to see the flash of the first British atom bomb. But it turned out to be only a barrel of dynamite touched off by pranksters.

Vienna, Oct. 2 (AP)—Radio Prague said today that Czechoslovak President Klement Gottwald, Premier Antonin Zapotocky and Foreign Minister Vilem Siroky left by train last night to attend the Russian Communist Party Congress which opens in Moscow Sunday.

B-50 Is 'Bottle Baby'

Seattle, Wash. (AP) — At Boeing Field there's a B-50 "bottle baby" that gets fed only in midair. This B-50 is refueled in flight to check the refueling equipment. On each flight it takes on between 500 and 600 gallons of fuel. The "bottle baby" returns to the field immediately and never gets a chance to use the fuel, which is syphoned off to supply other planes. The B-50 has made about 100 such flights since the first of the year.

Anglo Test Reported

London, Oct. 2 (AP)—The London Evening News said today the first test of a British atomic explosion has taken place in the Monte Bello Islands off Australia. Prime Minister Winston Churchill flew to Scotland yesterday to tell Queen Elizabeth, the newspapers said, adding that reports reaching London described the tests as being "successful." The war office and other ministries were unable to confirm the reports. Churchill saw the Queen at Balmoral, where she is on holiday, last night.

Was Only Dynamite

Sydney, Australia, Oct. 2 (AP)—A mighty blast before dawn today brought the people of Port Onslow, on Australia's northwest coast, tumbling out of their beds expecting to see the flash of the first British atom bomb. But it turned out to be only a barrel of dynamite touched off by pranksters.

B-50 Is 'Bottle Baby'

Seattle, Wash. (AP) — At Boeing Field there's a B-50 "bottle baby" that gets fed only in midair. This B-50 is refueled in flight to check the refueling equipment. On each flight it takes on between 500 and 600 gallons of fuel. The "bottle baby" returns to the field immediately and never gets a chance to use the fuel, which is syphoned off to supply other planes. The B-50 has made about 100 such flights since the first of the year.

Saugerties Reformed Church to Begin 100th Anniversary Celebration Sunday Morning

A week-long centennial celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Saugerties Reformed Church will start Sunday, Oct. 5, continuing throughout the week until Sunday, Oct. 12, the Rev. Robert G. Dickson, pastor, has announced.

Observance of World - Wide Communion Sunday will begin the celebration Sunday during the regular worship service. Elaborate plans have been formulated for special services for the remainder of the anniversary week.

The Reformed Church of Saugerties had its origin in what is now the Reformed Church of Katsbaan. The earliest record of religious services show that people of the Reformed faith were worshipping at Katsbaan as early as 1730, having migrated there from a previous settlement at West Camp.

In the early 19th Century it was found advisable to respond to a petition from the residents of the village of Saugerties and together with the blessings of Ulster Classis a second "station" of the Katsbaan church was established in the village. The red brick building on Livingston street, at First street, was the new house of worship. It was known, reasonably enough, as the Brick Church. Eventually the Brick Church proved inadequate for the growing congregation and in 1850 the first moves were made to construct a larger church.

Life was less hurried in those days and many months went by before the people of the church were convinced that they had sufficient funds pledged to cover the cost of the new building. The design of the new church was one submitted by James Renwick, Jr., a leading architect of the middle of the 19th Century.

The contract for constructing the office was awarded to Whiting Weeks of Kingston. A generous gift of land was made by Captain John Kiersted which probably was the sole factor in the site of the new church. In early October, 1852, the construction had proceeded to the point that the consistory could resolve the following: "That the new church edifice erected by the Reformed Dutch Church of Saugerties, be with divine permission, dedicated to the service of Almighty God on the 28th of October inst."

Other Programs

Following Sunday's opening service, a full-scale program of features has been planned for the week through Oct. 12.

On Monday at 8:30 p. m., a concert of sacred and classical songs will be presented in the church by the Catskill Glee Club under the direction of Rolland Heermance.

Tuesday night a congregational supper will be held with the Rev. Vernon Nagel, minister of the Reformed Church of Catskill, as the guest speaker.

A pageant, One Hundred Years at Main and John, will be presented Wednesday night in the Dutch Arms Chapel. The script for the pageant has been written by Miss Pauline Hommell. The pageant will be directed by Robert S. Russell.

Banquet on Thursday

A men's banquet will highlight the celebration Thursday night when Frederick Snyder, lecturer, of Kingston, will be the main speaker. Greetings also will be brought by the Rev. Alvin J. Neevel, field secretary of the Synod of New York, Reformed Church in America, and by the Rev. C. W. Christman, president of the Saugerties Ministerial Association. Among the guests at Thursday's program will be at least one of the sons of the Rev. Denis Wortman. Dr. Wortman was minister of the Saugerties church during the years of 1883-1901, and was the author of several hymns.

The 100th anniversary of the church building will conclude Sunday, Oct. 12, with a special service at the regular hour. During the service gifts and memorials will be presented and dedicated. The minister will preach on the text that was used a century ago in the service marking the dedication of the edifice to the work and worship of God.

Committee Workers

Mrs. Theodore Goerck, church historian, is the honorary chairman of the committee workers. Acting as co-chairman are Augustus P. Modjeska and the Rev. Robert G. Dickson, assisted by the general committee consisting of Percy M. Abeel, Mrs. Leroy Brink, Holley R. Cantine, Miss Pauline Hommell, Mrs. William Maxwell, Fabian L. Russell, Robert S. Russell, Richard P. Smith, Terry Staples and Arthur D. York.

Married in Woodstock

Miss Louise Stone, West Hurley, Bride Of Long Island Man

The marriage of Miss Louise Emily Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Stone, Fairview avenue, West Hurley, to Philip Coleman Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Smith, 80 Vermont avenue, Hempstead, L. I., was solemnized Sunday, Sept. 28, at 3 p. m. at the Woodstock Methodist Church. The Rev. Kenneth Dearstyne, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Carll T. Harrington, organist, and Rolland Heermance of Saugerties, soloist, offered the traditional wedding music including Because, O, Promise Me, the Lord's Prayer, solos; and organ music, Serenade, Schubert; To a Wild Rose, MacDowell; To The Evening Star, Wagner; At Dawning and other traditional wedding marches.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and lighted white candles.

Best man was Roy Brundage, brother-in-law of the groom, of Massapequa Park, L. I. Ushers were Norman Ritter, cousin of the groom, Springfield Gardens, L. I., and Warren W. Smith, brother of the groom, of Mineola, L. I.

A reception for 70 guests was held at the home of the bride in West Hurley.

The couple left for a wedding trip through the Adirondacks. For traveling she wore a brown and navy check suit, brown accessories and a yellow chrysanthemum corsage. They will make their future home at 123 William street, Catskill.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and received her MA and BA degree from New York State College for Teachers in Albany. At present she is a member of the faculty of Coxsackie-Athens Central School.

Mr. Smith was graduated from Hempstead High School, Hofstra College of Long Island where he received his BS in business administration. He is employed as an accountant for Aerobilt Bodies, Inc., Athens. He served with the 15th Air Force in Italy during World War 2.

Saugerties Reformed Church to Begin 100th Anniversary Celebration Sunday Morning

A week-long centennial celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Saugerties Reformed Church will start Sunday, Oct. 5, continuing throughout the week until Sunday, Oct. 12, the Rev. Robert G. Dickson, pastor, has announced.

Observance of World - Wide Communion Sunday will begin the celebration Sunday during the regular worship service. Elaborate plans have been formulated for special services for the remainder of the anniversary week.

The Reformed Church of Saugerties had its origin in what is now the Reformed Church of Katsbaan. The earliest record of religious services show that people of the Reformed faith were worshipping at Katsbaan as early as 1730, having migrated there from a previous settlement at West Camp.

In the early 19th Century it was found advisable to respond to a petition from the residents of the village of Saugerties and together with the blessings of Ulster Classis a second "station" of the Katsbaan church was established in the village. The red brick building on Livingston street, at First street, was the new house of worship. It was known, reasonably enough, as the Brick Church. Eventually the Brick Church proved inadequate for the growing congregation and in 1850 the first moves were made to construct a larger church.

Life was less hurried in those days and many months went by before the people of the church were convinced that they had sufficient funds pledged to cover the cost of the new building. The design of the new church was one submitted by James Renwick, Jr., a leading architect of the middle of the 19th Century.

The contract for constructing the office was awarded to Whiting Weeks of Kingston. A generous gift of land was made by Captain John Kiersted which probably was the sole factor in the site of the new church. In early October, 1852, the construction had proceeded to the point that the consistory could resolve the following: "That the new church edifice erected by the Reformed Dutch Church of Saugerties, be with divine permission, dedicated to the service of Almighty God on the 28th of October inst."

Other Programs

Following Sunday's opening service, a full-scale program of features has been planned for the week through Oct. 12.

On Monday at 8:30 p. m., a concert of sacred and classical songs will be presented in the church by the Catskill Glee Club under the direction of Rolland Heermance.

Tuesday night a congregational supper will be held with the Rev. Vernon Nagel, minister of the Reformed Church of Catskill, as the guest speaker.

A pageant, One Hundred Years at Main and John, will be presented Wednesday night in the Dutch Arms Chapel. The script for the pageant has been written by Miss Pauline Hommell. The pageant will be directed by Robert S. Russell.

Banquet on Thursday

A men's banquet will highlight the celebration Thursday night when Frederick Snyder, lecturer, of Kingston, will be the main speaker. Greetings also will be brought by the Rev. Alvin J. Neevel, field secretary of the Synod of New York, Reformed Church in America, and by the Rev. C. W. Christman, president of the Saugerties Ministerial Association. Among the guests at Thursday's program will be at least one of the sons of the Rev. Denis Wortman. Dr. Wortman was minister of the Saugerties church during the years of 1883-1901, and was the author of several hymns.

The 100th anniversary of the church building will conclude Sunday, Oct. 12, with a special service at the regular hour. During the service gifts and memorials will be presented and dedicated. The minister will preach on the text that was used a century ago in the service marking the dedication of the edifice to the work and worship of God.

Committee Workers

Mrs. Theodore Goerck, church historian, is the honorary chairman of the committee workers. Acting as co-chairman are Augustus P. Modjeska and the Rev. Robert G. Dickson, assisted by the general committee consisting of Percy M. Abeel, Mrs. Leroy Brink, Holley R. Cantine, Miss Pauline Hommell, Mrs. William Maxwell, Fabian L. Russell, Robert S. Russell, Richard P. Smith, Terry Staples and Arthur D. York.

Married in Woodstock

Miss Louise Stone, West Hurley, Bride Of Long Island Man

The marriage of Miss Louise Emily Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Stone, Fairview avenue, West Hurley, to Philip Coleman Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Smith, 80 Vermont avenue, Hempstead, L. I., was solemnized Sunday, Sept. 28, at 3 p. m. at the Woodstock Methodist Church. The Rev. Kenneth Dearstyne, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Carll T. Harrington, organist, and Rolland Heermance of Saugerties, soloist, offered the traditional wedding music including Because, O, Promise Me, the Lord's Prayer, solos; and organ music, Serenade, Schubert; To a Wild Rose, MacDowell; To The Evening Star, Wagner; At Dawning and other traditional wedding marches.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and lighted white candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported lace over bridal satin made with fitted bodice, Queen Anne collar and long-pointed sleeves with a bouffant ballerina-length skirt of nylon net with overskirt of lace and peplum style. She also wore a half hat of shirred net and orange blossoms with fingertip length French illusion veil.

The bride carried a white testament Bible, a white orchid, white ribbon streamers with swansonia.

Miss Marilyn L. Smith, sister of the groom of 80 Vermont avenue, Hempstead, L. I., as maid of honor, wore a gown of autumn rose velveteen and net, styled with petal bodice and ballerina-length skirt. She wore an afternoon veil with a band of matching flowers.

Best man was Roy Brundage, brother-in-law of the groom, of Massapequa Park, L. I. Ushers were Norman Ritter, cousin of the groom, Springfield Gardens, L. I., and Warren W. Smith, ...her of the groom, of Mineola, L. I.

... reception for 70 guests was held at the home of the bride in West Hurley.

The couple left for a wedding trip through the Adirondacks. For traveling she wore a brown and navy check suit, brown accessories and a yellow chrysanthemum corsage. They will make their future home at 123 William street, Catskill.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and received her MA and BA degree from New York State College for Teachers in Albany. At present she is a member of the faculty of Coxsackie-Athens Central School.

Mr. Smith was graduated from Hempstead High School, Hofstra College of Long Island where he received his BS in business administration. He is employed as an accountant for Aerobilt Bodies, Inc., Athens. He served with the 15th Air Force in Italy during World War 2.

Double Wedding for Stagg, Faurote Families Takes Place in Hurley Reformed Church

The marriages of Miss Betty Jean Faurote to Ronald Stagg, and Miss Barbara Ann Stagg to Robert Faurote took place at 2 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 28, in the Hurley Reformed Church. The Rev. John Dykstra, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremonies. A reception for 40 guests was held in the Sunday school room at the church.

Miss Faurote and Robert are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Faurote, 16 Ora Place, this city. Miss Stagg and Ronald are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Stagg, Hurley.

Palms and autumn flowers were used to decorate the church. Mrs. William Wood as organist played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Henry Miller, the soloist, in I Love You Truly and At Dawning.

The brides were escorted by their fathers. Miss Stagg wore a gown of white satin and lace which terminated in a chapel length train. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a headpiece of tiny organdy wedding bells. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Faurote wore a gown of white satin and lace which terminated in a chapel train. Her fingertip length veil was secured to a headpiece of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

The couples were honor attendants for each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Stagg left for a motor trip in the South. They will reside in Columbus, Ga. Mr. Stagg is serving with the armed forces and is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Faurote will reside in Glenerie Lake Park upon their return from a motor trip through Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

For traveling, the brides were attired in gray suits and black accessories.

Both couples were graduated from Kingston High School.

Paltz Professor Will Address Education Group on October 7

DR. GEORGE W. BOND

The Kingston Association for Childhood Education will resume meetings at the George Washington School on Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 3:45 p. m. Dr. George W. Bond, professor of education, New Paltz State Teachers College, will be the guest speaker.

All new members of the faculties within the Kingston elementary school system will be welcomed by fellow teachers at an informal tea. Miss Sara Israel, a member of the Washington School faculty, is chairman. She will be asisted by Miss Mary Polhemus, president of the group, and a large committee.

Following the tea and reception, Dr. Bond will address the group. His topic will be Children's Literature. Recently, Dr. Bond became affilated with the faculty of the college at New Paltz, and has gained considerable prestige in the local area through his summer lectures and counselling to teachers in the field of reading. Prior to joining the New Paltz faculty, Dr. Bond served as lecturer and assistant to the director of the reading clinic at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dodgers' First Series Opening Day Win Points Trouble for Yanks

Black's Impressive Work Boosts Chances

By GAYLE TALBOT

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Know what? The Dodgers could win this World Series and make a lot of experts look very bad.

It was a smart, loose team which outslugged the Yankees 4-2 in yesterday's opener, extremely skilled on defense and a picture of confidence in its every move.

Joe Black, the big Negro rookie, proved himself a fine pitcher as he throttled the American Leaguers in the tight spots, and he is due to be back for several more helpings before it is over.

This was the first opener the Dodgers have won in six World Series. It might well mark the first in which they win the last game. Manager Chuck Dressen's gang of veterans could take it all.

Dressen's all-or-nothing gamble of starting his freshman reliever didn't really look like a gamble at all as Black mowed the Yanks down inning after inning. The big fellow appeared to get faster as he went along. No harder ball was thrown all day than the strike which Irv Noren looked at to end the game.

As they went into the second game today behind Carl Erskine, their small-size righthander, the National Leaguers had every reason to feel their oats. Having disposed of Allie Reynolds with three well-hit home runs, they had no particular reason to fear Vic Raschi, the Yankees' second best.

Bank on Erskine

Those close to the Brooklyn club think a great deal of Erskine. They call him "a gutty little guy," and they were saying last night that if he has one of his better games in his system today he may well throw a three or four-hitter at the Yanks.

Erskine, a righty, had arm trouble much of the year and for long stretches was of little help. But he came like a champion toward the end when the Dodgers were sorely pressed and clicked off three victories in the past 10 days to help Black wrap up the title.

Black's pitching was, of course, the standout performance of the opener, but not by too much. The Yankees ran into a ball club which can field right along with them, and which is not, off its performance yesterday, going to choke or give anything away.

Andy Pafko, in particular, put the American Leaguers in their place. The Dodger leftfielder turned in two tremendous plays to choke off a Yankee threat in the fifth inning. First he made a remarkable peg to third to cut down Gil McDougald after Billy Martin had singled, and then came in to make a somersaulting catch of a drooper by Hank Bauer.

That was Pafko's inning. The seventh belonged to Billy Cox, who is widely acknowledged to be the finest fielding third-baseman in the game today. The Bombers, trailing as they did most of the day, got something going when Noren led off with a walk.

Throttles Yankees

JOE BLACK

Cox made a brilliant stop and throw on McDougald's slashing grounder to start a double play which stopped the Stengeleers in their tracks. To complete the inning, he backhanded Martin's hopper over third and threw him out.

And a Man Named Black

In other words, the Dodgers did everything they were supposed to do. They hit the long ball, they fielded spectacularly, and they had a man named Black.

The day's hardest hit ball probably was the homer slugged by Pee-Wee Reese in the eighth, which only ensured the victory after Duke Snider's towering two-run smash over the clock in right-field had sent the Dodgers into the lead at 3-1.

Although Mickey Mantle struck out in his final time at bat when the Yanks were desperate for a hit, the "Pheenom" from Oklahoma gave warning that he must be dealt with. He collected two of his team's six hits, one of them on a bunt. The fleet kid also made a catch on Reese in the fourth inning which would have done full credit to Joe DiMaggio.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Efforts to draw him out with a prediction on the outcome of the series failed.

"I'm neutral this time," he said, instead of picking the Dodgers as would befit an inveterate National League follower.

"If it were anybody but those guys (the Dodgers), I'd pick the National League," he continued. "But those Bums, not for me. . . "

Here's a tip for bowling league secretaries: If there is any question about the eligibility of any bowler in your league, clear with the Kingston Bowling Association before you permit him to roll. The ABC rule covering ineligible and bowlers under suspension is tight and hard. Any league that permits a suspended bowler to take part in its activities automatically loses its ABC sanction rights. The rule goes even further. If a bowler in such a league rolls in a second league, the latter league also stands to lose its sanction rights and ABC standing.

Harry L. "Pop" Edson, the assistant to Andy Murphy with the Recreation Department, is crowding the 80 mark but is still rugged enough to climb three flights of stairs a couple times a day, if he has to. Yet he expresses great amazement at the physical exploits of Troy's famous Lew Wachter whom he knew as a boy in and around Troy. Wachter, an all-time professional basketball immortal in the early "Pop" Morgenweck era, is superintendent of recreation at Troy and still takes a daily sculling workout in the Hudson River near the Troy-Waterford bridge. Wachter has been an outstanding oarsman since his youth and was a star for the Laureate Boat Club when the Trojan outfit was one of the nation's top boat clubs. Following his retirement from pro basketball, Wachter coached at Harvard for 13 years. The Wachter brother combination of Lou and Ed was one of the greatest in the history of pro basketball.

In his most recent tome for Bob Gross' clientele, Byron Nelson, the Texas golf immortal, asks: What makes a first class medal or match player? "It isn't mechanical skill alone because there are some golfers who swing a club well but seldom get in the 'win' column. There are many answers to this question—among them poise, competitive spirit, class. From my experience I believe that concentration plays a bigger part in determining champions than anything else. If you are to play golf well you must think about only one thing—the shot at hand. How you fared on your last shot and what you plan to do with your next must be put completely out of your mind. For you the hole and the match hinge on the shot you are making NOW! The man who first said: 'Let bygones be bygones and the future will take care of itself' must have had golf in mind."

Duke Miller, who was one of the town's most fervid professional basketball fans, suggests a tablet or some form of memorial at the municipal auditorium in honor of the late Carl Husta, one of the two brightest Kingston names in pro basketball (Benny Borgmann was the other). We think it is a plausible suggestion and see it as a counterpart for the Jack Robins memorial at the municipal stadium.

Marciano to Get Victory Welcome

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 2 (AP)—World heavyweight boxing king Rocky Marciano is coming home today for the first time since he won the crown from Jersey Joe Wallcott—and his home folks are planning a welcome party he'll never forget.

This city of 62,000 — known around the world as a shoe manufacturing center—is set to give its favorite son a greeting with all the trimmings.

Nothing was left out of the plans for the big victory celebration. They included a giant parade, music, speeches by the mayor and other dignitaries—a real holiday spirit.

Extra police details from neighboring communities were assigned to help the Brockton police with what is expected to be a record crowd.

Shopkeepers in the downtown district arranged to close their doors during the festivities. School children got the afternoon off.

After the day's gala events, the homecoming program will be topped off by a testimonial dinner at which the 28-year-old battler will be given a $5,000 Cadillac.

Hints Holmes May Get Pilot's Job

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—One rumor making the rounds at Ebbets Field is that when the World Series is over Tommy Holmes, Brooklyn reserve outfielder, will be offered a manager's job in the Dodger chain, possibly at Elmira in the Class A Eastern League.

Holmes, deposed as manager of the Boston Braves in May and signed by the Dodgers, last summer turned down a chance to manage the Braves' Hartford team in the same league.

Buzzie Bavasi, Dodger vice-president, said future plans concerning all Dodger players will have to wait until the end of the Series. Meanwhile, Holmes is hoping to play in the Series.

Rhubarb-Less Game Highlights Opener of 1952 Fall Classic

Profanity and Beefs Among the Missing

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Even the Russians could find little to criticize in our "beizbol" as played in the 1952 World Series.

Commissioner Ford Frick's "no rhubarb" order has made perfect gentlemen of the antagonists. No profanity. No beefs. No tantrums.

You could almost hear Mickey Mantle say "excuse me" when he lashed into the Dodger's Pee Wee Reese at second in the fourth inning of yesterday's opening game. Reese, severely bruised, didn't emit a gripe.

Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella thought he was safe when called out stealing second in the second inning. He started to protest, then turned sharply and went back to the bench.

Gil McDougald of the Yankees, thrown out at third on a great throw by Andy Pafko, started to erupt. Red-necked, he started toward the umpire, then retired meekly. Pafko himself thought there was fan interference on McDougald's third inning home run just inside the stands. Not a gripe.

"The boys have been told to watch their step and mind their business," said Brooklyn Manager Charlie Dressen. "No flareups."

Mack Likes Yanks

Connie Mack, Philadelphia's octogenarian, watched the first game from the third base box seats, and he said he still likes the Yankees.

"Casey Stengel will go down in history as one of the great all-time managers of the game," the thin, white-haired diamond master said. "The way he juggles his lineups and plays hunches is phenomenal."

Mr. Mack says he's missed only one World Series since they began in 1903, but he forgets which one.

Dressen Misses Leo

Before the game, Dressen scanned the grand stand for Leo Durocher, manager of the rival New York Giants.

"Why, didn't you know?" someone said. "Leo's on his way to California."

Dressen's visage froze. "I stuck around and watched his World Series last year," the Brooklyn manager said. "Why couldn't he have done the same?"

There's no doubt who will get the biggest raise — percentage wise—in baseball next year or who will sign the check.

The check will be signed by Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and it will be made out to Joe Black, who got only $6,500 for his efforts this year. Next year Joe can demand, and probably get, at least three times as much.

The Yankees' opening game lineup was the 100th different combination used by Stengel this year. Don't be surprised if today's is No. 101.

In pre-game talks, Dressen, a former Yankee coach, told his men to forget they were playing the ever-conquering Yankees and just imagine they were meeting the Pirates. Brooklyn beat the Pirates 19 of 22 games.

Deep in the recesses of Ebbets Field, the beaten New York Yankees came to lick their wounds after the first game of the World Series, while the jubilant Broklyn Dodgers whooped it up in their dressing room for the game they didn't figure to win.

"I pitched a sloppy ball game," said Allie Reynolds simply as he hauled off his Yankee uniform. "That's all there was to it.

"I couldn't get my curve to moving properly and they socked me. Even if we'd somehow managed to win, I'd have told you that because it's the truth."

On the first base side of Ebbets Field, things were humming. For the first time after a first game in a World Series Brooklyn could celebrate. For the first time in six Series they had won the opener.

May Use Black Again

"I won't hesitate to use him again tomorrow (Thursday) if we ned him," Manager Charley Dressen was telling the scribes.

"And I may use him, too, in the late innings if it's a close ball game."

He was, naturally, talking about the 220-pound Joe Black, drafted from the relief ranks to blow down the world champions as no rookie ever is expected to do.

Revenge was sweet for Duke Snider. He hit a sliding fast ball, he said, for his sixth inning homer, then added with a wide grin:

"I got a big charge out of it, too. In the first game of the World Series in 1949 Reynolds struck me out three times. I swore I'd get even, and I did today."

Black, wo had started only two games at the tail end of the National League pennant race but appeared in 54 in relief, said he had pitched better ball than against the Yankees.

"I've been faster, I know. But my curve ball was coming in there pretty well and I had control. I couldn't get my fast ball up against the lefthanders, I don't know why.

Casey Stengel, trying to mastermind his fourth straight world championship, also had a few words to say about Black.

"He's every bit the pitcher everybodys said he was. I wouldn't want to say if he's as good as (Don) Newcombe. He was in trouble almost all the way, but he has pretty good control. You have to as a reliefer."

Beaten by Homers

"I thought our side did all right. They fielded all right. But you can't guess the ball that goes over the fence. They got more home runs than we did."

He was high on the sparkling fielding of Billy Cox, the Dodgers' third baseman. "There's not many players in all baseball history who've been able to field better than him."

But Brooklyn homers did the damage, and Reynolds admitted what all pitchers know about Ebbets Field.

"You can't make any mistakes in this little ball park, he said.

Yanks Are Favorites

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees are 7 to 5 favorites to win the second game of the World Series today and 6 to 5 to take the best-of-seven series. Odds on the Yanks to win the Series shortened after the Dodgers won yesterday's opener, 4-2. They originally were 8 to 5. The quotations on today's game were based on the Yankees starting Vic Raschi against little Carl Erskine.

Long Shot Wins

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Miss Dominion Watt, longest price on the board at 17 to 1, led all the way last night to win the feature event at Yonkers Raceway by a length over Super Chief. Banner Direct was third. Driven by Howard Wilcox, the winner paced the mile in 2:05 4/5 and paid $36.40, $13.10 and $7.00.

Asks Transfer of Exam

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, 21-year-old New York Yankee certerfielder, has applied for permission to take his army physical examination here Monday instead of at Miami, Okla. Mantle requested the transfer since there is a possibility the Yanks and Brooklyn Ddgers still will be involved in the World Series on that day. The Yankee outfielder has been rejected three times for service because of osteomyelitis, a bone disease, in his left leg.

Joe Black, ace relief pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, formerly taught school in Baltimore.

By GAYLE TALBOT

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Know what? The Dodgers could win this World Series and make a lot of experts look very bad.

It was a smart, loose team which outslugged the Yankees 4-2 in yesterday's opener, extremely skilled on defense and a picture of confidence in its every move.

Joe Black, the big Negro rookie, proved himself a fine pitcher as he throttled the American Leaguers in the tight spots, and he is due to be back for several more helpings before it is over.

This was the first opener the Dodgers have won in six World Series. It might well mark the first in which they win the last game. Manager Chuck Dressen's gang of veterans could take it all.

Dressen's all-or-nothing gamble of starting his freshman reliever didn't really look like a gamble at all as Black mowed the Yanks down inning after inning. The big fellow appeared to get faster as he went along. No harder ball was thrown all day than the strike which Irv Noren looked at to end the game.

As they went into the second game today behind Carl Erskine, their small-size righthander, the National Leaguers had every reason to feel their oats. Having disposed of Allie Reynolds with three well-hit home runs, they had no particular reason to fear Vic Raschi, the Yankees' second best.

Bank on Erskine

Those close to the Brooklyn club think a great deal of Erskine. They call him "a gutty little guy," and they were saying last night that if he has one of his better games in his system today he may well throw a three or four-hitter at the Yanks.

Erskine, a righty, had arm trouble much of the year and for long stretches was of little help. But he came like a champion toward the end when the Dodgers were sorely pressed and clicked off three victories in the past 10 days to help Black wrap up the title.

Black's pitching was, of course, the standout performance of the opener, but not by too much. The Yankees ran into a ball club which can field right along with them, and which is not, off its performance yesterday, going to choke or give anything away.

Andy Pafko, in particular, put the American Leaguers in their place. The Dodger leftfielder turned in two tremendous plays to choke off a Yankee threat in the fifth inning. First he made a remarkable peg to third to cut down Gil McDougald after Billy Martin had singled, and then came in to make a somersaulting catch of a drooper by Hank Bauer.

That was Pafko's inning. The seventh belonged to Billy Cox, who is widely acknowledged to be the finest fielding third-baseman in the game today. The Bombers, trailing as they did most of the day, got something going when Noren led off with a walk.

Throttles Yankees

JOE BLACK

Cox made a brilliant stop and throw on McDougald's slashing grounder to start a double play which stopped the Stengeleers in their tracks. To complete the inning, he backhanded Martin's hopper over third and threw him out.

And a Man Named Black

In other words, the Dodgers did everything they were supposed to do. They hit the long ball, they fielded spectacularly, and they had a man named Black.

The day's hardest hit ball probably was the homer slugged by Pee-Wee Reese in the eighth, which only ensured the victory after Duke Snider's towering two-run smash over the clock in right-field had sent the Dodgers into the lead at 3-1.

Although Mickey Mantle struck out in his final time at bat when the Yanks were desperate for a hit, the "Pheenom" from Oklahoma gave warning that he must be dealt with. He collected two of his team's six hits, one of them on a bunt. The fleet kid also made a catch on Reese in the fourth inning which would have done full credit to Joe DiMaggio.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

A horrible pun to be sure, but the Freeman's photo engraver, George Knute Beichert, gave us an excellent example of the attitude of the typical New York Giant fan with respect to the Yankee-Dodgers classic.

Efforts to draw him out with a prediction on the outcome of the series failed.

"I'm neutral this time," he said, instead of picking the Dodgers as would befit an inveterate National League follower.

"If it were anybody but those guys (the Dodgers), I'd pick the National League," he continued. "But those Bums, not for me. . . "

Here's a tip for bowling league secretaries: If there is any question about the eligibility of any bowler in your league, clear with the Kingston Bowling Association before you permit him to roll. The ABC rule covering ineligible and bowlers under suspension is tight and hard. Any league that permits a suspended bowler to take part in its activities automatically loses its ABC sanction rights. The rule goes even further. If a bowler in such a league rolls in a second league, the latter league also stands to lose its sanction rights and ABC standing.

Harry L. "Pop" Edson, the assistant to Andy Murphy with the Recreation Department, is crowding the 80 mark but is still rugged enough to climb three flights of stairs a couple times a day, if he has to. Yet he expresses great amazement at the physical exploits of Troy's famous Lew Wachter whom he knew as a boy in and around Troy. Wachter, an all-time professional basketball immortal in the early "Pop" Morgenweck era, is superintendent of recreation at Troy and still takes a daily sculling workout in the Hudson River near the Troy-Waterford bridge. Wachter has been an outstanding oarsman since his youth and was a star for the Laureate Boat Club when the Trojan outfit was one of the nation's top boat clubs. Following his retirement from pro basketball, Wachter coached at Harvard for 13 years. The Wachter brother combination of Lou and Ed was one of the greatest in the history of pro basketball.

In his most recent tome for Bob Gross' clientele, Byron Nelson, the Texas golf immortal, asks: What makes a first class medal or match player? "It isn't mechanical skill alone because there are some golfers who swing a club well but seldom get in the 'win' column. There are many answers to this question—among them poise, competitive spirit, class. From my experience I believe that concentration plays a bigger part in determining champions than anything else. If you are to play golf well you must think about only one thing—the shot at hand. How you fared on your last shot and what you plan to do with your next must be put completely out of your mind. For you the hole and the match hinge on the shot you are making NOW! The man who first said: 'Let bygones be bygones and the future will take care of itself' must have had golf in mind."

Duke Miller, who was one of the town's most fervid professional basketball fans, suggests a tablet or some form of memorial at the municipal auditorium in honor of the late Carl Husta, one of the two brightest Kingston names in pro basketball (Benny Borgmann was the other). We think it is a plausible suggestion and see it as a counterpart for the Jack Robins memorial at the municipal stadium.

Marciano to Get Victory Welcome

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 2 (AP)—World heavyweight boxing king Rocky Marciano is coming home today for the first time since he won the crown from Jersey Joe Wallcott—and his home folks are planning a welcome party he'll never forget.

This city of 62,000 — known around the world as a shoe manufacturing center—is set to give its favorite son a greeting with all the trimmings.

Rocky will be accompanied by his trainer, Charley Goldman, and former world lightweight champion Lou Ambers.

Nothing was left out of the plans for the big victory celebration. They included a giant parade, music, speeches by the mayor and other dignitaries—a real holiday spirit.

Extra police details from neighboring communities were assigned to help the Brockton police with what is expected to be a record crowd.

Shopkeepers in the downtown district arranged to close their doors during the festivities. School children got the afternoon off.

After the day's gala events, the homecoming program will be topped off by a testimonial dinner at which the 28-year-old battler will be given a $5,000 Cadillac.

Hints Holmes May Get Pilot's Job

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—One rumor making the rounds at Ebbets Field is that when the World Series is over Tommy Holmes, Brooklyn reserve outfielder, will be offered a manager's job in the Dodger chain, possibly at Elmira in the Class A Eastern League.

Holmes, deposed as manager of the Boston Braves in May and signed by the Dodgers, last summer turned down a chance to manage the Braves' Hartford team in the same league.

Buzzie Bavasi, Dodger vice-president, said future plans concerning all Dodger players will have to wait until the end of the Series. Meanwhile, Holmes is hoping to play in the Series.

Asks Transfer of Exam

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, 21-year-old New York Yankee certerfielder, has applied for permission to take his army physical examination here Monday instead of at Miami, Okla. Mantle requested the transfer since there is a possibility the Yanks and Brooklyn Ddgers still will be involved in the World Series on that day. The Yankee outfielder has been rejected three times for service because of osteomyelitis, a bone disease, in his left leg.

Joe Black, ace relief pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, formerly taught school in Baltimore.

Rhubarb-Less Game Highlights Opener of 1952 Fall Classic

Profanity and Beefs Among the Missing

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Even the Russians could find little to criticize in our "beizbol" as played in the 1952 World Series.

Commissioner Ford Frick's "no rhubarb" order has made perfect gentlemen of the antagonists. No profanity. No beefs. No tantrums.

You could almost hear Mickey Mantle say "excuse me" when he lashed into the Dodger's Pee Wee Reese at second in the fourth inning of yesterday's opening game. Reese, severely bruised, didn't emit a gripe.

Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella thought he was safe when called out stealing second in the second inning. He started to protest, then turned sharply and went back to the bench.

Gil McDougald of the Yankees, thrown out at third on a great throw by Andy Pafko, started to erupt. Red-necked, he started toward the umpire, then retired meekly. Pafko himself thought there was fan interference on McDougald's third inning home run just inside the stands. Not a gripe.

"The boys have been told to watch their step and mind their business," said Brooklyn Manager Charlie Dressen. "No flareups."

Mack Likes Yanks

Connie Mack, Philadelphia's octogenarian, watched the first game from the third base box seats, and he said he still likes the Yankees.

"Casey Stengel will go down in history as one of the great all-time managers of the game," the thin, white-haired diamond master said. "The way he juggles his lineups and plays hunches is phenomenal."

Mr. Mack says he's missed only one World Series since they began in 1903, but he forgets which one.

Dressen Misses Leo

Before the game, Dressen scanned the grand stand for Leo Durocher, manager of the rival New York Giants.

"Why, didn't you know?" someone said. "Leo's on his way to California."

Dressen's visage froze. "I stuck around and watched his World Series last year," the Brooklyn manager said. "Why couldn't he have done the same?"

There's no doubt who will get the biggest raise — percentage wise—in baseball next year or who will sign the check.

The check will be signed by Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and it will be made out to Joe Black, who got only $6,500 for his efforts this year. Next year Joe can demand, and probably get, at least three times as much.

The Yankees' opening game lineup was the 100th different combination used by Stengel this year. Don't be surprised if today's is No. 101.

In pre-game talks, Dressen, a former Yankee coach, told his men to forget they were playing the ever-conquering Yankees and just imagine they were meeting the Pirates. Brooklyn beat the Pirates 19 of 22 games.

Deep in the recesses of Ebbets Field, the beaten New York Yankees came to lick their wounds after the first game of the World Series, while the jubilant Broklyn Dodgers whooped it up in their dressing room for the game they didn't figure to win.

"I pitched a sloppy ball game," said Allie Reynolds simply as he hauled off his Yankee uniform. "That's all there was to it.

"I couldn't get my curve to moving properly and they socked me. Even if we'd somehow managed to win, I'd have told you that because it's the truth."

On the first base side of Ebbets Field, things were humming. For the first time after a first game in a World Series Brooklyn could celebrate. For the first time in six Series they had won the opener.

May Use Black Again

"I won't hesitate to use him again tomorrow (Thursday) if we ned him," Manager Charley Dressen was telling the scribes.

"And I may use him, too, in the late innings if it's a close ball game."

He was, naturally, talking about the 220-pound Joe Black, drafted from the relief ranks to blow down the world champions as no rookie ever is expected to do.

Revenge was sweet for Duke Snider. He hit a sliding fast ball, he said, for his sixth inning homer, then added with a wide grin:

"I got a big charge out of it, too. In the first game of the World Series in 1949 Reynolds struck me out three times. I swore I'd get even, and I did today."

Black, wo had started only two games at the tail end of the National League pennant race but appeared in 54 in relief, said he had pitched better ball than against the Yankees.

"I've been faster, I know. But my curve ball was coming in there pretty well and I had control. I couldn't get my fast ball up against the lefthanders, I don't know why.

Casey Stengel, trying to mastermind his fourth straight world championship, also had a few words to say about Black.

"He's every bit the pitcher everybodys said he was. I wouldn't want to say if he's as good as (Don) Newcombe. He was in trouble almost all the way, but he has pretty good control. You have to as a reliefer."

Beaten by Homers

"I thought our side did all right. They fielded all right. But you can't guess the ball that goes over the fence. They got more home runs than we did."

He was high on the sparkling fielding of Billy Cox, the Dodgers' third baseman. "There's not many players in all baseball history who've been able to field better than him."

But Brooklyn homers did the damage, and Reynolds admitted what all pitchers know about Ebbets Field.

Yanks Are Favorites

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees are 7 to 5 favorites to win the second game of the World Series today and 6 to 5 to take the best-of-seven series. Odds on the Yanks to win the Series shortened after the Dodgers won yesterday's opener, 4-2. They originally were 8 to 5. The quotations on today's game were based on the Yankees starting Vic Raschi against little Carl Erskine.

Long Shot Wins

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Miss Dominion Watt, longest price on the board at 17 to 1, led all the way last night to win the feature event at Yonkers Raceway by a length over Super Chief. Banner Direct was third. Driven by Howard Wilcox, the winner paced the mile in 2:05 4/5 and paid $36.40, $13.10 and $7.00.

Cerasaros, Port Ewen Score Cage Triumphs

Former Wins YMCA Game by 83-51

The high-powered Cerasaro Brothers Sport Center cagers continued in high gear Wednesday night in the YMCA Autumn Basketball League with an 83 to 51 triumph over the Schoonmaker Five.

In the second half of the doubleheader, the Port Ewen quintet, tied after the first half of play, pulled out a 45 to 37 decision over the Newkirk Aces.

The Sport Center cagers employed seven men in their lineup last night and a half dozen of them came through with scores in the double figure bracket.

John Godwin, guard, paced the scorers with 17 while Center Dick Bezzmer flipped in 16 markers. Jack Hickey found the range for 14 while Jim Colclough and Jack Schrader each hit for 12. Phil Mandel hit the strings for 11.

The winners broke through for a 34-20 lead at half time and added 49 more points in the final two quarters to win going away.

Joe Gardner was high man for the Schoonmakers with 18. Art Pinkham and Jack Letus registered 12 apiece.

Rally Decides Game

A last half rally netting 29 points to the Newkirk Aces' 22, was the difference of victory and defeat for the Port Ewen cagers. Both clubs were tied at 10-all in the first quarter and 16-16 at half time.

Bill Haber and Vince Van Bramer paced the winners with 16 and 11 respectively. High scorer of the game, however, was Bill DuBois, guard for the Aces, who dropped in 17 markers. Phil McClosky followed with 10.

Maroon JV Cross Country Team Drops Opening Meet to Marlborough by 23 to 32

Kingston High School's Jayvee cross country squad dropped its opening meet Wednesday to the Marlborough Varsity by 23 to 32.

The Maroon Jayvees will meet Wallkill here next Wednesday. The KHS Varsity cross country squad engages Arlington here tomorrow at 4 p. m. at municipal stadium.

Bob Campbell, KHS freshman, carried Kingston's best hopes yesterday when he finished second in the time of 11:51.

Hemion of Marlborough won the first place post in the meet in the time of 11:14.

Also finishing in the first 10 for Kingston were Roe in fifth place, Houghtaling, seventh place; Culjak, eighth and Snyder in 10th place.

The first 16 places follow:
1—Hemion (M), 11:14; 2—Campbell (K), 11:51; 3—Richards (M), 11:58; 4—Vanacore (M), 12:07; 5—Roe (K), 12:12; 6—Mackey (M), 12:17; 7—Houghtaling (K), 12:20; 8—Culjack (K), 12:25; 9—Sullivan (M), 12:33; 10—Snyder (K), 12:59; 11—Boswell (K), 13:26; 12—Smith (K), 13:45; 13—Guldy (K), 13:46; 14—Turck (K), 13:46; 15—Lenardo (K), 14:30; and 16—Davitt (K), 14:45.

AP Selector Picks Wisconsin Over Illini; USC Over Army and Cornell Against Navy

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Picking football winners while ducking World Series bunts and bats: (last week's average—37 correct, 11 incorrect for .771. Season's average: 63 correct, 18 incorrect for .778).

Michigan State over Oregon State: This was the Spartans hardest hassle last year and they squeaked through with a 6 to 0 verdict. It should be considerably easier this time.

Wisconsin over Illinois: It is as simple as this—Wisconsin wants to go to the Rose Bowl and Illinois knows it can't. The Illini won last year and since 1932 neither has been able to win twice in a row in this bitter struggle. Ameche to star.

Maryland over Clemson: Neither club is in the good graces of the suddenly, prim Southern Conference so this game has been dubbed the "Suspension Bowl." Jack Scarbath of Maryland to outshine Clemson's Buck George.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: Those wild Mustangs from Texas aren't so wild this year.

Southern California over Army: The Trojans scored 31 points over Northwestern last week and displeased Coach Jess Hill. So woe to the poor Cadets.

Duke over Tennessee: Jack Kistler of Duke, has gained 225 yards in 27 tries. That's the fourth best total in the entire nation.

Cornell over Navy: Coach Lefty James says he has discovered what caused the Big Red team's defeat by Colgate last Saturday. His team is the pick in the belief that he also found a remedy.

Texas over Notre Dame: Who can remember when a good Texas team ever was roped and tied in its own backyard? But the Longhorns had better keep John Lattner under close watch.

Michigan over Stanford: The Big Ten club seems the more solid but it will have to be solid if it expects to keep Bob Mathias in check. It is the day's TV offering.

Holy Cross over Fordham: Holy Cross gets the nod with Fordham's captain, John Hyatt, out with polio.

Ohio State over Purdue: Too close for comfort.

Pennsylvania over Dartmouth: The Penns outman their Ivy League brethren.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Friday night: Alabama over Miami, Syracuse over Temple.

Saturday

East: Albright over Lafayette, Wake Forest over Boston College, Brown over Yale, Columbia over Harvard, Colgate over Buffalo, Holy Cross over Fordham, New York University over Kings Point, Princeton over Rutgers, Williams over Rochester, West Virginia over Waynesburg, Penn State over William & Mary.

Tries to Better Mark

Avalon, Calif., Oct. 2 (AP)—Marathon swimmer Joe Furlo, 31-year-old Hollywood cafe man, headed for Santa Catalina Island today and an attempt to swim back to the mainland. Furlo, seeking to beat Florence Chadwick's recently made time of 13 hours, 47 minutes, 32 4/5 seconds, plans to take to the water early tonight from Emerald Cove, the same point where Miss Chadwick started her swim Sept. 20.

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)
(By The Associated Press)

Brooklyn—Dodgers won first game of World Series from New York Yankees, 4 to 2 as rookie Joe Black outpitched veteran Allie Reynolds.

New York—Bob Elliott, third baseman and outfielder for New York Giants, given outright release.

Pittsburgh — Johnny Lindell, former New York Yankee outfielder turned pitcher who had 24-9 record with Hollywood of Pacific Coast League this season, purchased by Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bucs Confirm Report Slugger Is on Block

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates confirmed today that their slugging outfielder, Ralph Kiner, is on the block.

"We are not soliciting any deals for Kiner," said John W. Galbreath, president of the Pirates. "But of course we will consider any worth while offers."

The Associated Press learned on Wednesday that Kiner, seven-time National League home run king, was for sale to the highest bidder.

Galbreath, here for the World Series, also said that a new manager for the last place Pirates will be named "within 60 days." Bill Meyer resigned as manager of the Bucs last week.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs are reportedly very much interested in the 29-year-old slugger, but are believed wary of the high price Branch Rickey, Pirate general manager, has placed on Kiner.

Kiner got off to a slow start this year, but finished fast to tie Hank Sauer of the Cubs for the National League home run leadership at 37. In seven years in the majors Kiner has belted 294 round-trippers.

Bowling Roundup

Davis' pace-setting mark topped the runnerup in the Rec Major loop by seven pins as Chris Robinson finished in the No. 2 position with a big 235 singleton and 602 series.

Bill Maisenhelder was well on his way for a 600 blast in the Booster League at the Bowlodrome but a final game count of 159 ruined his chances. He opened with straight games of 220 and 204 and finished with 583.

Throwing games of 174-153-157, Fritzi Davis sparked the Pioneer Women's wheel at the Bowlodrome with a 484 triple.

Sleight Crashes 598

Other scores of note in this loop included George Robinson with 204-212-592; Ken Williams 580; Elwood Robinson 203-578; Tommy Welch 212-573; Frank Leskie 213-572; Ed Murphy 204-569; Mike Provenzano 205-568; Dick Howard 235-568; George Shufeldt 225-567 and Cliff Quick 202-562.

Another near-miss in the CYO activity was John Sweeney who pounded 204-200 for 597 to place No. 2 behind Bob Henry's 600 blast. Joe Manello hit 224-590; Bob Dellay 235-574; Joe Maurer 206-575; Hank Yonnetti 202-567; Joe Mahar 202-556; H. Houska 203-549; Tony Guerrera 544; Vince Noble 219-533; Vince Burns 523; Ed Auclair 520.

D. Riehl toppled 235-572 for second best in the Booster circuit last night. R. Herrick hit 215-558; E. Williams 211-534; G. Williams 202-533; J. Howard 525; A. Sabatino 219-523; J. Weishaupt 201-519; Ed Auclair 516; T. Martino 217-516; W. Stenson 200-510; B. Harder 504; J. Conlin 501; Don Beany 500 and P. Kowalenko 207-500.

Other pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League following Fritzi Davis' 484, included Nellie Glennon with 463; Rita Amarello 450; Marge Burns 435; Shirley Buckman 428; Ethel Hornbeck 422; Marcia Olbert 421; Betty Macholdt 420; Shirley Myers 419; Elma MacElveen 414; Peggy Duffy 410; Phyllis Wolff 408; Mabel MacAvery 404; Lillian Cameron 403 and Mary Ryan 402.

Cerasaros, Port Ewen Score Cage Triumphs

Former Wins YMCA Game by 83-51

The high-powered Cerasaro Brothers Sport Center cagers continued in high gear Wednesday night in the YMCA Autumn Basketball League with an 83 to 51 triumph over the Schoonmaker Five.

In the second half of the doubleheader, the Port Ewen quintet, tied after the first half of play, pulled out a 45 to 37 decision over the Newkirk Aces.

The Sport Center cagers employed seven men in their lineup last night and a half dozen of them came through with scores in the double figure bracket.

John Godwin, guard, paced the scorers with 17 while Center Dick Bezzmer flipped in 16 markers. Jack Hickey found the range for 14 while Jim Colclough and Jack Schrader each hit for 12. Phil Mandel hit the strings for 11.

The winners broke through for a 34-20 lead at half time and added 49 more points in the final two quarters to win going away.

Joe Gardner was high man for the Schoonmakers with 18. Art Pinkham and Jack Letus registered 12 apiece.

Rally Decides Game

A last half rally netting 29 points to the Newkirk Aces' 22, was the difference of victory and defeat for the Port Ewen cagers. Both clubs were tied at 10-all in the first quarter and 16-16 at half time.

Bill Haber and Vince Van Bramer paced the winners with 16 and 11 respectively. High scorer of the game, however, was Bill DuBois, guard for the Aces, who dropped in 17 markers. Phil McClosky followed with 10.

The Associated Press learned on Wednesday that Kiner, seven-time National League home run king, was for sale to the highest bidder.

Galbreath, here for the World Series, also said that a new manager for the last place Pirates will be named "within 60 days." Bill Meyer resigned as manager of the Bucs last week.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs are reportedly very much interested in the 29-year-old slugger, but are believed wary of the high price Branch Rickey, Pirate general manager, has placed on Kiner.

Kiner got off to a slow start this year, but finished fast to tie Hank Sauer of the Cubs for the National League home run leadership at 37. In seven years in the majors Kiner has belted 294 round-trippers.

Tries to Better Mark

Avalon, Calif., Oct. 2 (AP)—Marathon swimmer Joe Furlo, 31-year-old Hollywood cafe man, headed for Santa Catalina Island today and an attempt to swim back to the mainland. Furlo, seeking to beat Florence Chadwick's recently made time of 13 hours, 47 minutes, 32 4/5 seconds, plans to take to the water early tonight from Emerald Cove, the same point where Miss Chadwick started her swim Sept. 20.

Bowling Roundup

Stacking games of 210-191-208, Cliff Davis, Sr., fired a hefty 609 triple to set the pace in the Central Rec Major wheel Wednesday night at the Railroad avenue drives.

Davis' pace-setting mark topped the runnerup in the Rec Major loop by seven pins as Chris Robinson finished in the No. 2 position with a big 235 singleton and 602 series.

The only other "600" reported in last night's tenpin activity was turned in by Bob Henry who fired 186-201-213 for a flat "600" threetimer in the CYO Holy Name League at the Bowlodrome.

Bill Maisenhelder was well on his way for a 600 blast in the Booster League at the Bowlodrome but a final game count of 159 ruined his chances. He opened with straight games of 220 and 204 and finished with 583.

Throwing games of 174-153-157, Fritzi Davis sparked the Pioneer Women's wheel at the Bowlodrome with a 484 triple.

Sleight Crashes 598

Herb Sleight missed the 600 bracket by just two pins as he toppled the maples for 232—598 in the Central Rec Major.

Other scores of note in this loop included George Robinson with 204-212-592; Ken Williams 580; Elwood Robinson 203-578; Tommy Welch 212-573; Frank Leskie 213-572; Ed Murphy 204-569; Mike Provenzano 205-568; Dick Howard 235-568; George Shufeldt 225-567 and Cliff Quick 202-562.

Another near-miss in the CYO activity was John Sweeney who pounded 204-200 for 597 to place No. 2 behind Bob Henry's 600 blast. Joe Manello hit 224-590; Bob Dellay 235-574; Joe Maurer 206-575; Hank Yonnetti 202-567; Joe Mahar 202-556; H. Houska 203-549; Tony Guerrera 544; Vince Noble 219-533; Vince Burns 523; Ed Auclair 520.

D. Riehl toppled 235-572 for second best in the Booster circuit last night. R. Herrick hit 215-558; E. Williams 211-534; G. Williams 202-533; J. Howard 525; A. Sabatino 219-523; J. Weishaupt 201-519; Ed Auclair 516; T. Martino 217-516; W. Stenson 200-510; B. Harder 504; J. Conlin 501; Don Beany 500 and P. Kowalenko 207-500.

Other pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League following Fritzi Davis' 484, included Nellie Glennon with 463; Rita Amarello 450; Marge Burns 435; Shirley Buckman 428; Ethel Hornbeck 422; Marcia Olbert 421; Betty Macholdt 420; Shirley Myers 419; Elma MacElveen 414; Peggy Duffy 410; Phyllis Wolff 408; Mabel MacAvery 404; Lillian Cameron 403 and Mary Ryan 402.

Japanese TVA Planned

Tokyo (AP) — Japan is going to undertake a sort of Tennessee Valley project and will spend about 748 million dollars in harnessing hydroelectric power. There will be 11 power units, each with its series of dams. They will stretch from Hokkaido, the northernmost home island, to Kyushu Island in the south. The Electric Power Resources Development Corp. says a big corporation will be capitalized with the government controlling 99.5 per cent of the stock. The project will take about 10 years to complete.

The United States uses about three tons of coal per person per year.

Jurors Will Meet Monday to Plan Dinner for Bruhn

Among business matters on the agenda for Monday night's meeting of the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County is the completing of plans for a testimonial dinner in honor of District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn to be held Wednesday, Oct. 15, at 7 p. m. in The Barn.

President Thomas J. Murphy of the association urges all members to attend Monday's session in the Ulster county courthouse, scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Reservations for the dinner may be made with Mrs. Anna M. Ashdown, secretary of the association, at 154 Foxhall avenue, not later than Saturday, Oct. 11.

President Murphy anticipates a large turnout at the Bruhn testimonial, main speaker for which will be County Judge John M. Cashin. Other members of the bar are also scheduled to address the gathering.

The Weather

THURSDAY, OCT. 2, 1952

Sun rises at 5:42 a. m.; sun sets at 5:25 p. m., EST.
Weather, cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 59 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 65 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Scattered showers followed by partly cloudy and windy this afternoon, highest temperature in the 70's. Fair, windy and cooler tonight, lowest temperature 50 to 55 except 45 to 50 in the northern interior sections. Friday fair and quite cool, highest temperature 65 to 70.

Eastern New York — Rather cloudy, windy and cooler tonight and Friday with occasional scattered showers in west and north portion. Lowest 35 to 40 in north, 45 to 50 in south portion tonight.

The city engineer's weather records today showed a temperature of 63 degrees, a barometric pressure of 29.48 inches, a humidity of 99 per cent and a northwest wind with a velocity of five miles an hour. There was a "trace" of rain. The high temperature yesterday was 73 and the low 45. The mean temperature was 59 and the normal is 57. The humidity was 99 at 6 a. m., and 75 at 2 p. m. The barometric pressure was 29.62 at 9 a. m., and 29.55 at 10 p. m. The top velocity of a southerly wind was 10 miles an hour.

Because the drivers of early-day Conestoga wagons smoked long, thin cigars, it is believed the abbreviated name of the wagons, "stogie," became the name of the cigars.

13 Soldiers Escape Fort Dix Stockade

Fort Dix, N. J., Oct. 2 (AP)—Thirteen soldiers escaped from the prison stockade at Fort Dix early today by tunneling 25 feet from their barracks to an outside fence.

The men were awaiting trial or serving sentences of from two months to two years, on such charges as being absent without leave, larceny and desertion.

Civilian and military law enforcement agencies in three states—Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York—began a widespread search.

Army authorities said footprints from where the tunnel emerged beyond the fence were traced across a field to a highway, where they said tire tracks indicated an outside accomplice was waiting for the escapees.

Nine From New York

Nine of the men are from the metropolitan New York area, and the rest from throughout the First Army area.

Post Information Officer Capt. Harry H. Lapham said there was a number of other men in the stockade at the time but they did not attempt to escape.

Escapees included:

Vito A. Parente, 23, of 1452 31st Drive, Astoria, N. Y.

Frank Pascale, 19, of 1148 Fetley Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

Robert J. Miller, 22, of 1800 Anthony Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

Edward T. Drissel, 25, of 637 Sixth Ave., New Hyde Park, N. Y.

Sudden Strike Occurs

Kansas City, Oct. 2 (AP)—Operations at the Kansas City railroad terminal, vital midwest junction were crippled today by a sudden switchmen's strike. Freight trains were halted on 12 trunk lines. Supervisory personnel of the Kansas City terminal railway company were attempting to move passenger and mail trains. Terminal employes operate all trains while they are on terminal property.

Address Is Changed

The State Department of Social Welfare today announced that after Oct. 3 all mail should be addressed to R. B. Guild, Area Director, State Department of Social Welfare, Area 5, 270 Broadway, New York, 7, N. Y. The new telephone number is Barclay 7-1616. The former address was 205 East 42nd street.

Wicks to Address Republican Club

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, representing the 32nd Congressional District, will address the Third District Shawangunk Republican Club October 8 at the Walker Valley Firehouse, Route 52, the senator's office in Kingston has announced.

Invitations to attend the regular monthly meeting have been extended to the public.

Schaefer rings the bell—
that's light and dry, too!

Anybody who is drinking today's Schaefer knows how good it is without our trying to tell him. But if you aren't familiar with Schaefer beer, here are a few facts you ought to know:

Today's Schaefer beer isn't just another beer—it's something very special. You see, the Schaefer brewers have combined everything you ever wanted in a beer into one magnificent brew. This beer is light, but full-flavored. It is dry, but not at the expense of character. It has satisfying body, yet is not heavy. And in your glass it builds the kind of head that only a truly great beer can boast.

We believe it's the finest beer America has yet produced . . . and we certainly hope you'll try it. It's really worth trying!
